A SMART social event yesterday afternoon was the bridge and tea for which Mrs. W. H. Grindstaff was hostess. Her residence was attractively decorated with a profusion of pink snapdragons and other fragrant seasonal blossoms. Mrs. John Danielson Howard, daughter of the hostess, assisted her in receiving the guests. Six tables were arranged in the drawing-room for the guests and at the tea hour about 25 or 30 additional matrons and maids called. The tea table, with its artistic arrangement of Cineraria, shading from pinkish white to deep purple, was presided over by Mrs. George D. Schaik and Mrs. H. H. Jones. This is the second of a series given by Mrs. Grindstaff.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Warrens are being showered with congratulations upon the birth of another son who arrived Monday evening.

An elaborate and delightful affair was given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. J. G. Olsen here and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. W. B. Hare, at the home of Mrs. J. C. Hare. Seven tables were arranged for bridge and a banquet. Additional guests called at the tea hour from 4 to 5 o'clock. The affair was planned to honor Mrs. J. D. Sadler, of Aurora, and Mrs. Frank Scittemeier, of Woodburn. A charming feature of the affair was the musical programme given by Miss Marie Chapman, violinist, and Mrs. E. A. Hollenbeck at the piano.

The Hare residence was charming in its decorations of blue birds, which appeared to be flying about the entire house, lighting on the quantities of roses, sweet peas and ferns that were artistically arranged in tall standards and baskets. The high scores at each table were given silver hat pins, with blue bird tops.

The guests included: Mesdames Charles Smith, Harry Chipman, Will H. See, Warren Keeler, Alexander Nibley, E. F. Weaver, Nina L. Howe, H. T. Bruntrager, R. E. Montgomery, James E. Appleby, Lillian Conner, H. J. O'Connor, Roy Yates, Charles Fields, Joseph Stafford, Charles Boss, Joseph Supple, George Eastman, Ed Stanton, Freeman, E. B. Gaze, Zina Greenough, J. C. Bryant, W. L. Strauger, Zada Flanagan, E. Bryant, Fred Kribbs, Frank Scittemeier, of Woodburn; Mrs. Cornelia Barker Carse, Mrs. F. E. Yrooman, Mrs. J. D. Sadler, of Aurora; Miss Nena Joy, Miss Glendinning and Mrs. H. J. Martin.

Additional guests for tea from 4 until 5 o'clock: Mrs. B. Evans, Mrs. R. O. Carl, Mrs. Elizabeth Bond, Mrs. Luther Dyott, Miss Adele Dyott, Mrs. C. D. Joycelyn, Mrs. R. A. Hollenbeck, Mrs. Charles Dool, Miss Combs, Putney, Mrs. W. T. Wade, Miss Florence Crawford, Mrs. Thomas C. Burke, Mrs. J. L. Sterrett, Miss Fay Wade, of Enterprise; Miss Sallie Sterrett and Mrs. Alice Welster.

Mrs. John F. Logan will entertain this afternoon in honor of Miss Margaret Mackay, a bride-elect, with a theater party at the Hotel. Covers will be laid for seven.

Miss Ruby Archambeau, of Portland, is the house guest of Mrs. F. G. Thayer, of Medford.

Mrs. W. G. Steel and daughter went to Medford, where Mr. Steel, superintendent of Crater Lake Park, has secured a house on Summit street. They will make Medford their home.

Congratulations and floral greetings are being showered upon the Wilsons on Monday. He has been named Maurice Andrew in honor of Mrs. Wilson, Maurice Dooly, and Dr. Andrew Smith.

The "Merry Widow" cast of the Jefferson High School gave a banquet in the college room of the Hazelwood on Saturday evening and the guests included: Carl Rickett, Eugene Thurmond, Lillian Portier, Glenn Stanton, Dudley Tobin (Miss), Stu Pratt, Turner Nell, Helen Downing, Alvin Cutler, Flawine Kinsinger, Mark Wilton, Lucie Daniels, Erica Rice, Victoria Tostern Phelps, Loretti Dowling, Earl J. Goode, Wallace Strong, Frances Clarke, Ross Mackenna, John Wylie Sheehy and L. A. Melendy.

The Boreans of the White Temple will present an attractive programme tonight at 8:30 o'clock in the church parlors. A farce will be given by gifted members.

