

PROBE OF LAWYERS' FEES IS PLANNED

Charges Against Ulrich and Geneste Before Bar Association Probable.

ACTION HINGES ON CASE

Prisoner Anxious to Recompense Policeman of Light Prosecution, Says Attorney Told Him "He's Already Taken Care Of."

Charges before the Bar Association will probably be preferred against E. D. Ulrich, an attorney in the Chamber of Commerce building, and Elmon A. Geneste, his law partner, following statements made in Municipal Court yesterday morning concerning the case of Charles Amos, a riverman, and client of the attorneys. Both Mr. Geneste and Mr. Ulrich declare themselves ready to face any charges.

The charges apparently hinge on Amos' statement in court that when he told Ulrich that he would like to re-compense Patrolman Wise for his fair treatment in prosecuting the case against Amos, Ulrich said that Wise was "already taken care of." This statement was taken by the officers to mean that Ulrich intended to have give Amos money to testify lightly in the case. Ulrich says that his statement was that "Wise is amply taken care of; he gets his salary every month."

Fee of $750 Agreed Upon. Amos was arrested Friday on a charge which was changed to disorderly conduct when he said that he was drunk when arrested. Amos is said to have signed an agreement with Ulrich to pay him $750 as attorney's fees, and he paid $250 down, giving as security for the balance a bill of sale on his river boat. Municipal Judge Stevenson set him free Monday and suspended a 30-day sentence, on representation that the alleged offense was committed.

Sergeant Harms, Patrolman Long and Wise were informed yesterday morning that Amos was disgruntled with the side of his case and they asked both parties to go to Municipal Court. There Amos said that Geneste, who was employed as Public Defender, "steered" him towards Ulrich, who is Geneste's law partner.

Beyond his statement concerning Patrolman Wise, Amos' remarks in court were incoherent. In an interview later he said that Ulrich had never told him "out and out" that Ulrich must give the policeman any money, but that he thought that was the inference.

Fees Need Probe, Says Delek. Ulrich says he has three witnesses to the alleged interview in which the case was discussed, and that all will say that no statement of bribing the police was made.

"I am most sorry about the affair because Geneste was public defender, evidently used his office to steer business to Ulrich," said Judge Stevenson. "In future, however, no attorney will be allowed to enter the witness' box in this court without a written order from the prisoner or the chief of police."

TROUT HATCHERY PLANNED

Marshfield Men Also Intend to Raise Frogs for Market.

MARSHFIELD, Or., April 7.—(Special.)—T. J. and G. M. Scammon, who have been in this section for the last month with a view of starting a private trout hatchery, have concluded negotiations for suitable surroundings for their enterprise, since they have been on Lakes Edna and Teal in the northern part of the county, about two miles from the ocean beach. The surrounding country is timbered and there is a fine watershed contiguous to the lakes. The water in the lakes is pure mountain flow.

The lakes are between five and six miles from Lakeside, a village on Tenmile Lake.

COOS PLANS OPEN BALL

Three Leading Teams in County Favor First-Class Games.

MARSHFIELD, Or., April 7.—(Special.)—Baseball in Coos County this year will be of such a high class as to attract the attention of the three leading teams, Marshfield, North Bend and Bandon, have declared for first-class ball and will insist on leaving the question of hired players open, each team in the league having the option of playing local men or importing players.

The movement this year has been marked by substantial business men have been chosen to finance and manage the fortunes of each city's teams. Under this system it is hoped the 1914 season will be of such success that the league can undertake Class D baseball in 1915 and thus establish the National game on a sound footing.

LIFE VALUE IS NO ISSUE

Supreme Court Holds $12,000 Verdict Justified.

SALEM, Or., April 7.—(Special.)—That the amount of damages is not confined to pecuniary loss to the beneficiary and is without limit, was the decision of the Supreme Court today. Justice Bean wrote the opinion in the case of Joseph P. McLaugherty against the Rogue River Electric Company, affirming a verdict for $12,000 damages for the plaintiff.

The plaintiff's 20-year-old son was killed by electricity.

It was alleged that the employer's liability act was violated in that the wires were not insulated; that "dead" and "live" wires were mingled; that the wires were too close to the poles, and that "live" wire supports were not properly distinguished. The defendant sought to limit the amount of damages to the young man's expectancy of life and his probable earning capacity.

Other opinions today follow: Henry Wade et al., appellants, vs. Hazel Northrup et al.; appealed from Douglas County; suit to correct deed, modified.

Gustav Strom vs. Hancock Land Company, appellant; appealed from Multnomah County; suit to determine an adverse claim to real property, affirmed.

J. L. Stotts et al., appellants, vs. William Dichel et al.; appealed from Marion County; suit to enjoin trespass on real property, reversed.

Petitions for rehearings were denied in the following cases: Smith vs. Badura, Haviland vs. John-

Miss Ruby Weyburn Dressed as a Chinese.

The experiences of "Garden Flower, the happiest girl in China," as delineated by Miss Ruby Weyburn at the Y. W. C. A. Sunday were not at all in accordance with the occidental ideas of happiness. Musical numbers by Miss Ida Chan and Miss Francis Chan, two Chinese girls, were a feature of the programme.

