"Right Posture" Health Suits

Specially Designed to Guard Your
Boy Against Round Shoulders

NOTICE the little patented device in the back of the coat, which, while only a reminder, is none the less the key to full-chested, straight shouldered manhood. "Right Posture" Suits are designed in a series of specially constructed models and are shown in a variety of attractive fabrics and patterns. Note the clipping below, taken from Portland papers, showing the widespread attention being given to the health of growing boys.

Health Is Happiness!

Shoulders back and chest extended is the "Right-Posture" message to every boy. Give your boy a chance to breathe freely in the clean fresh air. "Right-Posture" Clothes will help wonderfully to cure the stoop-shoulder effect so common among the American boys of today.

Physically-shaped Coats and Corset
Structural seats, Chairs and Desk-Posture League's Hope.

NEW YORK April 1—(Special)—The American Posture League, an organization to prevent round shoulders and other spinal deformities, was incorporated today at Albany. It will be national in its work.

The league's chief is already assisting the procedure of the United States Navy in selecting the kind of seats and chairs to be used in its new submarines and it is in touch with labor associations, motormen, shipbuilders and factory workers, to whom it issues bulletins illustrating correct and incorrect attitudes for work and rest.

One's clothes are an important cause of bad posture, says the league, which will work to secure physically shaped coats and suits as well as a properly constructed chair and desk.

"A child cannot achieve proper chest development," says a bulletin issued today, "while the shape of his school seat and his desk table are poor. Round shoulders are to be expected on a child whose sitting is supported without proper regard for the anatomy and mechanics of the shoulder."

The league was founded by Mrs. Jessie H. Barcroft, assistant director of physical training in the city schools.
