FINAL 'GLEANUP' AIM

Next Monday will be the city-wide "clean-up day" for the balance of the fund needed to stage the coming Rose fund needed to stage the coming Rose Festival on the magnificent scale outlined by the board of governors.

This move was decided yesterday at a meeting at the Commercial Club of nearly 60 representatives of nine of the most vigorous business clubs of the city, each of which is pledged to put as many men into the field on the day set as may be required to go over the entire territory that has not yet been reached.

This will be the first time in the history of the Oregon State Grange that the representatives will be elected direct from the subordinate granges. Several important questions will be considered at this session, including the abolishment of the state senate.

This is the first occasion in the history of Portland that such a compre-hensive group of associations repre-senting every line of business activity in the city has enlisted in a cause like

These delinquent contributors repre sent contributions aggregating about $29,000, and if only the same amount is secured in renewals as was donated by these supporters in former years, grand total for the next June cele bration will reach approximately $55,-

At the present time the Festival ras received a trifle over $30,000 and about $5000 more has been pledged. The budget as made out to cover the detailed programme of the Festival calls for an expenditure of $54,000 and this allows only a comparatively small sum for street decorations.

It is strongly urged by President Colt that every dollar possible be rounded up so that Portland may make the finest showing in a decorative way in the en-tire history of the Festival movement. Special Committees Aid.

nine organizations which will conduct the financial campaign Monday are as follows: Ad Club, Rotary Club, Royal Rosarians, Progressive Business Men's Club, Employers' Association, East Side Business Men's Club, Realty Board, Electrical Association and the Transportation Club.

Each one has a special Rose Festival committee of five members appointed, which are subject to the call of the board of governors for any purpose needed, but this number will be increased for the present emergency.

The meeting yesterday was one of the most enthusiastic gatherings that has been held under the auspices of the reorganized Festival backers

INSKEEP PLACED SECOND

Mayor Albee Announces He Will Appoint Leaders on List.

Although the Municipal Civil Service Board has rated policemen who took the recent examination for captains of police, Chief of Police Clark will be given an opportunity to change the ratings if he desires. George Caldwell, chairman of the Civil Service Board, said yesterday that if Chief Clark is on recommendation, the board will al low the rating. It will not, however, allow the Chief to recommend only two applicants and ignore the others, as was done by the Chief originally. The Chief gave Leon V. Jenkins and C. A. Inskeep each a rating of 10 points on recommendation and ignored the others. If this rating had been al-lowed these two men would have headed the list in the examination, but the Civil Service Board overruled the rec-ommendation and Harry Circle was at the head of the list and Mr. Inskeep second. It is said Chief Clark can place Inskeep and Jenkins at the top of the list by giving them a recommendation of 10 points and the others two or three points each. Mayor Albee has an-nounced he will appoint the two men at the top of the list, whoever they

By routing the Russell-Shaver cars on Union avenue, from Holladay avenue to East Burnside street, and thence south on Grand avenue, and by routing the Montavilla cars over the Burnside bridge, the East Burnside District Improvement Association suggests that conditions can be improved. It is urged that by routing the Russell-Shaver cars on Union avenue to East Burnside, go-ing north and south, it will re-estab-lish a transfer point at Union avenue and East Burnside street, which was eliminated when the Alberta and Wood-lawn cars were removed from Burnside bridge. It is also suggested that the Montavilla cars be routed over the Burnside bridge, going west, and return by way of Morrison bridge, forming a Temporary Drive From North Side of loop by way of Fifth and Morrison streets. A committee from the club will submit these changes to the street railway company.

There is no hope of getting either the Woodlawn or Alberta cars back on the Burnside bridge, as the patrons of those lines oppose any further change.

The society officials want to try to find a home for Pat where he will be well treated. They say if he is sold at auction someone will get him and beat him to death.

The Humane Society also wants to use Pat at an exhibition to be held soon to show the good the society is doing for dumb animals. Pat's part in the affair will be to perform some tricks taught him by Dr. D. B. Boyd, who had him for three weeks trying to break him of his biting habit.

"The Last Rose of Summer" Ballad That Always Will Be Identified With Divine Vocalist.

There was a time, and it is not entirely passed, when to mention prima donnas you would instantly think of Adelina Patti. She was born in Madrid. Spain, and her parents were operatic singers of Italian ancestry. She first sang at an early age in New York, but her fame was secure after her first appearance in London, and from that time she held high rank as one of the first singers of the day. The rich bell-like quality of her voice and remarkable evenness of tone had a range as able evenness of tone had a range as a high soprano never surpassed, and her cadenzas and trills were the delight of her admirers. Equally at home in tragic tenderness of grand opera or vivacity of comedy, or stateliness of oratorio, Adelina Patti will owe much of her fame to the way and manner in which she sang "Comin' Through the Rye," although her greatest success was "Marguerite," in Gounod's "Faust." Year after year she continued to make farewell tours in America, and year after year she sang the sweet Scotch ballads with all the fervor of Latin blood. She lived in a castle in Wales in the mature years, where she de-lighted to sing for friends, and on special occasions for charity. The divine Patti never underestimated the value will always be identified with Pattl. "Comin' Thro' the Rye" and "When to Thy Vision," from Gounod's "Faust," both are to be found in "Heart Songs," the book now being offered to the readers of this paper at cost of distribution and six coupons. "The Last Rose of Summer" is to be found on page 146 of the volume, and is only one of the many favorites of Patti that render the book a possession that should be one of the treasures to be found in every home.—Adv.

MANY BARNS INSANITARY

REPORTS MR. DAVIS.

Men of District That Sends Much Milk to Portland Oppose Inspection, Says Expert After Tour.

Insanitary conditions in dairy barns throughout Southwestern Washington were found by C. R. Davis, a dairy in-spetcor of Portland, and W. T. Bowman, an inspetcor of Washington, who re turned to the city yesterday from a two months' trip through the dairy district from which a large part of the Port-land supply comes. Mr. Davis said he found stables dirty and the dairymen extremely hostile to the inspection changing Routes urgen extremely hostile to the inspection of washington.

"We visited 183 places," said Mr. Davis. "Out of this number 111 ship milk to Portland. Many were in extremely poor condition while others were moderately good. We found the dairymen unwilling to be friendly to inspectors, that fact being so emphatic that upon many occasions we were unable to find a place to eat or to put our horses over night. They didn't want horses over night. They didn't want inspectors about their places." Mr. Davis will prepare an extensive report which will be submitted to City

Health Officer Marcellus, who will take steps necessary to better conditions. While Portland has no power to require the dairymen of Washington to clean up their places, it is said the problem can be solved by the city prohibiting the importation of any milk from that district unless the conditions are reme-died in accordance with the ideas of the milk inspection forces here.

Mount Tabor Park Planned.

A temporary entrance to the north side of Mount Tabor for automobiles and vehicles will be provided this Spring for the general use of the park, Spring for the general use of the park, according to a statement made by Superintendent Mische in his address before the Mount Tabor Improvement Club at its last meeting. This will be by way of East Taylor, East Sixtyninth and East Sixty-seventh streets, which will be graded and oiled up to the entrance, and which will permit all vehicles to reach the park boulevards from the north side. Later a permanent entrance will be built from the north side.

Mr. Mische also announced that playgrounds would be installed on the north grounds would be installed on the north side of the park this year as was done last year. The driveways through the park are to be made smooth, but not macadamized this year. There are sev-eral miles of driveways in the park winding around from the entrances, which will eventually be macadamized.

City Commissioner Dieck put a force of men to work yesterday scraping the tar off Fourth street and sprinkling the wood blocks with sand.
