PARK WILL BE MADE READY.—J. H. Nolte, who was appointed chairman of the committee on lights and decorations for the Peninsula Rose show, by the North Portland Commercial Club and Women's Auxiliary, said yesterday that the city will provide canvas and tables for the rose exhibits and complete the park in time for the show. It is planned to place the rose exhibits along the walks in the park around the sunken gardens, and canvas will be stretched over the walks as a shelter. Mr. Nolte is looking after the illumination of the park, which will be made elaborate. The city will furnish a band. Mr. Nolte expects to appoint a general park committee of 12. All the committees are actively at work with their parts of arrangements.

CRESTON HIGH SCHOOL GROWS.—The new high school started in the Creston schoolhouse, Powell Valley road and East Forty-fifth streets, has continued to grow from the start. With S. F. Ball, the principal, it now has nine teachers. Mr. Ball says that the two schools, the Creston grammar and the new high school, in the same building, are working together, without friction. In the course of a few weeks a cooking department in the Creston High School will be established. Mr. Ball is confident that this one of the largest and most important high schools in the city will be developed. A new building soon will be needed to take care of the new high school. At least 12 grammar schools in the Southeast side will be tributary to it.

BISHOP FAILS TO ARRIVE.—Bishop R. G. Waterhouse, D. D., of Los Angeles, Cal., who was expected to occupy the pulpit of the Union Avenue Methodist Church yesterday morning and night, did not arrive. Rev. J. H. Bennett, the pastor, read to the congregations a message from the bishop stating he will arrive in Portland next Wednesday. Rev. Mr. Bennett said he did not know how long Bishop Waterhouse would remain, but certainly not long as he was on his way to Montana, where he will conduct the annual conference. Bishop Waterhouse, however, will be back in Portland in about three weeks' time, when it is expected he will occupy the pulpit of the Union Avenue Methodist Church.

MRS. HANNAH R. DRYDEN BURIED.—The funeral of Mrs. Hannah R. Dryden, who died at Vancouver, Wash., Friday, was held yesterday morning at the Chapel, 114 East Alder street, and the interment was made in Rose City Park cemetery. Mrs. Dryden was a resident of Portland for 12 years, and moved to Clark County, Wash., in 1912. She and her husband came to Portland in 1871. THEIR PLAYING DAY MARCH 7.—Tree planting which has been in progress in Gresham Saturday, was postponed until next Saturday to give the Council time to provide parking on the streets. It was the sense of the Women's Council that the present street parking is too narrow to admit of successful tree planting and the women asked the City Council to widen the parking. Some citizens, however, have set out trees. One, J. N. Clannahan, set out 40 trees in front of his property. Farmers outside the city limits have agreed to continue the same work and plant trees along the county roads.

EXPERIMENTAL LIBRARY OPENED.—An experimental library, of book deposits, has been established at the drug store at Division and East Thirty-seventh streets. About 50 books are kept in stock, which are changed as often as seems necessary. Books may be procured also by special order. If the experiment shows the need of a permanent library in the neighborhood it will be established. It is considered almost certain that the need of a permanent branch will be demonstrated. This library is one result of the work of the Richmond Parent-Teacher Association.

ROBARIANS IN NEW HOME.—The first meeting of the Robarians in their new home, the room on the seventh floor of the Commercial Club will be held at noon today. The new constitution and by-laws of the organization will be submitted for ratification and discussion of the work of the Robarians in the coming Rose Festival will be made.

He will have his office with McGill & McKinney, George W. Caldwell and W. N. Powell, in the Morgan building. ALL MUST TELL AGES

LAW IMPERATIVE AS TO WOMEN AS WELL AS MEN. "Anxious Citizen" Says Business Reasons Will Prevent Her From Voting If Requirement Stands.

"The law makes it absolutely imperative that women as well as men shall tell their age when they register for voting," declared John B. Coffey, County Clerk, yesterday, in answer to the following inquiry, signed "Anxious Citizen," and addressed to the editor of The Oregonian: "Have the registration clerks the right to demand the exact age of those registering? If legal or 'over 21' will not be allowed, but will register, in spite of the fact that I want to attend to my duties as a citizen. "Business reasons compel me to refuse to register if such requirement is enforced and I know several other women who are refusing to register for just the same reasons." "To me it seems unjust," continued County Clerk Coffey, "that women will be compelled against their will to put their ages on public record. I endeavored to amend the law in this regard at the last session of the Legislature, but the legislators who promised me they would introduce the measure went back on their promises. "As the law now reads everyone registering must record his or her age and sign an oath swearing to it as correct."

THE body of Thomas Noonan, lessee of the new theater under construction at B. o. & W. y. and Stark street, who died at St. Vincent's Hospital Saturday night, was sent to Chicago last night. Mr. Noonan had been suffering from a nervous collapse during the last four months, since he leased the theater site. He was 36 years old and unmarried. He is survived by a brother, Robert E. Noonan, of Condon & Noonan. He was a member of the Catholic Church and a prominent club man in Chicago.
