

FARMER IS SHOT TO DEATH BY NEIGHBOR

Dispute Over Boundary Fence Near Bonners Ferry, Idaho, Leads to Tragedy.

SLAYER GIVES HIMSELF UP

Prisoner Declares Trouble of Long Duration and Climax Reached When Man, Now Dead, Attempted to Infringe on Land.

BONNERS FERRY, Idaho, March 16.—(Special).—A dispute over land boundaries led to the killing today of A. F. Waterman, 66 years old, a farmer, living on the north side of the town, by Andrew Aldridge, a neighbor. The farms of the two men were adjoining and the dispute over the boundary had been of long standing. This morning Mr. Waterman started moving the fence over to what he claimed was the proper location, and Aldridge came out of the house and warned him to cease.

Angry words followed, and Aldridge is alleged to have returned to his house and brought a 30-30 rifle and opened fire on Mr. Waterman, hitting him through the shoulder, killing him almost instantly.

Aldridge gave himself up to the local officers and is being held in the town jail. He refused to make any detailed statement regarding the deed other than to admit that he killed Mr. Waterman and that the trouble arose over the changing of the fence.

Mr. Waterman is survived by a widow, now in the East; a son, John Waterman, of this place, and several other sons and daughters. He recently started a divorce action against his wife and the case is pending.

Aldridge has a family here. He was asked whether he had really meant to kill Waterman, and he replied that "Well, I don't know. He had been pestering me so long that I just had to get rid of him. He came up in front of my place this morning and commenced hollering at me."

My corner stakes had been stolen several times and I had a lot of trouble with Waterman regarding the land between his place and mine.

"I don't just remember how many shots I fired, but I think two. I think I missed him the first time. This was the first time I had my rifle out for over a year."

BANK OF AUBURN CLOSED

ONE OF THE LARGEST DEPOSITORS NAMED RECEIVER.

After Existence of Ten Years Institution Compelled to Quit With $204,000 in Deposits.

SEATTLE Wash., March 16.—The Christopher, Knickerbocker & Howard private bank of Auburn, Wash., did not open for business today and a receiver for the bank was appointed by United States Judge Neterer, in the Federal Court here, on petition of depositors.

Dr. B. E. Hoye, the receiver appointed, is one of the largest depositors. He will hold office until the appointment of trustees to handle the bank's affairs. The bank, which has been in existence 10 years, had $204,000 of deposits and its other liabilities amount to $21,000. Notes and other securities of a face value of $248,000 are held by the bank, of which only $8000 could be turned into quick cash.

It is estimated that less than $100,000 can be realized on the securities. H. H. Howard, cashier, lent the money of the bank, his partners relying altogether on his judgment. To secure the depositors, President Christopher, a rancher, has turned over unincumbered real estate valued at $40,000. Vice-President Knickerbocker, an attorney, has contributed unincumbered real estate worth $40,000 and Howard and his wife have given unincumbered real estate and personal property valued at $115,000. The bank also holds other real estate listed at $200,000.

LOGANBERRY MEN UNITE

GROWERS OF STATE MEET AT SALEM AND ORGANIZE.

Industry to Be Developed and Markets Found by Sending Samples of Fruit to All Parts of Country.

SALEM, Or., March 15.—(Special).—A permanent organization of loganberry growers of the state was perfected here today. More than 200 growers attended the meeting and it was by consensus of opinion that through organization adequate markets could be obtained.

Officers were elected as follows: President, W. L. Bentley, Woodburn; vice-president, Alex. La. Follette, Brooks; secretary, Fred S. Bynon, Salem; treasurer, L. H. Roberts, Salem; directors, Britt Aspinwall, Brooks; H. E. Crowell, Dundee, and the president, vice-president and treasurer.