At the annual ball and card party given last night by the Daughters of the Confederacy at Rose City Park Club an atmosphere of brilliant festivity was added to the modern dances. During the evening, as a charming little innovation, a number of the guests danced the old-fashioned Virginia reel in the state measure at danced years ago in the sunny South. It was vigorously applauded and differented from the other dances of the present day. It resembled the minuet in time and graceful rhythm. The affair was a brilliant one, and the guests were colorful and in full light to the eye. The guests were received by Mrs. John Nissen, Mrs. R. C. Taylor, Mrs. F. Joplin, Mrs. George H. Thomas, Mrs. George Stovall, Mrs. H. Duff, Mrs. Eleanor Mitchell, Mrs. A. M. Lee and Mrs. F. F. Boody.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bowne, Jr., and baby daughter went to Medford last week and are occupying the F. C. Clark's residence for the summer.

Mrs. Caroline Donaldson Griffiths returned to Portland a few days ago and is domiciled at the Hotel. Mrs. Griffiths has been traveling on the continent for the past six months and visited relatives in London.

Mrs. A. E. Hutchinson, with friends from Omaha, Mrs. G. C. Smith and daughter, passed the week-end at Neah-kah-nie Inn.

An important event of today is the benefit for the Patton Home that will be given this afternoon at Hotel Benson in the Crystal room. The entertainment is called "An afternoon of songs" and is under the direction of Mrs. Rose Bloch Bauer. Many prominent artists have given their services for this concert and the folk are taking a keen interest in it.

Miss Mabel Beck and her sister, Mrs. E. Eisenbach, who have been traveling in Southern California for the past three months, will arrive here Friday. They have visited Los Angeles, San Diego, Santa Barbara and San Francisco.

The last dress rehearsal for this evening's programme at the White Temple was held last night. Guests present said any one of several numbers was worth going far to see. Everything is in readiness and the Boreans promise their friends the best programme they have ever presented. The funny sketch, "Susan Clegh's Adopted," in which the young ladies appear in costumes half a century old, and the wonderfully contrasting part two, where gods, muses, fairies, wood nymphs, brownies and even Cupid appear in song and recital, give promise of a thoroughly enjoyable evening. The young women

THE pink gown which Mr. McAdoo chose for the bride was in a soft and brilliant fabric known as satin d'Amour. The skirt touches the floor and is trimmed down the front with two crossed bands of silver lace. There is a flat hip drape of this silver lace which is an exceedingly fine pattern and has no hint of heaviness. From the edge of this lace hangs a full over-drapery of pink tulle which covers the lower skirt of satin. The bodice is draped in surplice effect from shoulders to waist; the satin is used with flowing sleeves of the silver lace, sleeves which Miss Wilson especially admired. The lace fell to the elbows at the back of the arm and was caught up in front to the shoulders to show the entire top of the arm. On this bodice goes a deep pink rose with a few green leaves and a bud.

THE monthly literary meeting of the Florence Mead Mission Circle of the Universalist Church will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the residence of the president, Mrs. M. E. Mead, 335 Clackamas street. Mrs. C. N. Wolfe will be the leader for the day. Her topic will be "Some Helpful Amusements." Suggestions from the circle will induce any legislation that Mrs. Wolfe's wide travels and her keen observations will probably result in a paper of unusual interest.

Other members of the circle who have studied the amusement question will participate in the discussion. Mrs. C. Hoffman and Mrs. Mead are the hostesses of the afternoon. The meeting is open to the public.

The officers recently elected at the annual meeting of the Greater Medford Club were: President, Mrs. F. B. Merrick; vice-president, Mrs. J. F. Murray; second vice-president, Mrs. I. L. Noblitt; recording secretary, Miss Putnam; corresponding secretary, Miss Robinson, and treasurer, Mrs. Bert Harmon.

Buckel were registered, at the Auditorium, L. Q. Swelland and Mrs. E. P. Swelland, at the Grand Pacific, H. Bornhart, Miss Marion Nelson, of Hyde Park, has as her guest Miss Herta Hansen, of Portland.

The placement of this rose was worked out by Miss Wilson and the designers after some work. She had a large box of flowers to select from and she tried many sizes in different places in the pink gown, but finally decided that the small rose with its bud was the best.

The bride is not especially fond of long skirts and drapery that hamper her feet, and she made a few amiable protests over not being able to walk easily in the pink gown, but finally decided that she would keep it for state dinners and do her best not to step on its yards of lace and tulle that floated away on the floor.

After dropping it, she gave quite a sigh of content at getting into her short, full skirt which allowed her to walk and to dance with entire freedom.

What were rebuffs, the demands of landladies, the record of a divorce behind her, the teeth or hair, some see that what were all these compared with the shimmer of a Spring morning without and the tingle of youth within?

She walked on an on, and came at length to the downtown district. Shop windows were gay with color. Suits, frocks, and hats, all up to the minute with style, lured and beckoned. "I must look a regular frump in these Winter togs," mused Marian. Averting her eyes

Divorced Life

THE exasperating refusal of Raton-guener to give her a duplicate pay check for the one she had lost exacted more tears from Marian than any other grievous event had done in many a month. The man's cool refusal to do the right thing almost mediated her to the street. But when she thought back of his conduct, she had been willing to submit to his attention would have been very different. She knew, too, that as matters now stood between them, she might expect nothing more from the theatrical manager.

