HANSALL GETS 60 DAYS

MAN CONVICTED ON CHARGE OF SENDING OBSCENE LETTERS.

Freewater Rancher, Arrested in December, Confesses, Denies It, Pleads Not Guilty, and Makes Plea of Guilty.

A signed confession, a repudiation thereof, a plea of not guilty and the changing of the plea to guilty were the successive steps leading up to a sentence of 60 days in the County Jail for G. W. Hansall, of Freewater, Or. The sentence was imposed in United States District Court Wednesday, the charge being that of sending objectionable matter through the mails. Hansall was arrested last December. He wrote a confession January 4, but at a preliminary hearing two months ago entered a plea of not guilty. Held in the jail at Pendleton, he conducted a revival meeting, and it is said, "converted" six of his fellow prisoners. When he left Pendleton a few days ago to come to Portland for trial it was announced that he would fight his case by using insanity as a defense. He was examined by physicians here who pronounced him sane. Just before his case was called he decided to plead guilty. Hansall, signing himself "Andrew Jackson," is alleged to have written three letters, one each to a girl and widow at Freewater, and another to a woman at Pendleton. All of the letters were turned over to the postal authorities because of their alleged obscene character. Hansall has a fruit ranch at Freewater.

MORE PRODUCE PROMISED

Farmers Pledge Themselves to Attend Albina Market.

The Albina Business Men's Club is making a determined effort to induce farmers in the vicinity of Portland and in Clarke County, Wash., to bring their produce to the Albina market, on Knott street, Saturday morning. The market will be opened then from 8 to 11 o'clock. The few farmers who came Wednesday agreed to come again Saturday and bring bigger loads.

Wednesday a delegation in an automobile made a trip through Eastern Multnomah County in the vicinity of Gresham, and procured promises of farmers to bring in produce, butter and eggs. Yesterday A. R. Zeller and T. L. Adams made long trips through Clarke County, Wash., and visited many small farmers and urged them to come to the Albina market Saturday. Today other trips will be made through the farming districts.

UNION WIDENING FAVORED

Committee Appointed to Obtain Estimate of Cost and Plans.

At a meeting of Union avenue property owners, held Tuesday night in the Albina Library, Knott street, D. W. Ward, O. E. Heintz, John Dick, John H. Hall, Bruce Curry, J. R. Widmer, L. M. Lopper and F. Beler were appointed to secure estimates of cost and plan of assessment for the proposed widening of Union avenue. The committee was instructed to ask the City Engineer to give the estimates of probable cost. W. F. Olds, whose home is on Union avenue, spoke against the widening as inopportune, as Union avenue is wide enough for years to come. He suggested that Grand avenue be opened north from Hancock. John H. Hall, speaking for the widening, declared it was destined to be one of the great highways of Portland. L. T. Peery thought it would cost a great deal of money. Some speakers suggested widening now, but leaving present buildings until traffic warranted their removal. A majority vote favored widening. The attendance was small.

CHILDREN TO KEEP DAY

CROWNING OF QUEENS AND MAY POLE DANCES ARRANGED.

Celebration at Central Library to Be Like Real Fairland—Other Affairs to Take Place at Schools.

Children in various parts of the city today will celebrate May day with May-pole dances and the crowning of May queens and with many elaborate festivities. In the Central Library this afternoon all the traditional observances will mark the occasion as one of the red-letter days of the year. Children from the Almsworth and the Davis schools have gathered wild flowers to decorate the hall and have transformed the rooms into fairyland. At 4 o'clock the little ones will assemble in the children's room for the May-pole dance, in which Fernwood school children will participate. In library hall the programme will be presented. Miss H. B. Marshall, author of many delightful books, will tell the story of Robin Hood and his archers gay. The May queen will appear and the tiny guests will be the fairies of the forest. Ladd school children will assist in the entertaining. If the plans are carried out it will all be like a wonderful story in which the audience gets into the make-believe world and happiness and youth reign supreme.

At Mount Taber school the teachers and Principal Miller have planned a spectacular pageant. In the sunken playground there will be a May day procession. The queen and all her attendants, robed in white and carrying garlands, will lead the march. Field sports and games will be enjoyed. Vaulting and sack races will create merriment. In booths decked in flowers and bunting will be found ice cream and cakes. The hours set are from 1 to 3 o'clock. The unique arrangement of the playground and the careful planning of those in charge will make this one of the distinctive May day observances.