The constitution provides that the directors shall perfect a plan of operation at once, the industry to be developed by sending samples of fresh and dried berries to all parts of the country and the preparation of adequate statistics for the information of the growers. Because of the big increase of acreage devoted to the fruit this year it was feared that it might be impossible to find markets. Assurances have been received, however, that there will be an adequate demand. Arrangements have been made to sell quantities of the berries in parts of the country where they heretofore have been unknown.

BOOSTERS WILL MEET

Independence Commercial Club Arranges Celebration.

'The Value of a Live Commercial Club.' Mr. Richardson will talk on the relations of the Commercial Club to the Oregon Development League.

After the night meeting a get-together banquet will be served at the Beaver Hotel, where other speakers, including Mark M. Woodruff, publicity manager for the Hill lines in Oregon, will speak to the members of the Commercial Club. This banquet and meeting is preliminary to the annual election of officers, which will take place the early part of April. It is expected that it will be the largest boosters' meeting ever held in this city.

Charles A. Jordan, of Portland, Republican aspirant for the nomination for Governor at the coming primary election, spoke at the Opera-House here Saturday night. He outlined his platform, what he intended to do if elected and how he expected to gain these ends. The Independence band held a concert in front of the Opera-House before the meeting.

THEFT AND SALE TOLD

BOB LEATHERWOOD IS BOUND OVER TO GRAND JURY.

Harry Estes Tells of Selling Fleischer-Mayer Company's Goods—Other Larceny Suspects Sentenced.

Bob Leatherwood, held on the charge of receiving stolen goods, was bound over to the grand jury yesterday by District Judge Jones. His bond was fixed at $2000 on each of two charges. He is the first of the eight arrested in connection with alleged large thefts of linens and dry goods from Fleischer, Mayer & Company which is charged with selling all the other defendants are out on bail.

The first witness called against Leatherwood was Harry Estes, an ex-employee of the wholesale firm, who is charged with the first of the goods which it is charged were sold to Leatherwood. Estes testified yesterday that he sold some of the linens he stole from the firm to Leatherwood. Shipments of goods, through a second-hand dealer, to E. L. Settle of Oakland, Or., were shown by receipts from the railroad company.

Judge Dayton agreed with Attorney Fulton that bail of $15,000, under which Leatherwood was held since his arrest several weeks ago, was excessive and reduced the bail to $4000. Arche Blake, who gave his true name as O. W. Lake, pleaded guilty last week to obtaining money by false pretenses by giving a worthless check, was sentenced to from one to five years in the penitentiary by Circuit Judge Kavanaugh. Lake was paroled, to take effect today, and the $50 he secured on the check.

Because he has passed five months in jail awaiting trial, Judge Kavanaugh sentenced John H. Johnson, who pleaded guilty to larceny, to one month in jail.

ENGINEER SEEKS OFFICE

BAKER MAN ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY ON REPUBLICAN TICKET.

L. R. Stockman, Who Constructed Great Shoshone Dam and Other Big Work, Will Oppose J. H. Lewis.

BAKER, Or., March 16.—(Special).—L. R. Stockman, civil engineer, who has been in private practice on irrigation and water work in Baker for the last two years, today announced his candidacy for State Engineer. He is 39 years old and has had wide experience in engineering lines.

Mr. Stockman came to Baker from Colorado, where he was a resident engineer for a big irrigation company. He is perhaps best known for his work in constructing the great Shoshone dam at Cody, Wyo., a $1,500,000 project, which is the highest dam in the world—328 feet. He had long experience as an engineer in railroad construction work, built 15 tunnels and was for five years with the Government on irrigation work in Wyoming, Colorado, Montana and Canada, and was in charge of the construction of the St. Mary's $2,000,000 canal in Montana. For two years he was an engineer in Chicago on water power work.

IDAHO CAMPAIGN TO BE HOT

State-wide Move to Be Launched During This Month.

