

CONSULATE MINED
TORN BY AMERICANS

Refugees From Guadalajara Arrive Home With Thrilling Story of Dangers.

FLAG BURNED IN STREET

Threats of Wholesale Assassination Made When Vessel Supposed to Be United States Warship Appears on Horizon.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., May 1.—Driven from their homes and interests by a bitter anti-American outbreak, the result of the landing of marines at Vera Cruz, 259 refugees from Mexico reached here today on the German steamer Marie, Captain Julius Davidson, which left the Mexican port of Manzanillo April 25. The majority of the refugees are from Guadalajara, the second city of Mexico, and the remainder are from others coming from Colima and Manzanillo.
There are 127 men, 80 women and 72 children.

The feeling against Americans was so intense that the majority of the refugees from Guadalajara and Colima were forced to seek the protection of the British consular officers in those cities, and received shelter in the British consulates. Anti-American demonstrations were held at frequent intervals, the Mexican press was given to the most alarming reports and editorials, the vilest insults were hurled at Americans and threats and threats of wholesale assassination were made.

Governor Makes Exciting Speech.
Antonio del Gadillo, Governor of the State of Colima, concluded a speech addressing Mexican officials in those cities, with the exclamation: "Mueran los gringos." (Death to the Americans.)

In Guadalajara H. L. Percy, a Los Angeles mining man, entering a store there to make purchases, was chased out of an establishment by the Mexican proprietor. In the street the Mexican yelled: "Mexicans, here is Yankee, kill him."

A mob took after Percy and he was forced to run for his life, finally gaining the hotel, where 100 other Americans were waiting to take the train for Manzanillo.

While refugees from Guadalajara were at the wharf waiting to get their baggage off, a vessel thought to be an American warship, but which was excitedly reported, and a Mexican wearing a Red Cross badge rushed into the American consulate, tore from the walls two large flags, one American and one Mexican, and carried them into the street, where Mexicans tore them into strips, spit upon them, stamped on them and then set fire to them. As they were being a Mexican flag was waved over them.

Refugees' Trains Stoned.
The wharf was cleared preparatory to blowing it up with dynamite, and the American warship was ordered to the consulate. Cries of "Viva Mexico" and "Mueran los gringos" were constant, and the Mexicans were in possession were confiscated. The trains were repeatedly stoned.

The American refugees believed that a transport or other vessel, sent by the American Government, would meet them at Manzanillo. They found that absolutely no provision had been made for them from the country had been made.

German Captain Prompt to Aid.
The German steamer Marie, a 10,000-ton boat under charter to a Chinese company for transportation of Chinese coal, and having 252 Chinese on board, was the only foreign vessel in the harbor. Captain Davidson unhesitatingly placed his ship at the disposal of the Americans, who informed that their lives were in danger, exacting no agreement as to payment for services.

The Colima and Manzanillo refugees went aboard the steamer on April 23, and the Guadalajara refugees on April 24 and 25. On orders from the German Consul at Colima, they were informed by the Mexican authorities that no more trains would be run to Manzanillo.
Captain Davidson left port April 25.

About 85 Americans, many of them at mining camps, remained in the Guadalajara-Manzanillo consular districts when the others left. Twenty were at the camp of the Cinco Minas Company, an enterprise headed by J.
W. Gerard, United States Ambassador to Germany.

There were Americans at the Ambaro, El Favor, Casados, Mololoa, Espada and Mirador mining camps, all run and controlled by American companies. When the refugees left Manzanillo that port was being evacuated and tunnels and bridges on the railroad line to Manzanillo had been mined preparatory to destroying them in the event of invasion.

Confiscation of Mines Rumored.
It was reported when the Americans were leaving that the Mexican government would confiscate all gold and silver mines and work them for themselves.

The refugees compose most of the important business men of Western Mexico, who were forced to close their places of business or turn them over to Mexican employees. Before the Americans left, the confiscation of their personal property by police and military authorities was begun.

When the anti-American outbreak occurred, Governor Del Gadillo, of Colima, announced that no Americans would be allowed to leave that state and that all would be sent into the interior as hostages. It required the combined efforts of the British, German and French Consuls there to obtain permission for the Americans to depart, and Del Gadillo then issued an order that all must be out of the state within 48 hours from noon of April 22.

Among the refugees who arrived on the Marie were the following from the Pacific Northwest: Alfred R. Downs, Seattle; W. H. Martin, Portland; O.
Frank H. Ferris, Tacoma, Wash.; M.
M. Mincham, Seattle.