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Portsmouth school has planned a May day festival, which will take place this afternoon on the campus of the school. A pretty feature will be a doll buggy parade in which the little girls will take part. Alice Young, the May queen, will be attended by 20 pretty girls of the graduating class and six of the smallest kiddies of the primary department will be flower girls. At several booths the women of the association will preside and will sell candies and ices for the benefit of the organization's work. Admission to all these entertainments will be free.

LICENSE ORDINANCE DRAWN

Gasoline Filling Stations and Oil Tanks on Streets May Be Taxed.

Licensing of gasoline filling stations, fuel oil storage tanks and other arrangements of a similar nature occupying parts of sidewalks or streets will be made a part of the city's licensing system if the City Council adopts an ordinance prepared by Commissioner Bigelow, which will be before the Council this morning. At present these filling and storage tanks are allowed to occupy the streets and sidewalks under revocable permit granted by the Council. No license has been charged up to this time. Commissioner Bigelow proposes to make the license $12 a year, the amount to be paid in semi-annual installments.

MORE CLAIMANTS HEARD

Contest for Winters' Estate Expected to End Next Week.

Two groups of claimants to the estate of Henry D. Winters were heard at the exchequer trial yesterday and attorneys agreed that they probably would be able to conclude the case by the end of next week. Attorneys Clark & Clark were presenting their case when court adjourned at night. When they have finished there will be only four other groups to be heard.

At the conclusion of the case of the clients of Attorneys Lionel Webster and A. V. Mendenhall, of Oakland, who represent seven litigants claiming through Lewis Cline Winters, Attorneys Angell & Fisher, representing 19 claimants, were heard. These clients are nephews and nieces and grandnephews and grandnieces of a Henry D. Winters, the youngest of seven children of Eliza Winters, who died at Aurora, N. Y., in 1858.

Clackamas Expects 12,500 Voters.

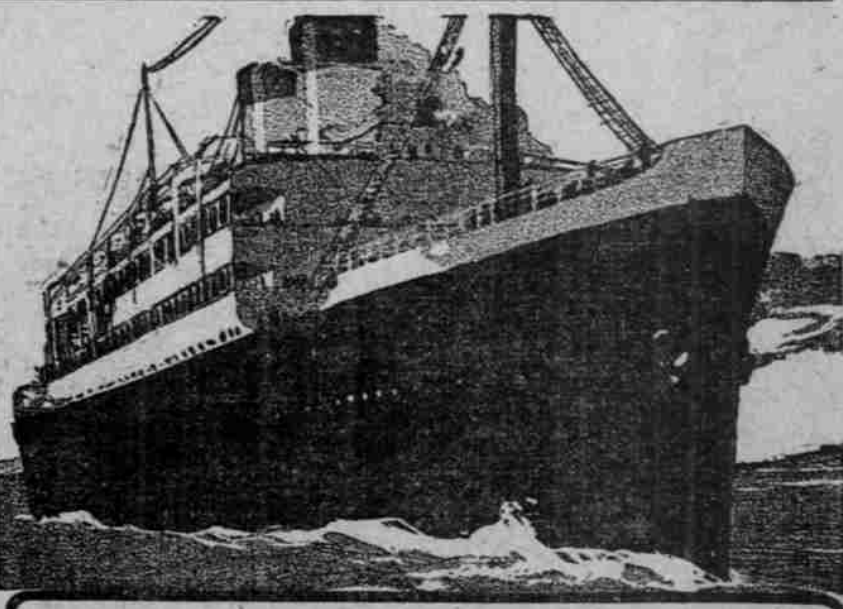

OREGON CITY, Or., April 30.—(Special.)—Although the registration books in Oregon City will be open until 5 P. M. tomorrow and many of the country precincts will not be heard from until Saturday, indications are that Clackamas County will have in the neighborhood of 12,500 registered voters this year. There are about 14,000 persons entitled to register.

Sweden is on the verge of National prohibition of alcoholic beverages and tobacco.