"I'll get a lawyer, I'll sue him!" she murmured early the next morning. But after breakfast her determination was so grieved weak. She knew that she would never have the courage to tell any lawyer for what a career she had stepped she had been engaged to play the role in "The Climbers." "Why," she mused bitterly, "a chorus girl gets more than that. Whatever made me agree to miserable wages like that?"

Much as Marian needed the $15 that she had carelessly allowed to slip through her fingers, her vanity reared an implacable barrier before her. What kept her from making an effort to recover through the courts what belonged to her? Her brain refused to act. What to do? The question buzzed through her like a wasp.

"Yes, surely, I understand," Marian made haste to reply. "By tomorrow at latest, I'll settle everything up with you. I appreciate your patience."

"Yes," she answered inquiringly. "I know I'm obliged to make collections morning. The mild Spring breeze was as soft as velvet. It soothed the raw

PORTLAND, May 5.—Five cents' worth of pop corn, 5 cents' worth of sugar, a little coloring of chocolate, cake coloring or uncolored, and one 5-cent roll of oiled paper (cut each sheet, making 60 in all); you can make 50 packages of sugared corn. Allow three good tablespoons to each package, these being made by putting the corn in the center of the paper then twisting ends in opposite directions, making secure oblong package. Sell these for 1 cent and you profit nearly 45 cents. These can be displayed anywhere, even in a window in your home, and you will find the children will buy them as fast as you can make them. This little idea may be helpful to some housewife who cannot invest much.

quickly from the shop window she was passing, she moved on, with the feeling that the spectre of poverty was marching at her side.

Dear Girls: Spring is here once more and young femininity is about to blossom out in its daintiest and prettiest attire. But Autumn frowns upon us again, her heavy, cool lines and all the ignominious, unnamable fabrics that flood the shops will be at our backs. To her brother in Spring she penned a similar dispatch. She paid for their transmission and departed.

Letter to Girls.
Unfortunately the season that calls for the freshest, crispest toilets is the one in which they are most difficult to maintain. Yet despite heat and dust and other handicaps, it is almost always possible to keep scrupulously neat and neatness and cleanliness in appearance are essential to every well-bred woman. It requires, however, a constant care and patience that few young persons are willing to expend. Older women, more experienced in the art of dress, are much less prone to neglect in this respect, but happy-go-lucky girls all too frequently overlook some detail of their dress or person. Many a girl will, perhaps, bestow careful attention on her hair and then neglect her hands, or she will do a becoming bonnet and dress and sally out quite unadorned of the more important details of her toilette. Her shoes or gloves. And yet, all these things are observed. One person notes the color and condition of the skin, another the teeth or hair; some see the fluff, ruche at the neck and others merely the dress or hat. Some men say they notice the hand even before the face.

Therefore, my dears, remember that when you fare forth for your day's occupation or pleasure, whatever it may be, you are to meet many and different people among whom no little shabby detail of your dress or appearance will escape unnoted. Realize, too, that "eternal vigilance is the price of success" and that your attitude should be one of critical, intelligent attention, rather than careless self-satisfied vanity.

MARY MORRISON.

How to Darken Gray Hair
By a Specialist.

A very satisfactory preparation which darkens gray hair and acts as a corrective agent for dandruff and other diseases of the scalp can be made at small expense and in your own home by dissolving a small box of Barbo Compound in 7 cups of water and then adding an ounce of bay rum and a quarter ounce of glycerine. Any drugstore can furnish these ingredients. This is to be applied once a week until the hair is sufficiently darkened, then every two weeks to keep the hair soft and glossy and the scalp in a healthy condition. It may be used with equal success in darkening the beard. This is a preparation that gives splendid results both as a hair darkener and a remedy for all scalp disorders, and is well worthy of a trial. You will find it far superior to the ordinary store preparations and much less expensive.—Adv.

For Sallow, Wrinkled, Freckled, Pimpled Skin
If you have any cutaneous blemish, don't use paint, powder or anything else to cover it up. Too often this only emphasizes the defect. Besides, it is much easier to remove the blemish with ordinary mercerized wax. Applied nightly, the wax will gradually remove freckles, pimples, blackheads, moth-patches, sallowness, red or yellow blotches, or any surface eruptions. The affected cuticle is absorbed a little each day until the skin beneath is brought wholly to view. Ask the druggist for an ounce of mercerized wax and use this like you use cold cream. Remove in morning with soap and water. Many who have tried this simple and harmless treatment report astonishing results.