CONGRESS SLOW IN
SUPPORT OF WILSON

Administration's Capacity to Handle Delicate Situation
Seriously Doubted.

BRYAN AND GARRISON OUT
Secretary of State and Navy Finally Beaten in Efforts to Prevent Preparation of Army for Eventualities.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, May 1.—Congress, in supporting President Wilson, in supporting the Mexican situation, has done so reluctantly and without enthusiasm.

This has been noticeable from the beginning, and the relations today between Congress and the President are different from the relations between Congress and another President at the outbreak of the Spanish war.

Lack of confidence in the judgment of the Administration and in its ability to handle a delicate and at the same time serious situation is the primary cause of ill-concealed distrust that prevails among Senators and Representatives, and the continued influence which Secretary Bryan exerts at the White House is the next most important reason for concern among men, regardless of party, in both branches of Congress.

Address Lacks Candor.
From the first, President Wilson has steadfastly refused to take Congress into his confidence. His address on the Mexican situation was remarkable for its lack of frankness and lack of information. Subsequently, he has refused to inform Congress of the true situation in Mexico, and the information on which Congress has been compelled to act has been altogether the information gathered from newspaper sources. That fact was frequently mentioned in the Senate debate on the "justification" resolution, and indirectly the President has been roundly criticized for his lack of frankness by the very men on whom he relied for support.

The confidence of Congress in the Administration has not been strengthened by the apparent breach that exists in the Cabinet, nor by the fact that healed or concealed by the direct denials uttered at the White House.
There is friction in the Cabinet—serious friction between the Secretary of War Garrison and Secretary of State Bryan. Backing the Secretary of State is Secretary Daniels of the Navy, commander of the forces at sea, and a staunch Bryan partisan at all times.

Army at First Ignored.
In Washington it is well understood that Secretary Bryan and Secretary Daniels proceeded on the belief that the Mexican situation could be handled by the State Department, backed up by a naval display, without the assistance of the Army. Secretary Garrison, backed by General Leonard Wood, the leading military authority in this country, saw from the beginning that the Army must play an important part, probably the most important part, in bringing order out of chaos in Mexico, once a decided stand was taken by the United States.

The open rupture between Secretary Bryan and Secretary Garrison came several days after the American occupation of Vera Cruz. Consignment after consignment was crossing the border every day. Secretary Garrison realized that every rifle shipped to Mexico from the United States might in time be turned on Americans, and urged the President to stop shipments across the line. The President had already concluded to act on the advice when Secretary Bryan, flushed by his favorable declarations of the day, rushed to the White House and had the order withheld. Again, Secretary Garrison urged the embargo, and again Secretary Bryan prevented. The situation became critical, and an American general in Texas, presumptively on orders from Secretary Garrison, restored the embargo, and it has since been operative.

The open rupture between Secretary
Bryan and Secretary Garrison came
several days after the American occupation of Vera Cruz. Consignment
after consignment was crossing the
border every day. Secretary Garrison realized that every rifle shipped to Mexico from the United States might
in time be turned on Americans, and
urged the President to stop shipments
across the line. The President had
already concluded to act on the advice
when Secretary Bryan, flushed by his
favorable declarations of the day, rushed
to the White House and had the order
withheld. Again, Secretary Garrison urged the embargo, and again Secretary Bryan prevented. The
situation became critical, and an American general in Texas, presumptively on orders from Secretary Garrison, restored the embargo, and it has since been operative.

Governor Ammons declared that one of the chief reasons for calling the special session of the Legislature was to insure the payment of the mil-lita for past service and measure to meet this expense would be pushed when the assembly convenes May 4.

Approximately 275 men of the Northern Colorado district.
Governor Ammons declared that one
of the chief reasons for calling the
special session of the Legislature was
to insure the payment of the mil-
lita for past service and measure to
meet this expense would be pushed
when the assembly convenes May 4.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—Alum baking powders are no more harmful to the health of a person than any other baking powders, but it is wise to moderate in the use of foods that are leavened with baking powder. Such is the conclusion announced today by the reference board of consulting scientific experts of the Department of Agriculture as the result of experiments to determine the influence of alum compounds on the nutrition and health of man.

The report gives the results of three sets of extensive experiments on human beings, and was signed by Men-sen, president of Johns Hopkins University, chairman; Russell H. Chittenden, professor of physiology, and professor of chemistry in Western University; A. E. Taylor, professor of physiological chemistry in the University of Pennsylvania, and Theobald Smith, professor of comparative pathology in Harvard.

