

The Oregonian

Entered at Portland, Oregon, Postoffice as second-class matter, March 10, 1885. Postmaster: J. W. ...

Portland, Tuesday, March 10, 1914.

THE WEST SHOULD NOT WAIT.

That President Wilson may have freedom to become more deeply involved in Mexico, the interest of the West...

The West is content to await the passage of anti-trust laws and a rural credit law, for it will share the benefits of these laws with the rest of the country...

The Administration is committed to the measures enumerated, which would advance the prosperity of the West, but it desires to push them aside...

Another plank repudiated. Representative Cullop, of Indiana, in a fair way to get himself discredited by the Administration...

Remembering that plank and the ardor with which Secretary Bryan had advocated its principle, the House adopted the proviso...

But the Senate balked. It struck out the proviso and its concurred stood pat. Senator Norris took up Mr. Cullop's fight...

Then came Mr. Bryan, of Washington, to support the policy which the other Mr. Bryan had made his own before becoming Secretary of State...

The Cullop amendment is democratic in spirit, but it is not democratic in its results. It is good enough for the Democratic party...

The President to strict adherence to his platform. It can be inferred from the personality of the man who opposed the proviso...

DON'T ABOLISH IT—NOT QUITE.

The Oregonian will not be so ungracious as to insist that Dr. C. J. Smith ought not to complain when the public and the newspapers take his remarks on the political forum to be an authoritative exposition of his position on public questions...

Nevertheless, Dr. Smith thinks he has discovered that the easiest path to popular favor is to slang-whang the Legislature and to intimate that it deserves to be abolished...

If legislatures are unfit it is because legislators are unfit. That is the whole story. Why are unfit men preferred to fit men in the popular selection of candidates...

IMPUGNING THE COURTS.

An advocate of promiscuous martial law asserts that the wicked Legislature pushed the new bill of the Governor giving the Governor power to suspend unfaithful District Attorneys and Sheriffs...

The objection to the existing act is purely theoretical. In practice it did not hold good in Baker County, where the Governor's apologist cites it as an excuse for the Copperfield incident...

THOMAS STARR KING'S WORK.

The fiftieth anniversary of Thomas Starr King's death deserves more than passing attention. This remarkable Unitarian minister, who did more than any other person to preserve California to the Union cause...

He gave us the same sort of material that Upton Sinclair afterward furnished forth in his "Metropolis." But it must be said for Martin that his account of sybaritic sins was the more convincing of the two...

BUSINESS METHODS TO CHANGE.

Operation of the Federal reserve system of banks is likely to bring about an important change in the business methods of this country. The organization committee asked the clearing-houses to suggest definitions of "commercial paper"...

goods, another is a note given directly to the seller and a third is a draft made by the seller to be accepted by the buyer, each specifying its purpose...

The effect of this plan would be to induce merchants to abandon the present practice of borrowing from banks in order to pay cash for goods. Instead, they would give notes, which the seller would discount at the bank...

PROFESSOR O'GARA.

About six years ago a number of horticulturists of Jackson County persuaded Professor P. J. O'Gara to leave Government employ to become pathologist of that county. He put his mark on the fruit industry at once...

When the blizzard struck New York the Commercial referred to its file of 1888 and brought to light this gem: This blizzard knocks us. That is the closest approach a man can make to poetry under such circumstances...

TOY BATTLESHIPS FOR PANAMA.

While those whom he had invited to be present looked on in amazement, Samuel Orkin, a young Boston inventor, began the first demonstration in New York of his miniature battleship at the Market, Hill, Broadway and Park streets...

Registering by Naturalized Citizen.

PORTLAND, March 9.—(To the Editor.)—Kindly advise whether it is necessary for me to present, as naturalized citizens, to the County Clerk my naturalization papers each time I register...

Married Women and Suffrage.

PORTLAND, March 9.—(To the Editor.)—Has the wife of a foreign subject the right to vote in the American-born and bred? I always thought "no," but a recent article in the Oregonian led me to hope otherwise...

As Socialist See It.

PORTLAND, March 9.—(To the Editor.)—We do not state to differ from both the editorial and the letter from Mr. Rus in the Oregonian Saturday. There is a "single remedy," and that remedy is stated by Mr. U'Ren, viz., to furnish employment, and compel those who will not work—if such there be—to live on the product of their labor...

When Initiated Laws Go Into Effect.

RAINIER, Or., March 9.—(To the Editor.)—It is our recollection that there was a decision of the Attorney-General printed in the Oregonian in November, 1912, to the effect that an initiative measure took effect immediately after the election, before the Governor's proclamation. The woman suffrage measure had passed, and the decision of the Attorney-General already had been made before the Governor's proclamation. If there was such a decision you kindly print it again and greatly oblige.

Location Selected for Shattuck Building Defended by Writer. PORTLAND, March 9.—(To the Editor.)—Remonstrances are being circulated against the proposed site of the new Shattuck School on the block bounded by Hall, College, Broadway and Park streets...

