

MAJOR FAVORS DAY

H. R. Albee in Sympathy With Go-to-Church Sunday.

THREE SPEAKERS ARE TOLD

Theaters, Merchants, Professional Men and Women Continue to Volunteer Assistance—Everyone Is Taking Notice.

"I am in hearty sympathy with the purposes of the 'Go-to-Church Sunday.' The city will reap a general profit in the form of better citizenship, in my judgment, if the present plan brings about a system of regular attendance for any number of people, resulting, as it will, in a better understanding of our neighbor. Certainly no harm can come to one in going, and it is my positive conviction that it will be the exact opposite. I sincerely hope that everyone who is able to do so will attend. The move is in the right direction and deserves every encouragement."

These are Mayor Albee's sentiments regarding the much-talked-of Sunday, Mrs. Frederick Egbert, president of the Portland Woman's Club, is among the enthusiastic supporters of the "Go-to-Church Sunday" movement.

The presence of some distinguished speakers in the city will attract the attention of many who will be especially interested in their addresses. Dan Crawford, an independent African missionary, commonly called "the Apostolic Successor to Livingston," will be heard in Portland at three services on Sunday.

Mr. Crawford will tell of his experiences in Africa, where he has been stationed for the past 22 years. These services will be some of the big "Go-to-Church Sunday" attractions.

Mr. Crawford is a brilliant and eloquent speaker and he has an interesting message to tell. He is known to the American people the problems of the African.

Another celebrity to appear in Portland on Sunday will be Mrs. Catherine Booth-Clibborn, who will speak at the White Temple on Sunday night. She is an evangelist of international fame.

The theaters, merchants, professional men and women continue to volunteer assistance. "Go-to-Church Sunday" is making every one take notice.

PAVING CONTRACTS LET

Street and Sidewalk Improvements Amount to $64,939.06.

Street and sidewalk improvement contracts amounting to $64,939.06 were awarded yesterday by the City Council.

The awards were made as follows: East Sixty-third street from East Glean street to East Davis street; contract awarded to G. K. Howitt for grading and sidewalks, for $2428.77; portions of Simpson street, East Thirtieth street, East Thirty-fourth street and Jessup street, as a district; contract awarded to M. Hansen for grading and sidewalks, for $706.98; Humboldt street from Denver avenue to Gay street; contract awarded to M. DOG MUZZLING TO COME UP

Majority of City Commissioners Said to Favor Ordinance.

Dog muzzling may be required in Portland after tomorrow. At the request of the City Health Officer, Commissioner DeWitt introduced an ordinance tomorrow providing muzzling all dogs in the city. It is considered certain the measure will have sufficient backing to be passed, although Mayor Albee is opposed to it.

The question was up for consideration yesterday and the attitude of State Health Officer White in regard to furnishing treatment to persons bitten by rabid dogs was attacked by Commissioner Bigelow. The City Health Officer said Dr. White had announced no serum would be furnished city patients unless the city enforces the dog muzzling ordinance.

Mayor Albee says his opposition is based on the fact that it has been impossible up to this time to get a satisfactory muzzle and the fact that Dr. White has said the state would furnish no serum unless the city passed the muzzling ordinance. He says he considers this a threat which Dr. White cannot enforce.