In the experiments tests were made in each case on healthy young men by including alum in some form in their food.

LEO FRANK MAKES PLEA
Man Awaiting Death for Killing Girl
Seeks Public Vindication.
ATLANTA, Ga., May 1.—Declaring popular clamor alone responsible for his conviction, Leo Frank, under death sentence for the murder of Mary Phagan, issued Thursday a second statement appealing for vindication in the eyes of the general public. A motion for a new trial is pending.

In a detailed analysis of testimony at his trial, Frank attempts to show that the story of James Conley, neg-gatory sweeper, who testified that the defendant had attacked and then killed the girl, was contradicted in various parts by eight white women witnesses.

Apply at the nearest American or National Express office, or at your own bank.

Apply at the nearest American or National
Express office, or at
your own bank.

CONGRESS SLOW IN
SUPPORT OF WILSON

Administration's Capacity to Handle Delicate Situation
Seriously Doubted.

BRYAN AND GARRISON OUT

Secretary of State and Navy Finally
Beaten in Efforts to Prevent
Preparation of Army for Eventualities.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, May 1.—Congress, in supporting President Wilson, in supporting the Mexican situation, has done so
reluctantly and without enthusiasm.

This has been noticeable from the beginning, and the relations today between Congress and the President are
different from the relations between Congress and another President at the outbreak of the Spanish war.

Lack of confidence in the judgment
of the Administration and in its ability
to handle a delicate and at the same
time serious situation is the primary
cause of ill-concealed distrust that
prevails among Senators and Representatives, and the continued influence
which Secretary Bryan exerts at the White House is the next most important reason for concern among men,
regardless of party, in both branches
of Congress.

Address Lacks Candor.
From the first, President Wilson has
steadfastly refused to take Congress
into his confidence. His address on
the Mexican situation was remarkable
for its lack of frankness and lack of information. Subsequently, he has refused to inform Congress of the true
situation in Mexico, and the information on which Congress has been
compelled to act has been altogether the information gathered from
newspaper sources. That fact was frequently mentioned in the Senate debate
on the "justification" resolution, and
indirectly the President has been
roundly criticized for his lack of frankness by the very men on whom he
relied for support.

The confidence of Congress in the Administration has not been strengthened by the apparent breach that exists
in the Cabinet, nor by the fact that
healed or concealed by the direct
denials uttered at the White House.
There is friction in the Cabinet—serious friction between the Secretary
of War Garrison and Secretary of State
Bryan. Backing the Secretary of State
is Secretary Daniels of the Navy, commander of the forces at sea, and a staunch Bryan partisan at all times.

Army at First Ignored.
In Washington it is well understood
that Secretary Bryan and Secretary Daniels proceeded on the belief that
the Mexican situation could be handled
by the State Department, backed up by
a naval display, without the assistance
of the Army. Secretary Garrison, backed by General Leonard Wood, the
leading military authority in this country, saw from the beginning that the Army must play an important part,
probably the most important part, in
bringing order out of chaos in Mexico,
once a decided stand was taken by the United States.

The open rupture between Secretary
Bryan and Secretary Garrison came
several days after the American occupation of Vera Cruz. Consignment
after consignment was crossing the
border every day. Secretary Garrison realized that every rifle shipped to Mexico from the United States might
in time be turned on Americans, and
urged the President to stop shipments
across the line. The President had
already concluded to act on the advice
when Secretary Bryan, flushed by his
favorable declarations of the day, rushed
to the White House and had the order
withheld. Again, Secretary Garrison urged the embargo, and again Secretary Bryan prevented. The
situation became critical, and an American general in Texas, presumptively on orders from Secretary Garrison, restored the embargo, and it has since been operative.

Governor Ammons declared that one
of the chief reasons for calling the
special session of the Legislature was
to insure the payment of the mil-
lita for past service and measure to
meet this expense would be pushed
when the assembly convenes May 4.

Approximately 275 men of the Northern Colorado district.
Governor Ammons declared that one
of the chief reasons for calling the
special session of the Legislature was
to insure the payment of the mil-
lita for past service and measure to
meet this expense would be pushed
when the assembly convenes May 4.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—Alum baking
powders are no more harmful to the health of a person than any other baking powders, but it is wise to moderate in the use of foods that are leavened with baking powder. Such is the conclusion announced today by the reference board of consulting scientific experts of the Department of Agriculture
as the result of experiments to deter-
mine the influence of alum compounds
on the nutrition and health of man.