Garden Flower's mother died when she was a baby and she came near being sold into slavery, but made her escape from China during the Boxer uprising.

CAILLAUX IN PERIL

Accusation as Accessory to Wife Considered in Paris.

DOMESTIC WOES RELATED

Ex-Minister Says Former Wife and He Agreed to Burn Letters to Present Mme. Caillaux, but Reconciliation Brief.

PARIS, April 7.—The question whether Joseph Caillaux, ex-Minister of Finance, may be charged as an accessory of his wife in the assassination of Gaston Calmette, editor of the Figaro, is the subject of general discussion today in newspapers. The publication of the testimony of President Poincaré, indicating that Caillaux had at least influenced his wife's action, has given rise to the suggestion that he may be brought into the investigation as an accomplice.

The magistrate in charge of the preliminary inquiry, Henri Loucar, called both M. Caillaux and Louis Barthou, ex-Premier, for examination today.

Domestic Troubles Related.

M. Caillaux gave the magistrate details of his private life and mentioned his domestic difficulties. He said that while he was at amity with Mme. Gueydan, his ex-wife, a package of letters was taken from his desk. Among them were two letters he had written to the present Mme. Caillaux. M. Caillaux said he had offered to Mme. Gueydan the alternative of a divorce or a reconciliation, but on condition that the letters taken from his desk be returned to him. An agreement, however, was made to burn them, which was done in the presence of his wife, himself and his secretary.

Reconciliation Is Short-Lived.

Mme. Gueydan, said M. Caillaux, declared she had not taken photographs or copies of the letters. A reconciliation was entered, but later on he and Mme. Gueydan were divorced. Jules Herbaux, counselor of the Court of Cassation, was today appointed to succeed Victor Fabre as chief public prosecutor. M. Fabre has declined to accept the office of Advocate-General, a position subordinate to that which he held. It is thought that he had been appointed to the Court of Cassation, a post which would satisfy public opinion, which appears to object to his being made scapegoat.

REGISTRATION PICKS UP

TOTAL FOR YESTERDAY IS 525, WITH 333 FOR REPUBLICANS.

Deputy Complains That Voters of City in Surprising Numbers Are Ignorant of Their Precincts.

"Why don't people know their address when they come to register?" asked one of the registration deputies yesterday. "They come here and sign their names at Portland, giving no further detail. There are 254 precincts in Portland and it is hard for us to know just which one the voter would prefer to live in. We do our best to please all, however."

"But today we had a hard time with one man. He said he was a Republican, but expected to vote for one of the Democratic candidates, and to work for his Democratic friend. It was a hard duty for him to sign under oath that he was a Democrat."

Registration yesterday showed a slight increase, with a total of 525, as compared to 484 Monday. The Republicans lead with 333, the Democrats come next with 115, and the others trail, with the Progressives 25, Independents 22, Prohibitionists 17 and Socialists 6.

The total county registration to date follows:

Republicans	24,751	11,552	36,303
Democrats	8,721	4,521	13,242
Progressives	1,466	1,132	2,598

Wash. April 7.—(Special.)—The German Club presented with success on Saturday evening a little play, Kleptomane. The audience appreciated the dialogue. The characters were: Herr Professor, Levi Mohlschmidt (17), Rosalie Dr., Erling, Ralph Emerson (17), Spokane, Assessor Hastings, Alonzo (18), Almira, Frau Baucher, Henrietta Baker (14), Walla Walla; Lulu, Ruth Dice (16), Walla Walla; Antonio Lulu Keller (17), Almira.

Mr. Lewis has suggested the enactment of a National water law and he was empowered recently by the American Society of Civil Engineers to draft the law.

Whitman Club Play Enjoyed.

GERMAN CLUB, WALLA WALLA.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant; remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

White wispy gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.—Adv.

WATER FIGHT LOOMS

SUPPLY FOR NEW PINE CREEK CITY IS AT ISSUE.

California Law Against Diverting Water Into Another State May Opperte Against Oregon Towns.

SALEM, Or., April 7.—(Special.)—A bitter conflict between Oregon and California authorities is expected to result from a petition for water filed with State Engineer Lewis by the City Recorder of New Pine Creek, Or. All waters of Pine Creek are claimed by appropriators of California, who are said to be depriving New Pine Creek from a municipal water supply.

The town in near the boundary line, south of Lakeview, Water mains have been installed with the intention of obtaining water from across the state line. One-third of the water in Pine Creek starts in Oregon and the entire stream flows into Oregon below the confluence.

The regulating works are beyond the jurisdiction of Oregon authorities, and the adjudication proceedings may be of no value in case of arbitrary action.

As a retaliatory measure, Oregon has enacted a law authorizing the State Engineer to deny applications for the diversion of water in Oregon for use in other states, if under the laws of those states water cannot be legally diverted for use in Oregon. The great Shasta Valley project of California, which is planning to divert water from Klamath River, this state, may find it impossible to obtain a permit until California becomes more liberal toward Oregon.

Mr. Lewis has suggested the enactment of a National water law and he was empowered recently by the American Society of Civil Engineers to draft the law.
