Rose Festival Managers Give Out Parade Details.

RULES INSIST ON MERIT

Numerous Organizations to Have Candidate for "Queen Rose" Voting Contest and for 11 Maids of Honor.

Announcements have been made of the prizes offered and the rules governing participation in the business and industrial division of the big day-long parade of Friday, June 12, which is to be one of the leading events of the Rose Festival program.

Cash prizes aggregating $330 will be given to the winning floats in this division, as follows: For the most artistic design, first and second prizes, $75 and $25, respectively; for the best mechanical float, first and second prizes, $75 and $25; for the most unique advertising entry, first and second prizes, $75 and $25; for the drivers of the floats winning first prizes, $10 each.

Some of the rules governing entrants in the industrial division: Floats shall, so far as possible, depict in an advertising way the business engaged in, and preference will be given to floats showing action or life: floats shall be most conformable to art, regular in arrangement and pleasing to the eye: preference in the awarding of prizes, mechanical floats shall be in action, operated by physical or mechanical power; and for floats which are in appearance or operation to receive preference in the awarding.

Much interest is being manifested in the voting contest for "Queen Rose" and her maids of honor. Numerous organizations have already selected their candidates and will announce them within the next few days. The candidate receiving the largest number of votes will be crowned "Queen Rose" and the next highest on the list her maids of honor. Besides participating in the parade, the festival events, the 12 popular girls will be given a luxurious 10-day trip up and down the Coast in a special car.

CLUB SEEKS YOUNG WOMAN

East Side Business Men Want Candidate for Rose Festival Duty.

What young woman wants to be a candidate for the East Side Business Men's Club for Central East Portland as one of the 12 young women to be selected as "Queen Rose" and her maids of honor during the Rose Festival?

This was the subject considered Monday solemnly, seriously and prayerfully at the club luncheon. After extended discussion, the club shifted the selection to the shoulders of Dan Kellner, L. M. Lepp, George E. Welton, T. R. Rowe, M. B. McFarland, A. L. Campbell and M. O. Collins. It was conceded that they have a hard job, not because of lack of young women who can measure up to requirements, but because of the abundance of material to select from.

LOCAL FIRM LOSES ORDER

San Francisco Company Will Supply Record Books to County Clerk.

After considering the opinion by District Attorney Evans that it is not necessary to let a contract for county supplies to the lowest local responsible bidder, if an outside firm makes a better bid, the county commissioners yesterday rescinded a contract let last week to the Irwin-Hodson Company, of Portland, for supplying 60 record books to County Clerk Coffey, and let the contract to H. S. Crocker & Co. of San Francisco.

The Irwin-Hodson Company offered to supply the books for $275. Two outside firms underbid this quotation, but the Commissioners by a two to one vote gave the contract to the local firm. Commissioner Lightner asked Mr. Evans for an opinion. Crocker & Co. offered to supply the books for $275, and the Lewis Sears Paper Company, of Seattle, for $287.50.

MEN'S RESORT IS POPULAR

Year's Report Shows Large Attendance at Gospel Meetings.

Reports of the activities of the Men's Resort at Fourth and Burnside streets conducted under the auspices of the First Presbyterian Church, show that in the year ending December 31, 1913, 185 gospel meetings were held, with an average attendance of 150. There were 80 different speakers. Bible classes were convened on 47 occasions, with 14 musical and social concerts with an average attendance of 231. A total of 2382 men were sent out to work.

The First Presbyterian Church contributed $5600 during the year. Among the expenditures were $2685.89 for salaries, $854.56 for water, light and fuel; $728.54 for remodeling and furnishing, $455.67 for loans and interest, $203 for plumbing and $211.70 for miscellaneous items.

PIONEERS TO MEET

Annual Reunion to Take Place in Portland June 18.

A meeting of the board of directors of the Oregon Pioneer Association was held recently at the rooms of the Oregon Historical Society, 207 Second street, to arrange for the 41st annual reunion.