The report gives the results of three
sets of extensive experiments on human beings, and was signed by Men-
sen, president of Johns Hopkins University, chairman; Russell H. Chittenden, professor of physiology, and professor of chemistry in Western University;
A. E. Taylor, professor of physiological
chemistry in the University of Pennsylvania, and Theobald Smith, professor of comparative pathology in Harvard.

In the experiments tests were made
in each case on healthy young men by
including alum in some form in their food.

LEO FRANK MAKES PLEA
Man Awaiting Death for Killing Girl
Seeks Public Vindication.
ATLANTA, Ga., May 1.—Declaring
popular clamor alone responsible for
his conviction, Leo Frank, under
death sentence for the murder of Mary Phagan, issued Thursday a second
statement appealing for vindication in
the eyes of the general public. A motion for a new trial is pending.

In a detailed analysis of testimony
at his trial, Frank attempts to show that the story of James Conley, neg-
gatory sweeper, who testified that the defendant had attacked and then killed
the girl, was contradicted in various parts by eight white women witnesses.

Apply at the nearest
American or National
Express office, or at
your own bank.

Free Classes
—In Crocheting, Embroidery, Knitting and Tatting, every day and all day. Fifth Floor.

25 Per Cent Reduction on All Picture Framing to Order. Sixth Floor.

Pictorial Review, Fashion Book and Patterns for June
Now on Sale. Second Floor.

Modart Front Lace Corset.
—The best front lace model made. All styles suitable for all figures. Fourth Floor.

BOYS
New Sack and Norfolk Suits With One and Two Pairs of Pants Selling Regularly to $8.00

Special $4.49
In Sizes From 5 to 18 Years

—Our boys' clothing shop has become known as the one store in Portland that embodies various features in boys' suits that the BOYS WANT, like and should have.

—Our boys' suits come from the foremost manufacturer of boys' clothing in America who make suits that are retailed in the most exclusive New York Fifth avenue specialty houses.

—These suits have the correct dash and swing and are made from the best wool materials, embodying fine workmanship and built on excellent fitting lines.

—Such popular styles as the regulation Norfolk, Fancy Norfolk and Sack Suits.

—Made of fancy mixtures and stripes, corduroys and navy blue serges. The mixtures come in light and dark browns, tans, grays, blues, blue and white stripes, diagonals, herringbones. Many of these suits have two pairs of pants lined with best quality linings.

Boys' $1.25 Soisette Pajamas Special 95c —Plain soisette pajamas, in white, pink, light blue and tan.
Made with the Japanese neck, collarless and trimmed with silk frogs. Sizes from 4 to 14 years.

Boys' Blouses and Shirts Special 44c and 89c —Our complete stock of boys' fine blouses and shirts in the newest materials are included in this sale. Made of chambray, percale, sateen, madras, crepes and soisettes. In plain colors and fancy stripes—soft or laundered styles. Made with attached or detached collars—French and plain cuffs. Blouses in sizes from 6 to 14. Shirts, sizes 12½ to 14.

Saturday We Open Our Boys' Straw Hat Dept.
SELLING ALL HATS ON THIS OCCASION AT SPECIAL PRICES
Special 59c, 89c, $1.22, $1.58, to $5.39 —New Rah-Rah hats, regulation sailor hats, high crown hats, Tyrolean hats, and straw hats for the wee baby boys.

—In white, black, navy blue, burnt and fancy combination straws and panamas. Self band trimmings or with navy, black and brown bands. Some plain, others with bound edges. All sizes from 2 to 14 years.

Exceptional Untrim'd Black Lazarre Hats $1.45 Instead of $3, $3.45 and $4 —Lazarre Hats with the "stove polish" finish are quite the smartest thing you can wear this season.

—Most every style in vogue can be found in these new Lazarre untrimmed hats, which require but very little trimming to complete them.

—The Bandeau Sailor, the Pompadour Hat, the Watteau Hat, the Scoop, the Turban effects are all shown here at this most remarkable price.

Our Original $10-$12 Trim'd Hats $4.95 —These hats were designed and trimmed by our best millinery artists. They reflect in every detail the latest Parisienne ideas.

—There are modified Watteau hats full of Spring flowers; these are the kind that almost every woman can wear becomingly.

—But there is every sort of hat that a woman will want to wear with her Spring and Summer costumes. Second Floor.

—But there is every sort of hat that a woman will want to wear with her Spring and Summer costumes. Second Floor.

