Mysterious Package Is Sent to Grand Jury Now in Session in Baker County.

COPPERFIELD IS RECALLED

Bundle Believed to Contain Evidence to Be Used Against Ousted Member of Council Whose Saloon Fixtures Were Seized.

BAKER, Or. March 16 .- (Special.)-The March term of the grand jury convened today with thrills from the outset, occasioned by the receipt by the investigating body of a mysterious sealed package from Governor Oswald West, transmitted through Circuit Judge Anderson.

The package carried scals placed on it at the Statchouse at Salem, Judge Anderson having refused to open it when he received it from Governor West. He gave it to the foreman of the grand jury with the statement that the probers should not consider the fact that the evidence came into their fact that the evidence came into their hands through the Circuit Judge and he told them that they should not return any indictments on that account nor should they neglect to return in-dictments on that account, but should set according to their eath.

The sealed package, about one foot long by six inches wide and two inches thick, is believed to contain evidence in the Copperfield case to be used against William Wiegand, the ousted Councilman, who was in the saloon business at Copperfield until Governor West's agent appeared and confiscated

It is said that the package contains ctures of an improper nature, slleged have been taken from the walls of r. Wiegand's saloon. That it may Mr. Wiegand's saloon. That it may also contain other evidence in the Copperfield cases is regarded as a possibility.

The grand jury today began its work with an examination of witnesses in the alleged coyote pelt stealing ase from Durkee, in which two homesteaders were arrested on a charge of grand larceny, bound over and released on $2000 bail each.

Colonel B. K. Lawson, Governor West's agent, has been subpensed as a witness, but he has not yet appeared and until his arrival it is not likely that the Copperfield cases will be taken up. A large grist of work is on the docket and a long session of the body

System of Picking Oratorical Girls! Try This! Makes Your Winners Declared Unfair.

Objection Made to Ranking Person Next, in Case of Tie, Only One Place Below, When by Actual Numbering Stand Is Lower.

ALBANY, Or., March 16,-(Special.) That the present system of deternining the winner in a state oratorical contest is inequitable is the assertion of many students who attended the contest in this city Friday night. Even while they were computing the rankings, some members of the executive committee of the Intercollegiate Oratorical Association expressed dissatisfaction with the system the rules forced them to follow.

The present arrangement is to take the markings of the judges and then rank the contestants first, second, third, etc., on the rating of each judge in the order of the highest percentages, the person with the smallest total winning. With the plan of realty tal winning. With the plan of ranking from the percentages there is no complaint but the fault to which many object is the system of ranking in

Under the plan now in vogue if two or more tie in the markings of any one judge they are given the same number and the next lowest contestant takes the number immediately following. It is argued that the proper plan would be to give each of the two tying 2½ and the next contestant 4. In some cases as many as three tie on one judge's markings and the contestant really in fifth place gets 3. This, it is asserted, throws an element of luck into the contest.

Had this proposed system, which its exponents assert is the only fair one, been used Friday night, it would not have changed the result so far as first place is concerned, for George Stewart, Jr., of McMinnville College, would have won anyway, but it would have made a difference in second place, giving that position to Eric P. Bolt, of Wil-amette University, and relegating Lisle lamette University, and relegating Lisle Hubbard, of Pacific College, to third.
It would have placed Louis Gambee, of the Oregon Agricultural College, in fourth instead of fifth place; Howard Taylor, of Pacific University, in fifth instead of sixth, and James T. Donald, of the University of Oregon, in sixth instead of fourth place.
A contestant who ranked first under one system might easily be third in the race under the other and, it is argued by those opposing the present plan, such a thing will occur in some future contest if the present system is main-

contest if the present system is main-

It is possible that the objections now being urged will lead to a considera-tion of the matter in the various coleges in the Oratorical Association looking toward a change before the

if Proposed Amendment to Constitution Is Adopted

LEWISTON, Idaho, March 16 .- (Spe cial.)—The political situation in Northern Idaho has developed activity and several political stars have loomed up on the horizon.

It is said the Supreme Court can not properly consider the work with but three members and that two addi-tional are needed. A constitutional amendment will be voted upon this Fall to see if the number of Susreme Judges shall be increased to five, and, if the amendment carries, the Govern-or will appoint two additional judges. Judge Allshie's term does not expire until the first of next year, but if he resigns before that time to enter the Senatorial race, it will mean another vacancy to be filled by the Gov-ernor. For these reasons aspirants of the different parties are appearing. and an interesting race is expected.

Attorney Charles L. McDonald, of Lewiston, and Frank Moore and William L. Morgan, of Moscow, have been suggested as possible candidates on the Democratic ticket for the supreme

A Bully Good Song

Thousands of the college-boys-and men-to whom college days are and were the red-letter days of life-would call the song illustrated in today's paper, a "bully good song"-and would say they had "had a bully good evening"-in singing together once more the many college songs to be found in "Heart Songs."

For instance, "Bohunkus," "Co-ca-che-lunk," "Dutch Company," "Gaudeamus Igitur," "Lauriger Horatius," "My Last Cigar," "The Bull Dog," "Rig-a-jig," "Upidee," "Vive la Compagnie"—how these recall the old times on the campus, or in some fellow's quarters, with the fire light flickering, the guitar twanging, and the boys yodeling or joining in the chorus.

But college songs are only one of ten classes contained in this wonderful treasury of song. It is really a book for everybody, everywhere. It took four years to get from 20,000 people their favorite songs-and then to pick out the best 400. But any other way-or any other book-of course, that wouldn't be "Heart Songs!"
