"Why Oregon People Should Do All Their Buying From Oregon Manufacturers, Everything Else Being Equal"

WINNER OF FIRST PRIZE—$5.00. Buy At Home.

One morning Mrs. Smith found her neighbor, Mrs. Preston (a little bride from the East) much discouraged over the high cost of living.

"Why," said the younger woman, "the very things I used to get at home are so much more expensive here than our grocery bill has nearly doubled."

"Why don't you use Oregon products?" asked Mrs. Smith. "I never think of using anything else."

"Well," replied Mrs. Preston, "I really never tried them. Having always lived in the East, I naturally used Eastern foods, but as they are so expensive, I think I will have to patronize Oregon."

"Of course, they are expensive," retorted Mrs. Smith, "for there are the additional expenses of freight, handling and storage and, as for the Oregon products, you need have no doubts as to their excellence."

"Well, I will try them for a week," decided Mrs. Preston, "and if at the end of that time they prove satisfactory, I shall adopt your plan."

A week later Mrs. Preston called cheerily over the back fence, "the plan worked beautifully. I have tried several things already and as fast as the supplies in my pantry give out, I will replenish them with Oregon products."

"Among other things I have tried Haradon's biscuit, Olympic flour (which I found excellent for cake as well as bread), delicious sea Otter clams and several of the 'Golden West' products."

"My husband also says that it is only fair that we should patronize those who patronize us, and, best of all, my bills have so reduced that I am ready, to my good-by to the high cost of living, to Susan E. Erwin, 592 Franklin ave., Astoria Oregon."

WINNER OF THIRD PRIZE—$1.00. Oregon Products.

I think Oregon people should use Oregon products because the capital would remain within its bounds. If every one used home-made articles the demand would grow larger and a larger supply would have to be made. The number of canneries and factories would increase and therefore employ more unemployed men and women. The high freight rate on Eastern goods could be avoided and thus cut down the high cost of living. The population would increase and as the population increases, the wealth does also. Some of the money sent East for Eastern goods could be saved and used for such things as Rose Carnival and festivals which are so popular here. If every one would use Oregon-made goods, I am sure all would be satisfied. Among some of the things used in my home are Haradon's biscuits, Columbia ham and bacon, Zan broom, Holly milk, Royal bread, Albers' buckwheat flour and Diamond "W" baking powder and Golden West coffee.—Louis Dama, 359 Jefferson street, city.

As an essay on "Why Oregon People Should Do All Their Buying From Oregon Manufacturers, Everything Else Being Equal," the people of the State of Oregon should do as much buying of goods as possible from Oregon.

WINNER OF THIRD PRIZE—$1.00. Every one ought to buy home products.

more men the manufacturer will have to employ. This will furnish employment for many men and women.

Why shouldn't we buy things that are made in our own state? They are just as good as any other.

In my home we use many things that are made in Oregon. Among them are Olympic flour and Haradon's Supreme biscuit. We also use Golden West tea, coffee and spices. We use Haradon's butter, too, and find it pure and wholesome.

Oregon puts out many things in canned goods; there are all kinds of fruit, vegetables and canned fish.

I am sure we all want to see Oregon become an even greater state than it is and we can help it to become so by patronizing home industry.—Grace Mathews, 6107 62d ave. S. E.

Be an Oregon booster. We think Oregon is as good as any state in the Nation and we should work to make it just a little better and we can do this by patronizing home industry. By using the things which we manufacture in Oregon, we can make the mills and factories that much busier and soon the owners would have to employ more help and that would be one way of giving so many of these idle men work.

We manufacture a great many things in our state which are just as good as you can get anywhere.

In our own home we use Columbia hams and lard and Columbia pure pork sausage, all put up by the Union Meat Company. Then what is better after school than the Pacific Coast Biscuit Company's crackers and cookies? For breakfast we love cakes made from Albers' Peacock buckwheat flour. Then we use Otter clams, Blahop's extract, Columbia salmon and Tillamook cheese. We also use Holly milk, which whips so quickly. Olympic flour and Zan brooms. These are only a few of the many things made in Oregon and which we should all use, and so become real Oregon boosters.—Helen Catron, 324 Broadway West, Portland, Or.

BRIDAL CHORUS FROM OPERA RECALLS JOYOUS DAY.

Translation Published in "Heart Songs" Is Very Beautiful and Words Conform to Music.

The "Heart Songs" illustrated in today's issue of The Oregonian is the famous "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin." To untold thousands of people this wedding march recalls the most joyous moment of their lives.

In sequence of writing this great opera is the seventh of Wagner's productions for the stage. The poem was written at Dresden in 1845; the music begun in September, 1846; the instrumentation of the entire work was completed during the ensuing Winter and Spring; and the first performance took place August 28, 1846, at Weimar.

The opera has always been especially popular in the United States and England, not only on account of the wondrous beauty of the music—but because the legend itself has been embodied in English literature from early times.

The translation of the words used in "Heart Songs" is very beautiful, and match the music almost as well as if they had been written for it originally.

The "Lohengrin" "Bridal Chorus" or wedding march, is only one of several celebrated compositions of this kind that appear in the book—and it is this completeness and accuracy that make it universally interesting and absolutely a work that no home should do without.

"Heart Songs" is one of the great books of the century. It will charm, entertain and instruct every member of the family. It has 600 large pages, including over 400 selections, words and music, and is now being distributed by The Oregonian to its friends and readers on presentation of six consecutively dated coupons clipped from the paper, and the bare cost of distribution. Books are on display at The Oregonian office.
