POLITICAL LEADERS IN IDAHO ARE BUSY

Chief Contest at Republican Primary Election to Revolve Around Senatorship.

FOUR ASPIRANTS IN RACE

Justice Alishie's Desire for Toga May Give Governor an Opportunity to Name Another Member of the State Supreme Court.

BOISE, Idaho, April 3 .- (Special.)-All three political parties are active, for the primary campaign is rapidly approaching and aspirants for political office and party leadership are being forced to the front. With the Republicans, the main fight will revolve around the Senatorship. It will be a four-cornered contest, with Senator four-cornered contest, with Senator Brady, Representative French, Chief Justice Allshie and Frank R. Gooding, ex-Governor in the race.

The resignation of Justice Allshie from the bench is expected at any time, leaving a vacancy that Governor Haines will be called upon to fill. The present low condition of Justice Stewart may prevent his continued active service on the bench and there is tive service on the bench and there is a possibility that Governor Haines may be called upon to make a second appointment. In the event of the pasage of the constitutional amendment, to be voted upon at the next general election, increasing the Supreme Court membership from three to five, Governor Haines will be vested with the power to appoint two more members of that court, or a total of four appointments in all, during his administration

Governor Alone in Race.

Governor Haines is the only announced Republican aspirant for Governor, but opposition is possible. Of the mentioned timber there is included Senator Davis, of American Falls; Charles L. Heitman, of Rathdrum, and George Crum, of Lewiston.

John P. Vollmer, the heaviest individual taxpayer in the state, one of Idaho's richest men, a railroad builder and pioneer, in a communication to George W. Perkins has indicated that he would not be averse to accepting Governor Alone in Race.

he would not be averse to accepting the Bull Moose party nomination for Governor. At the same time he went over bodily to the Progressive party, although he has been a Republican for many years. Guy Martin, the party's many years. Guy Martin, the party's candidate for Governor at the last election, also is mentioned as an aspirant. Those party leaders who claim to be able to forecast the Progressive party primary lineup assert that Vollmer will be the party's candidate for Governor, Martin will be the candidate for Durkes of the Surrence candidate for Justice of the Supremi Court and Paul Clagstone, the chie opponent of Governor Halnes at the last primary and a former leading Re publican, will be the party's candidate for United States Senator.

Progressives to Fight Alone. The Progressives have given out the positive statement that there will be positive statement that there will be no amalgamation with the Republicans or Democrats and that the fight will be straight down the line from Senator to Constable, with full tickets in the field, They are planning their first big state raily for Boise April 8, when Bainbridge Colby, of New York, and Vice-Chairman McCormick, of the National committee, will be here for a conference and will speak at a mass meeting. The Pinney Theater has been obtained for this raily and it will be watched with statewide interest.

watched with statewide interest. The Democrats are just as active as the other two parties. Ex-Governor Hawley and John P. Nugent, heads of the two respective factions in the party, are aspirants for Senator and are busily engaged lining up their political fences.

M. S. Alexander, who ran against Senator Brady for the Governorship four years ago, will be an aspirant for Governor again,

INDIAN MEETING PLANNED

Cowlitz Tribe May Gather at Kelso to Discuss Land Settlement.

KELSO, Wash, April 2.—(Special.)—
A big meeting of the Indians of the Cowlitz River tribe may be held in this city soon to take further action with reference to the proposal of the United States Government to locate the members of the tribe on lands in the Quinault country in lieu of a cash settlement for lands taken from them in the past. Two or three meetings have been held at Chehalis.

This week Dr. Charles Wannassay, a wealthy Indian from Toppenish and a native of the Cowlitz Valley, was here on business connected with the matter. He will make Kelso his headquarters for some time and endeavor to interview all the Cowlitz Indians in this part of the state. Dr. Wannassay was appointed connector for the Cowlitz tribe at the February meeting in Tacoma. It is desired that the Indians express their preference as to whether they wish a land or cash settlement of their claims.
