Shearing Starts in Eastern Oregon and Bayers Anticipate Active Market-North Bank Clips Are Purchased.

Fifty thousand pounds of wool were sold at Eche Wednesday. The exact price was not learned but it is understood to be high. This wool, which is all that has been shorn at that point so far, was chiefly from

A little contracting has been done Bastern Oregon in the past few days, amounting to probably 15,000 or 20,000 fleeres, at 15 cents for choice clips. Buyers have made offers to contract in the Pendlewhich are only six or seven weeks off.
Throughout Eastern Oregon sheepmen express a determination to await the regular scaled bid sales, yet dealers believe wools will move fast after shearing starts.

A little shearing has been done at Castle Rock and at Arlington, and operations will start in the Pilot Rock country about April sold this week at points on the Columbia River in Washington, between Roosevelt and Plymouth. The prices paid ranged from 12% to 16 cents.

But little wool remains in growers' ownership in Utah or Nevada. In the latter state some shearing has been done and a few lots are on the way Kast. Buyers are offering and paying 18 cents for average grade in Idaho and the Triangle, and in a few instances half a cent better is reported.
In Montana average clips have been bought at 18 cents, white for two or three of the best clips of mediums and half-bloeds, 19 cents has been paid. Many Montana growers are holding for a 20-cent market. There has been active buying around Rawlins.
Casper and Rock Springs, Wyo. Dealers figure the wools bought there on a 52 to 55cent clean landed basis.

The wool market is undeniably strong. That the spirit is not wholly speculative is shown by the pressure of representatives of Eastern mills in the field. At least three such agents are operating in Oregon, and they are picking up every lot they can get. As one great cause of the strong market is the scarcity of spot supplies. It remains to be seen what will be the result when the Westorn clip, or a considerable part of it, is put on the market. That time, however, is two or three months disting, and in the meantime the Oregon growers will have smple opportunity to dispose of their clips on a safe and sound market. Unwillingness to Carry Commitments Over Holiday Also Causes Selling Pressure, and Last Prices Are Weak.

CHICAGO, April b.—Increasing belief that wheat had escaped damage from the freezing weather tended today to dislodge buillish control of the market. After a decided advance, prices closed weak, is $1 %c off to lic up, compared with last night. Other speculative articles all showed a net decline—affected. Besides, holders evinced a disposition to liquidate, rather than to chance uncertainties during the holiday ismerrow. Corn tumbled later in the day, influenced largedy by proof that Argentine shipments necessarily contained no weevil.

Onts weakened ahead of the other grain. Cheap cargoes obtainable from Canada burdened the markot.

More plentiful receipts of hogs at Western points carried down provisions. A raily which esqued was overcome by the effect of the declines in grain.