The present site of the Shattuck School on the block bounded by Harrison, Hall, Fifth and Sixth streets, Car tracks menace the children in play periods on the east and west sides of the school, and the pupils have no place to romp except in the basement...

Ready, but Not Expectant.

UNIVERSITY PARK, Or., March 9.—(To the Editor.)—The writer has been attracted to the recent expression of views respecting the end of the world. To think we are near the end of the world is no new thing, as the New Testament has predicted it for centuries...

Copyright Regulations.

PORTLAND, March 9.—(To the Editor.)—In writing a play what is the advantage of having same copyrighted? What are the rules, if any, to be followed in writing a play to enable one to have it copyrighted?

Truth and Fairness.

PORTLAND, March 9.—(To the Editor.)—Wish to congratulate you on your portrait of President Wilson which was published this week in one of your editorials. You have given credit for what was to be praised in his deeds and character, and you have criticized what was deserving criticism...

Moon and Crops.

OAKLAND, Or., March 9.—(To the Editor.)—The influence of the moon's position is supposed to have an effect on the growth of vegetables and many other things. How can anyone tell when to plant if they have no idea of the moon's position?

Statistics on Teaching.

PORTLAND, March 9.—(To the Editor.)—Kindly inform me where a person could get a report regarding such matters as number of teachers, salaries, etc., of different states.

Another big cargo of Chinese eggs is coming.

Real Eastern eggs for Easter. Fall has taken a hard fall out of the Administration's Mexican policy. West called on Chamberlain yesterday, but was it fixed?

The idle army is being kept busy in California.

Again—Sunny Oregon. Sprig's sure cub.

FACTS AND FIGURES ARE DESIRED.

Commissioner Should Issue Clear Statement on Water Meter Issue. PORTLAND, March 9.—(To the Editor.)—I rise for information. Our practical, critical, theoretical and literary gents have written columns about the water meter matter...

What do the meters really cost in wholesale lots of 5000 or 10,000? How long do they last? How long do they last?

Ready, but Not Expectant.

UNIVERSITY PARK, Or., March 9.—(To the Editor.)—The writer has been attracted to the recent expression of views respecting the end of the world. To think we are near the end of the world is no new thing...

Copyright Regulations.

PORTLAND, March 9.—(To the Editor.)—In writing a play what is the advantage of having same copyrighted? What are the rules, if any, to be followed in writing a play to enable one to have it copyrighted?

Truth and Fairness.

PORTLAND, March 9.—(To the Editor.)—Wish to congratulate you on your portrait of President Wilson which was published this week in one of your editorials. You have given credit for what was to be praised in his deeds and character...

Moon and Crops.

OAKLAND, Or., March 9.—(To the Editor.)—The influence of the moon's position is supposed to have an effect on the growth of vegetables and many other things. How can anyone tell when to plant if they have no idea of the moon's position?

Statistics on Teaching.

PORTLAND, March 9.—(To the Editor.)—Kindly inform me where a person could get a report regarding such matters as number of teachers, salaries, etc., of different states.

Another big cargo of Chinese eggs is coming.

Real Eastern eggs for Easter. Fall has taken a hard fall out of the Administration's Mexican policy. West called on Chamberlain yesterday, but was it fixed?

The idle army is being kept busy in California.

Again—Sunny Oregon. Sprig's sure cub.

Twenty-five Years Ago

From The Oregonian of March 10, 1889. Walls, Walls, March 9.—This afternoon a fire broke out in the store of Captain S. W. Swiger, left with 10 days' rations to report at Umatilla...

Tacoma, March 9.—The individual military rifle championship of the Northwest was won by R. B. Millen, the present champion, in a match with W. E. Box today.

Seattle, March 9.—Judge Burks leaves tomorrow for Whittier to convene District Court. His resignation was handed to President Harrison on Tuesday and today he sent a dispatch urging immediate action.

Walla Walla, March 9.—Ex-Governor Chadwick, of Oregon, is here en route to Colfax to visit relatives.

The plat of Sunnyside addition to East Portland was filed by Benjamin H. Bowman and wife yesterday.

W. M. Tovey, a waiter, fell overboard from the steamer Lurline near Kalamas Thursday night and was drowned.

Secretary W. G. Steel, of the City Board of Charities, has the application of a boy 12 years of age for work with a family for his keep.

The half lot on the southeast corner of First and Stark streets, belonging to John S. and A. E. Raleigh, was purchased by Mayor De Lashmuth and George B. Markie for the Northwest Land reclamation fund. The price was $50,000, or $2000 per front foot, which is the highest price ever paid in Portland. There is a three-story brick building on the property.

The Chicago Company have located their smelting and reduction works adding the Peninsula addition to East Portland.

Leon Hirsch, for many years in the employ of Miller & Frank, leaves today for Europe.