BOISE, Idaho, March 16.—(Special).—That Idaho is now entering the most strenuous prohibition campaign in its history is freely conceded. The result is doubtful. Flushed with the recent Kootenai county victory, which turned that "wet" county into the "dry" column by a majority of 353, thereby adding the 23d local option county in the state, the prohibitionists are clamoring for state-wide prohibition from the next Legislature and will support only legislative and state candidates who are "dry."

The state-wide prohibition campaign will be launched on March 25, 26 and 27 at a state convention here. Plans have been made to run an "anti-boozers' special" train from Weiser to Boise and on its arrival here to make a demonstration in the downtown business district. Among the speakers will be Fletcher Homan, president of Williamette University of Salem, Or.; Adna Wright Leonard, L. N. McCass, president of Spokane College, and others.

Opposition to state-wide prohibition will be strenuous. Its opponents are already forming anti-prohibition leagues over the state. Strict regulation will be their slogan.

GROWTH OF PHONE SHOWN

Government Ownership Would Mean Higher Rates, Says Bell Head.

NEW YORK, March 16.—The rapid growth of the Bell Telephone system and its attitude toward Government ownership are set forth in a detailed annual report of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company, made public today. President Vail says the company is opposed to Government ownership, but it is interested in the upbuilding of a great public utility and does not believe a Government-owned telephone system would give as cheap and efficient service.

During the year the number of subscribers' telephones increased 676,943, making a total of 8,132,017. The total wire mileage at the end of the year was 16,111,011. The gross revenues in 1913, not including connected independent companies, was $215,600,000, an increase in a year of more than $18,000,000.

SCHOOL DATA ISSUED

Superintendent Churchill's Work Covers Months.

MULTNOMAH PAYS HIGHEST

Hood River County Is Second, Giving Its Men Teachers $109 and Its Women Teachers $70 Monthly.

Information of Import.

SALEM, Or., March 16.—(Special).—Copies of a directory of the schools of the state giving information never before published, are being mailed by Superintendent of Public Instruction Churchill. Aside from containing the names of superintendents, supervisors, principals and high school teachers, it gives their salaries, tells of their work and contains the rules and regulations for issuing certificates.

Not only are the public schools given in the pamphlet, but independent schools, such as Albany College, Willamette University, Reed College, and Roman Catholic schools are mentioned. The average monthly salaries of the male teachers of the public school is $84.25 and of the women teachers $81.74. The average monthly salaries of teachers in one-room schools is $60.50 and of teachers in schools having more than one room $68.42. Principals' salaries average $95.16 a month, and the average annual salaries of superintendents in districts of the first class is $1,920.

Multnomah pays the highest salaries to both men and women teachers, the figures being $151.50 and $97.85, respectively. Hood River County is second, paying its men teachers $109 and its women teachers $70 monthly. Umatilla pays its men $104.44 and its women $69.30. Lincoln County pays the smallest salaries, its men receiving $61.90 and women teachers $54.05. Clackamas ranks low, paying its men teachers $81.23 and its women $58.22. All these figures are for the year 1913.

The average annual salaries of city superintendents in districts of the first class so far as reported, are as follows: Baker, $2400; Clatsop, $2000; Douglas, $1900; Jackson, $1900; Josephine, $1800; Klamath, $1800; Lane, $2500; Linn, $2000; Marion, $2250; Lincoln, $2250; Union, $1800; Wasco, $2000 and Yamhill, $1575. The general average for city superintendents, not including Portland, is $1925.85.

The enrollment in the larger city schools outside of Portland follows: Baker, 1480; Corvallis, 1065; Oregon City, 974; Astoria, 1653 and Rainier, 410.

Not only are the names of all the teachers given, but the schools they attended and the other preparation for teaching. The counties are segregated and information of advantage to persons engaged in educational work and others is given in the minutest detail. Mr. Churchill will also be regarding all schools having more than one teacher, with the exception of a few schools which failed to send in their reports. He is also working on gathering data extended over several months, and the directory is by far the most comprehensive ever issued in this state.

