Mrs. Whitehead was arrested in a farmhouse at Lockport, Ill. The police say the strength of the charge depends entirely upon whether or not the Lloyds legally adopted the girl.

Mrs. Whitehead, then Mrs. Leslie, was left a widow by the death of William Leslie in 1904, five months after the little girl was born. Mrs. Leslie, forced to support herself and child, placed to support herself and child, placed le girl was born. tody of Lloyd, a janitor, and his wife, and she worked for the man to pay their board.

The next year she married Robert Whitehead, a jeweler. The rise in her fortunes enabled her to care for the child, and she intended taking her daughter to her home. Lloyd and his wife refused to allow her to take the girl.

wife refused to allow her to take the girl.

Mr. Whitehead gave his wife $100 April 1, she told the police; then she took the child, when a favorable opportunity offered, and fled from the city. The Cincinnati police were asked by Lloyd to cause the arrest of Mrs. Whitehead, and she was traced to Illinois and the Chicago police informed.

Mrs. Whitehead declared Mrs. Lloyd had threatened to shoot her, following her attempts to recover the child, which the Lloyd family had refused to give up. feur-year term in the penitentiary for obtaining money by false pretenses, be allowed a pension of $20 a month for the support of horself and four children. Mr. and Mrs. La France were indicted jointly for defrauding insurance companies of $15,000 by planting a body on the banks of the Clackamas River two years ago, Mrs. LaFrance later colelcting $15,000 from the companies after the body had been "identified" as that of her busband. LaFrance confessed, soon after his arrest in Coos County, but on trial pleaded not suitly the was convicted and which the Lloyd family had refused to give up.

"I'm not afraid of being shot, but I'll never go back to Cincinnati," said Mrs. Whitehead. "Any jury that knows a mother's love will free me. I want to be tried here in Chicago if I must be tried. They had no right to arrest me. I am the mother of the child. It never was adopted by the Lloyds, and they have no right to here atnot guilty. FIFTEEN INDICTED FOR FRAUD IN LAND GRANT DEALS.

W. F. Minard, Henry J. Harper and Associates Said to Have Defrauded Many by Scheme. With the arraignment in United States District Court yesterday before Judge Bean of W. F. Minard and Henry J. Harper, charged with fraudulent us

Th eindictment charges that Minard. Harper and their associates caused a great number of people, living in Senttle, Tacoma and other Washington cities, to pay for valueless "locations" on the railroad land grant lands. The scheme is outlined as having been for some of the defendants to represent themselves as agents of the railroad company. The argument would be advanced, it is charged, that the company know that it was going to lose the lands in its suit wit hithe Government, but that it was anxious to save the timber; and that an option would be taken from the epople making locations, so that they could sell the timber at a handsome profit. that they could sell the timber at all these representations were false; that the defendants knew they were false, and that they used the mails to further their fraudulent scheme.

Italy's olive crop will hardly exceed 50 per cent of a good average yield.

The indictment further charges the handsome profit.