Many
New Models
Shown
Our
Sp'cialty
$1.50
Blouses
—Boxes and boxes of new blouses are opened—our $1.50 specialty styles that have been received with such favor.
—Blouses with the new style notes. Practical and easily laundered.
—Of white voiles, batiste, linen, lingerie and crepe, and all-over embroidery—in dozens of models, each one showing some late French style touch as to collar and sleeves.
—Drop sleeves, kimono sleeves, yokes and without yokes, frilly vestee effects, surplice collars, low frilly collars.
—Third Floor

A Special Purchase of New Dresses
For Children From 6 to 14 Years MAKES POSSIBLE THIS SALE OF WASH FROCKS That Would Sell Regularly at $1.75 Saturday Sale $1.29
MADE OF TAN CRASH
STRIPED AND CHECKED GINGHAMS

In Waisted and Straight Styles —Some have round necks and turndown collars, others with square necks buttoning on the shoulders or with sailor collars. The tan crash frocks are trimmed with plaid collars, cuffs, belt and tie. The gingham frocks with plain chambray and embroidery edges and pipings.

Children's Dress and Parasol Set at $1.79 —These are charming novelty sets for little girls from 6 to 14 years. In pink, tan and blue chambray—the dresses are in two styles, and the parasols match. Fourth Floor.

Lipman Wolfe & Co.
"Merchandise of Merit Only"

The Smartest Pumps
For Spring and Summer Show Combination Fabrics
—If you wish to be smartly dressed this season you must number at least one pair of combination pumps in your wardrobe.

—Today we are showing the very smartest and latest ideas in women's and misses' Colonial pumps—they have black patent leather fore parts and show the back and heel of faun-colored suede, or the black brocade fabric. They have the new Colonial buckle and tongue. Six-fifty and Seven Dollars a pair.
Basement.

The Tango Sash
In Combination Colors,
Made of Satin Ribbons,
Special $1.50
—Have you seen the new tango sash? It is an extremely clever novelty that is particularly suitable for wearing with Summer frocks and separate skirts.

—Made in two-tone effects, such as black with royal blue, Argentine, tango, green, coral, cardinal, yellow, rose, purple or Alice blue. First Floor.

New Models
Smart Set Corset
—The softest materials are used in these new corsets, to insure the new uncorseted effect. They cling to your figure with just the right amount of restraint to emphasize the most youthful natural lines.

—Everywhere Smart Set wearers are distinguished for their grace and smartness.

—This is because every one of the different Smart Set models is absolutely up to date in cut and construction—in accordance with information from fashion authorities in Paris—received months ahead of the arrival of the gowns which display the actual new style itself.

—Keep your figure up to date by wearing that Smart Set model designed to give the greatest amount of youthful grace to your particular figure. Fourth Floor

1c
One Cent
Has a Tremendous Purchasing
Power

Last Day of Our One-Cent Sale Of Drugs and Toilet Articles —You PAY ONE CENT MORE than is the first price on any article, and you get two. No matter what the original price is, the second purchase costs JUST ONE CENT. As an example—25c Sanitol Tooth Powder, special 35c Witch Hazel Lotion, special 2 for 26c.
10c bottle Peroxide, special 2 for 11c. 10c Palmolive Soap, special 2 for 11c.

—Besides these few articles listed in this limited space we have hundreds of other needful and necessary every day toilet articles and drugs at the same unusual reductions. —First Floor.

GIRLS' SUITS Selling as High as $40 Saturday, Special, $34.95
In sizes from 15, 17 to 19 years.
—These suits are made of waffle cloth in tango or Labrador blue, of black and white check materials and navy blue serges.

—They are suits that represent the best of this season's styles, many being exact copies of imported models. The coats show the Eton front effect, or cutaway style, with square or plaited back; others with square box coats. Collars and cuffs of fancy silks. Skirts in the tier effect, button trimmed and some with silk bands.

Girls' $32.50 Suits for $24.85 —Late arrivals made of the fashionable pebble cloth in navy blue, Copenhagen blue and Labrador blue.
—The coats of these suits are in the new box style—very short and cut away in the front, button trimmed. The skirts have the new long overskirt finished with black taffeta folds or bands.

See Our New Waists for Young Girls —In specially designed models for 12 to 17-year girls.
—This exclusive waist department fills a long felt want, as heretofore the growing girls had to rely on waists that were fashioned for older folks. This exclusive waist shop of ours for girls offers waists of all kinds that range in price from $1.69, $2.49 to $7.50. Of silks, linens, voiles and crepes. Fourth Floor.

