WITNESSES FREE; WILL NOT BE PAID

Judges Sitting En Banc Decide Physical Confinement Meant by Act.

PALMER CASE MADE TEST

Justices Davis and Kavanaugh Dissent as to Discretionary Powers, Holding Court Has Parole Right as Well as Sheriff.

Five of the Circuit Court Judges, sitting en banc, refused yesterday morning to mandamus County Clerk Cof-fey to pay Mrs. Alice Palmer $79.50 for detention as a witness in a criminal case from January 2 to March 3, as sought by District Attorney Evans. Payment of the money to Mrs. Palmer, mother of Rex Palmer, the "September Morn" baby, was refused because Mrs. Palmer was not kept in physical confinement, but paroled out to Mrs. Margaret Thoromer.

garet Thoroman.

Though the decision of the judges was unanimous in denying the relief asked for by the District Attorney, the judges divided, three to two, in interpreting the law. Judges Morrow, Cleeton and Gatens held that all witnesses needed by the state in criminal cases who are unable to give bond for their appearance must be remanded to the Sheriff. Judges Davis and Kavanaugh dissented, announcing it to be their appearance must be remanded to the Sheriff. Judges Davis and Kavanaugh dissented, announcing it to be their opinion that the trial judge, acting within his discretionary power, may parole a necessary witness to any person they may see fit, when for reasons of humanity it is not desirable to detain the witness in jail.

Another of the 1313 session laws was up for judicial review in the mandamus proceedings. The last Legislature passed a statute providing that all witnesses held in jail, or "otherwise detained" for their appearance in criminal cases, when unable to furnish bond, shall be paid $1.50 a day as long as they are held.

Mr. Coffey, represented by Attorneys Fulton and Bowerman, urged that the law means physical detention, and in the case of Mrs. Palmer, where she was paroled to Mrs. Thoroman and allowed paroled to Mrs. Thoroman and allowed to go at will, the act does not apply. Mr. Evans' contention was that any necessary witness, whose imprisonment was undesirable from a humane stand-point, could be paroled to any respon-sible person and be eligible for the fee provided by statute sible person and be eligible for the fee provided by statute.

"The statute clearly means physical restraint," Judge Morrow said in announcing the majority opinion. "This means, as provided by another statute that was not repealed by the 1913 enactment, that the witness must be remanded to the Sheriff. If it is undesirable to hold the witness in the jail, associated with other prisoners, it is within the discretion of the Sheriff to confine them in some institute where within the discretion of the Sheriff to confine them in some institute where conditions are more favorable. But under the former statute this discretion lies with the Sheriff, exclusively. "We are agreed further that under the present record, on which this case is submitted to us, the mandamus sought shall not issue, and the demurrant to the nettion is sustained but we rer to the petition is sustained, but we give leave to the District Attorney to amend his petition by correcting the Portland, Or. April 22 .- To the Editor.)—Replying to your favor of the 16th inst., will say in answer to questions propounded, viz:

1. What reforms in legislation do you advocate that will tend to bring about reduced taxation and economy

Would recommend the most rigid economy in all appropriations, and the pruning of departmental budgets to the lowest possible limit. Legislative extravagance must be checked, but this will rest largely with the character of men chosen at Representatives.

2. What state commissions are you in favor of abolishing? I am unprepared to make any specific recommedations as to the abolish-ment or consolidation of commissions. This is a very large question and in ment or consolidation of commissions.

This is a very large question and in the interest of good government should receive the most careful consideration and thorough investigation as to the merits and needs of the various commissions before radical action is taken. Some of the commissions cost the state very little and others are self-sustaining. There is no doubt that many can either be abolished or consolidated in the interest of economy and without impairing governmental efficiency. 3. What state commissions are you in favor of consolidating?

The answer to question 2 is submitted for this. 4. Are you in favor of retaining or abolishing the State Tax Commission?

I favor whichever is the more eco-nomical, either to abolish the Commission and the employment of an expert upon assessment and taxation under the State Board of Control or the re-tention of the present Commission. 5. How should taxes be paid, annual-, semi-annually or quarterly? Taxes should be paid semi-annually without penalty.

6. Are you in favor of the state issuing bonds for good roads? What are your ideas as to state aid for good Each county should construct its own roads, but roads in which the stats at large is more or less interested, such as the Columbia and Pacific Highways, should be constructed by state aid.

7. Are you in favor of the state issuing bonds or appropriating money for reclaiming arid lands within the I do not favor the state appropriating money for reclaiming arid lands and thus increase the burden of taxation. I do favor, however, the state loaning its credit for reclaiming arid lands, pro-vided the state is absolutely guaranteed against loss. 8. What are your ideas as to state aid for reclaiming r 'd lands? I favor, whenever feasible, state and tion of arid land. Also favor giving the settler, if he so desires, long time in the payment of his obligation. Perhaps a modified form of the European amortization plan of payment would be desirable. The state, by loaning its credit, could secure funds at a very low rate of interest and this, of course, would inure to the financial benefit of the settler. JAMES WITHYCOMBE.

Why Suffer From Migraine or Sick Head ache? USE ANTI-KAMNIA TABLETS

Dr. J. J. Caldwell says that this exceedingly distressing disease does not shorten life, but does not appear to be curable. Bufferers from this affliction are condemned to undergo the periodical attacks every few weeks until they are forty years of age, after which the attacks are less frequent, and dnally disappear entirely. Palliative measures during the attack are all that it is possible to suggest, while care in the diet is the best preventive measure. An attack may often be prevented by taking two Anti-kamnia Tablets when the first symptoms appear, and one Anti-kamnia Tablet every two hours during the attack shortens it, eases the pain and brings rest and quiet. Anti-kamniaTablets may be obtained at all druggists. Ask for A-K Tablets. They quickly relieve all Pain.