Half a Century Ago

From The Oregonian of March 10, 1869. Howard, Rogman and Lower were legally hanged at Lewiston for the murder of Magruder and his party.

Washington, March 6.—General Meade appeared before the committee yesterday and denied emphatically that any orders were made to deliver to Sickles or Doubleday regarding the recall of the Army at Gettysburg.

Washington, March 5.—The result of Kilpatrick's cavalry expedition is: The main track over the principal railroads by which Lee's army gets supplies is destroyed and military supplies, ordnance and ordnance stores. Six canal-boats were burned and several locks on the James River canal destroyed. Large numbers of cattle, horses, mules, captured, several hundred horses pressed into service and hundreds of negroes escaped.

Washington, March 7.—It is rumored that Grant, who is on his way to Washington, is to succeed Hallock.

New Orleans, Feb. 29.—Farragut continues his attacks on Fort Morgan.

The amount of assays made in the city of Portland during the year 1863 was $4,502,721, as follows: By Wells-Fargo & Co., $1,800,000; by Tracy & King, $1,642,000; by Goldsmith Bros., $1,183,721.

We were shown through the various departments of the city penitentiary yesterday by Mr. Gardner, keeper. The establishment is in most excellent condition, clean and healthy. At present there are 22 convicts in the penitentiary in fair weather labor on the outside. Eight are engaged in the prison shops in the manufacture of saddles, aprons, etc., and two in the culinary department.

A telegram of greeting was received yesterday at 10 o'clock from the Mayor Jacob McMillan, of Portland, Me., in response to one sent on the completion of the telegraph line.

The celebration of the completion of the telegraph came off Tuesday evening, March 8. The military and fire departments were out in bright uniforms, and a procession, including the Stars and Stripes, decorated with the Stars and Stripes, etc., proceeded in front of the telegraph office (the Pioneer Hotel) where a speakers' stand had been erected and arranged, decorated with the Stars and Stripes, etc. Here Rev. T. H. Pearne addressed the crowd in his happy manner. The band played "The United States" and a voter, of custom of approving or blaming blindly a public man, according to "The Ticket."

Provision to truth, irrespectively of opinion or party preferences, in all issues, is what makes an editor a man of name, and a publication a high standard organ in public opinion in the long run.

ALGERNON ASHTON.

Married Women and Suffrage.

PORTLAND, March 9.—(To the Editor.)—Has the wife of a foreign subject the right to vote in the American-born and bred? I always thought "no," but a recent article in the Oregonian led me to hope otherwise. As a foreigner, I have given credit for what was to be praised in his deeds and character, and you have criticized what was deserving criticism. As a foreigner, I have given credit for what was to be praised in his deeds and character, and you have criticized what was deserving criticism.

As Socialist See It.

PORTLAND, March 9.—(To the Editor.)—We do not state to differ from both the editorial and the letter from Mr. Rus in the Oregonian Saturday. There is a "single remedy," and that remedy is stated by Mr. U'Ren, viz., to furnish employment, and compel those who will not work—if such there be—to live on the product of their labor...

Moon and Crops.

OAKLAND, Or., March 9.—(To the Editor.)—The influence of the moon's position is supposed to have an effect on the growth of vegetables and many other things. How can anyone tell when to plant if they have no idea of the moon's position?

Statistics on Teaching.

PORTLAND, March 9.—(To the Editor.)—Kindly inform me where a person could get a report regarding such matters as number of teachers, salaries, etc., of different states.

Another big cargo of Chinese eggs is coming.

Real Eastern eggs for Easter. Fall has taken a hard fall out of the Administration's Mexican policy. West called on Chamberlain yesterday, but was it fixed?

The idle army is being kept busy in California.

Again—Sunny Oregon. Sprig's sure cub.

The Economy of Quality

It's a sad fact that, as a rule, poor people get less for their money than the more well-to-do. There's no real necessity for this condition. The reason is that in trying to get the most for their money, they unwittingly get the most in quantity instead of in quality, and frequently end in finding that what they have bought is worthless.

There is no economy in dealing with unknown, unreliable merchants. If you go into a dirty little shop with signs marking cheap prices stuck all around, you may make up your mind that the money you spend there will probably be money lost.

The merchants who carry reliable merchandise don't have to resort to any tricks to get trade.

They stake their reputations that the things they sell are absolutely as represented.

They announce publicly through the newspapers what they have and what their prices are—and are prepared to stand behind what they say.

You can't make a mistake if you deal with a man who comes out in print and tells you frankly all about what he is selling—Adv.

Statistics on Teaching.

PORTLAND, March 9.—(To the Editor.)—Kindly inform me where a person could get a report regarding such matters as number of teachers, salaries, etc., of different states.

Another big cargo of Chinese eggs is coming.

Real Eastern eggs for Easter. Fall has taken a hard fall out of the Administration's Mexican policy. West called on Chamberlain yesterday, but was it fixed?

The idle army is being kept busy in California.

Again—Sunny Oregon. Sprig's sure cub.