Those present and the year they came to the state are as follows: Joseph L. Carter, 1844, Hood River, president; T. T. Geer, 1851, Portland, vice-president; George H. Himes, 1852, Portland, secretary; P. H. D'Arcy, 1857, Salem; Charles B. Moore, 1852, and N. H. Bird, 1848, Portland, directors.

After discussion Portland was selected as the place for holding the meeting, the public exercises to be in the Masonic Temple and the banquet under the management of the Pioneer Women's Auxiliary, will be given in the Armory.

The date of the reunion will be Thursday, June 18, and the date of the reunion of the Indian War Veterans will be the day before.

Judge Grant B. Dimick, of Oregon City, who descends from a pioneer family of 1847, was selected to deliver the annual address. Rev. P. S. Knight, 1828, Seaside, was chosen to act as chaplain, and N. H. Bird, 1848, grand marshal. T. T. Geer, Charles B. Moore and George H. Himes were appointed a general committee of arrangements to attend to all further details.

TIMBER FRAUD ALLEGED

GOVERNMENT ASKS DAMAGES FOR ENTRY IN HAY CREEK DISTRICT.

Judge Wolverton yesterday overruled the demurrer of the Baldwin Sheep & Land Company and others to the complaint of the Government in its suit to recover $1600 for a stone and timber claim of 150 acres in the Hay Creek district of Oregon, patent to which it is alleged, was obtained by fraud. The Government contends that the facts cited in the complaint were insufficient to warrant the charge.

Patent was issued for the land to Mrs. H. Sager, February 13, 1908. She conveyed the land to J. G. Edwards in April, 1909, and he in turn transferred to the Baldwin Sheep & Land Company. The land is now owned by Baldwin Sheep Company, a separate corporation having no connection with the original company of similar name.

It is alleged that the Baldwin Sheep & Land Company, J. G. Edwards, J. G. Rice and J. W. Robinson were concerned in a deal in 1908, whereby they gave her the money for filing fees, paid all expenses of perfecting the patent, and then paid her $125 to sell the land to Edwards, she at no time being a bona fide claimant, but a dummy through which the defendant worked to gain possession of the land.

The case presents a new aspect in that the Government is not asking for the cancellation of the patent, but for damages for having been defrauded. It is contended that the land is worth $119 an acre, the amount asked as damages. Mrs. Sager paid $250 an acre for the land when she received her patent, which, having stood for more than six years, is not subject to cancellation. The land having passed into the hands of "innocent purchasers," there is nothing for the Government to do but ask for damages. John J. Beckman, assistant United States District Attorney, has charge of the case for the Government.

FEES UP TO 5 JUDGES

ACTION TO PAY MRS. PALMER AS WITNESS IS TRANSFERRED.

Judge McGuire Refuses to Hear Case Because He Advised Statute Does Not Apply to Woman Not in Jail.

Five of the Circuit Judges of Multnomah County will decide the mandamus suit brought several weeks ago by District Attorney Evans to compel County Clerk Coffey to pay Mrs. Alice Palmer fees for being detained as a witness against Harry Palmer, recently convicted on a non-support charge.

Judge McGuire, to whose department the case was assigned, announced yesterday that he will transfer the case to the five other judges. He refused to hear the case, he said, because he had advised Mrs. Coffey in the matter before the suit was brought.

Under the statute which provides that witnesses held in jail or otherwise detained to appear in criminal cases, shall be paid $1.50 a day as long as detained, District Attorney Evans issued an order on County Clerk Coffey to pay Mrs. Palmer for 45 days during which she had been in the custody of Mrs. Margaret Thoroman, social secretary of the Associated Charities.

Mrs. Coffey refused to pay the fees, stating that Mrs. Palmer had not been held in jail and had been permitted to go at will, the detention by Mrs. Thoroman being voluntarily formal.