DEPUTIES SEEK OFFICE

POLK COUNTY SHERIFF'S AIDS IN RACE FOR TWO OFFICES.

One Aspires to Succeed His Chief and Other Runs for Treasurer—Numerous Men Announce.

DALLAS, Or., March 15.—(Special).—J. H. Savery, for the past two years one of the deputies under Sheriff Grant, has filed his petition for the Democratic nomination for Sheriff. It is said that Sheriff Grant is supporting Mr. Savery. The Republican nomination probably will go to John Orr, of Rickreall.

John Richter, chief deputy under Sheriff Grant for the past six years, has filed his petition for the Democratic nomination for Treasurer. In the Democratic primaries he probably will not be opposed. For the Republican nomination for the office Hugh Black of Dallas, Charles Dunsinger, of Independence, and F. J. Holman, of Black Rock, are being prominently mentioned.

For the first time in many years in Polk County there is a hard contest for the office of County Surveyor. Fred M. Saver, incumbent, has filed his petition for the Democratic nomination. He is opposed by Sanford B. Taylor, Democrat, who for several years was chief engineer for the Salem, Falls City and Western Railroad Company. There is only one aspirant for the Republican nomination for this office, Robert Canfield, of Black Rock. William Hines, of the engineering firm of Hines Bros., Dallas, probably will file for the Republican nomination.

Why You Ought to Buy a Cadillac

Your car is one of the most important purchases you will ever make. Your enjoyment for a thousand days—your reputation as a shrewd business man—the very lives of your loved ones—will at times depend upon the character of the car you choose. You cannot be too careful.

Things to Consider: You want a car that is 100% certainty. You want a car that is widely owned by men of substance—men who appreciate the good things of life—men who get their money's worth. You want a car of known value—a car never on the bargain counter. You want a car whose style you can be proud of—whose performance will satisfy you. You want a car with a reputation for low cost of upkeep and operation. You must have a car with a substantial financial backing. All these things you get in fullest measure when you buy a Cadillac.

Cadillac Reputation: Thirty-six Million Dollars is being invested in Cadillacs this year. Last year it was Thirty Million. Year before that Twenty-five Million. In the thirteen years of Cadillac history the public has invested more money in Cadillacs than in any other make of car. Consider what a substantial institution the Cadillac really is. There can be no doubt as to Cadillac reliability, long life, low running cost, and general all-round satisfaction.

Cadillac Progress: And now the Cadillac has set a new standard for smooth, easy riding, vibrationless running and flexibility—at the same time reducing fuel expense and increasing the life of the car. Heretofore cars have been geared "high" or "low" or somewhere in between. When geared "high" they run smoothly at high speeds, but will not run slowly enough in traffic on direct drive. When geared "low" they run slowly enough on direct drive, but vibrate uncomfortably when running 20 or 25 miles an hour.

Two-Speed Direct Drive Rear Axle: The 1914 Cadillac with its Two-Speed Direct-Drive Rear Axle gives the advantage of both high and low gearing. Suppose you are driving 20 miles an hour with "low" gear rear axle and you want to go faster. Just press the electric switch that throws in the "high" gear rear axle and the car will rapidly and smoothly pick up speed until it is going 30 miles an hour. And at 30 miles an hour the engine will be running no faster on "high" axle gear than it was running at 20 miles an hour on "low" axle gear. You can see that on "high" rear axle, the engine runs one-third slower for a given speed, which means unusual smoothness and freedom from vibration.

Body Styles and Prices: Seven-Passenger Touring Car, $2225; Five-Passenger Touring Car, $2125; Phaeton, four-passenger, $2125; Roadster, two-passenger, $2125; Landaulet Coupe, three-passenger, $2650; Inside Drive Limousine, five-passenger, $2950; Standard Limousine, seven-passenger, $3400.

STATE DISTRIBUTORS: Corey Motor Car Co. Twenty-First and Washington Sts.
