FANS HOPE FOR BEST NOW

Fact That Indian Takes Kindly to Advice and Is Well Liked by His Brother Players, Leads to Belief He'll "Land."

BY ROSCOE FAWCETT.

Kismet, that golden-guided hand o fate, is now bestirring itself in the case of James Thorpe, famous Indian athlete, and, as a result, the baseball world will show more than passing in terest in the box scores of the Toronto team of the International League. Thorpe, it may be explained, has been turned over to Toronto by the New York Giants, after year on the bench. Fans are interested in Thorpe be-cause of his achievements in other lines of ath-letic endeavor and also because of Me-Graw's efforts to mold him into a mold him into a baseball star. They are more than ever concerned now be-cause Muggsy Mc-Graw says the manager is risking his reputation on the aborgine. Hence, it is not improbpened at the same time. the aborgine. Hence, it is not improbable that New York still holds a string on Thorpe and will yank him back, mannikin-like, in the Fali harvest. So there is that added stimulant.

When McGraw signed Thorpe one year ago, the Indian had not played capon with a bush town team and the same time.

Lodolce said be was a ranchman and chased cows in Oklahoma. He had and chased cows in Oklahoma. He had a picture taken at a "make-you-anything" photograph gallery, which will be proved it. Gorgo was just a plain Chicagoan and didn't have half a chance.

when McGraw signed Thorpe one year ago, the Indian had not played ball except with a bush town team and then only long enough to have his amateur medals swept away from the discovery thereof.

He sat all last season on the Giant bench, nor did he shine when given an occasional turn in the outfield. Portland fans who watched him in the game here November 17, on the aforement of the same here November 17, on the aforement of the same here November 18, on the aforement of the same here November 18, on the aforement of the same here November 18, on the aforement of the same here November 18, on the aforement of the same here November 18, on the aforement of the same here November 18, on the aforement of the same here November 18, on the same here november 18, or the same here nov looked hopeless.

But, there's that

Graw's.

"He' had a chance to work in big games and before big crowds," remarked McGraw recently, "and it did him a lot of good. He fielded well, hit well, and ran the bases like a streak. I predict that he will develop into the baserunner the game has ever is predict that he will develop into the looked at the note again. Then he looked at the note again. Then he looked at the note again. Then he looked at the note again. A neighbor rushed in with a St. Louis newspaper. There was a brief account of the wedding, saying in part:

that he takes kindly to advice and is well liked by his brother players.

"Thorpe is not muscle-bound. He is a limbed marvel of stream! The stream of the wedding, saying in part;

"Miss Lulu DeBett, from Chicago, and Charles Lodolce, a millionaire stove dealer from Brooklyn, N. Y., were married." imbed marvel of strength and quickness, and with the natural adaptabil-ity that made him the greatest all-around track and field athlete, workring 24 hours per day in his favor, Thorpe may, with a season's hard labor at Toronto, round to as a real major league ball star.

Many are the arguinents propound-ed favoring McCoy's right to the middle crown. We, however, are inclined

Chip's claim is founded on his two
