The award granted full payment for all services performed, either in miles or in hours, but denied in almost every instance requests for extra payments for service incidental to regular duties. No reductions in pay were made.

Minimum Wage Established. A minimum wage per month was established for the first time for passenger trainmen and is as follows: Conductors, $134.2*; baggagemen, $80.85; brakemen and flagmen, $74.80. The minimum pay for Chicago suburban trainmen was increased to the following: Conductors, $112.90; collectors, $85; brakemen, $72.

**S55; brakemen, $72.

The board granted 12 important demands of the men for changes in rules governing both the freight and passenger service. With few exceptions, the award placed the compensation of way freight trainmen on the mileage basis, conductors to receive 4.75 cents and brakeman 3.25 cents a mile, 100 miles or less, 10 hours or less to constitute a day. The grant preserved for the employes all existing rates which may be higher.

crease in wages.

The award is the result of 14 months of effort on the part of trainmen to obtain a revision of working rules and an increase of wages. In December, 1912, they presented a proposition to the railroads involving more than 150 rules. It was found impossible to agree on 39 rules and in accordance with the Newlands act the United States Commissioner of Mediation was invited to attempt to adjust the differences. He was unsuccessful and an invited to attempt to adjust the dif-ferences. He was unsuccessful and an arbitration board was agreed on.