Judge McGuire said that he had advised Mr. Coffey that it was his opinion that only witnesses confined in jail should be paid as provided by the new statute.

County Clerk Coffey has filed a demurrer to the complaint. The date for the hearing by the judges en banc has not been set.

STUNTS ARE ARRANGED

PEANUT BUTCHERS WILL STAR AT SHRINERS' CARNIVAL.

Nobles Will Dispense "Zem Zem" and Scores Dressed as Clowns Will Ride on Animal Cages in Parade.

One of the star attractions of the Shrine carnival and circus next week will be approximately $2,000,000 worth of ancient and honorable butchers of the royal peanut, Concession Boss Ivan Fumason says he has rounded up the highest-priced and handsomest galaxy of goober jugglers that ever performed in front of, under or around a main-top and every one of them is a big income tax contributor.

Class will prevail likewise among the dispenser of "camel's milk" and the importations of real "zem zem" fresh from Arab's desert. These will take the place of the usual liquid thirsh distributors such as certain lemonade, pop and Hood River apple cider. The entire squad must appear at the Multnomah County Fairgrounds, where the big show takes place, arrayed either in the official Shrine grab or in some disguise in keeping with the Arabic customs of the order.

The gum and candy man, whose identity will be kept a secret, is having a Zulu chief's outfit manufactured for his use. The "wild man of Borneo" will be another of the nickel-grabbing horde.

Vacancies on the different committees will be left open so as to give the visiting Nobles from Spokane, Seattle, Tacoma and the different Oregon cities a chance to get in and "spiel" or hawk the tempting wares of the "butchers."

TRAFFIC LAW URGED

Auto Club Committee Proposes Pedestrian Rules Again.

In hope of getting the City Council to pass the traffic ordinance proposed recently by the Portland Automobile Club, providing, among other things, for pedestrians to observe the whistle signals of traffic policemen, a committee of the club met yesterday with members of the Commission. It announced a willingness to change the ordinance in some respects.

It was proposed by the committee that the district in which pedestrian traffic shall be required to cross streets at intersections only be reduced to take in the territory bounded by Tenth, Salmon and Gisan streets and the waterfront on the West Side and all streets throughout the city where streetcar tracks extend.

Zone Enlarged in One Way.

This lessens the zone within the business center and enlarges it in the residence sections. Originally the ordinance provided for this restriction as far west as Twenty-third street on the West Side and as far east as East Twelfth street on the East Side.

The committee still insists that the ordinance have the provision that no pedestrian shall cross a street at any place excepting at a regular intersection within the district described and that no pedestrian cross at intersection diagonally or in any other direction excepting along regular crosswalks. Pedestrian traffic, the committee maintained, should be subject to

EUGENICS BUILDING VOTED

County Fair Directors Authorize Other Improvements at Grounds.

Erection of a building devoted exclusively to eugenics, an ample poultry-house, a new stock barn 40x250 feet and the complete ornamentation of the grounds at Gresham with foliage and flowers, were authorized Monday at the meeting of the directors of the Multnomah County Fair Association.

The contract for printing the premium list was awarded the Outlook Publishing Company, of Gresham.

The eugenics building is to be a new feature of the fair. O. M. Plummer, newly-elected director, who is interested in eugenics, will assist in this department.

H. A. Lewis, R. W. Gill, J. J. Johnson, O. M. Plummer and A. P. Miller were appointed to confer with the County Commissioners about making an exhibit at the State Fair.

this ordinance as proposed is a good one and should pass.

"Personally," declared Mayor Albee, "I do not find any trouble in getting along under the present ordinance."

"The man who does have trouble," asserted Commissioner Bigelow, "is the man you find going 40 miles an hour out on the highways."

At the conclusion of the meeting it was announced that the amendments to the ordinance as proposed by the committee would be considered fully and would be brought up for final consideration in the near future. On the committee, in addition to Mr. Clemens, were Arthur Fish and James E. Appleby.
