CABARET DEMANDS $6300

Building Owner's 'Dry' Activities Do

$350 Damage Monthly, Charged.

The prohibition activities of Seth Biggs, owner of the building in which the Cabaret Grill is located, are the basis of a suit filed yesterday in County Clerk Coffey's office by Fritz & Russell, owners of the grill. Large losses in their business are laid at Riggs door. Damages to the amount of $6100 are asked of Riggs. The court is also asked to cancel a 10-year lease made in 1910, and stay a suit brought made in 1910, and stay a suit brought against Fritz & Russell by Riggs to collect $2400, alleged back rent. The suit was brought by Attorneys Wood, Montague & Hunt.

Fritz & Russell allege that Riggs,

Fritz & Russell allege that Riggs, when the lease was made, agreed to do nothing indirectly to injure the liquor trade, but, in violation of that agreement, he has joined the Prohibition party. The saloon men admit that they are losing approximately $359 a month and have demanded that the lease be cancelled, because of Riggs' alleged breach of agreement, but this the owner has refused to do.

Soveral fresh scratches were on the face of James McIntosh, on trial for the murder of his wife, Agnes McIntosh, alias Agnes Meadows, whon he wan arrested, several days after the crime, it was testified by detectives yesterday. They were corroborated by Coroner Slocum.

With toars streaming down his face, the white-haired defendant, on the witness stand yesterday, denied that there was any motivo for him to murder his wife.

"We never had any trouble," he said firmly, after he had quieted himself, following his breakdown during his direct examination by Attorney Jeffrey. He was the first witness will be heard today before the defense rests.

During the direct examination McIntosh did not account for his actions at the time of the crime, though he admitted being around the Rheinpfaiz Hotel the vening of the murder and was the time of the crime, though he admitted being around the Rheinpfaiz Hotel the vening of the murder and was the time of the crime, though he admitted being around the Rheinpfaiz Hotel the central of the crime, though he admitted being around the Rheinpfaiz Hotel the central of the crime, though he admitted being around the Rheinpfaiz Hotel the central of the crime, though he admitted being around the Rheinpfaiz Hotel the central of the crime, though he admitted being around the Rheinpfaiz Hotel the central of the crime, though he admitted being around the Rheinpfaiz Hotel the central of the crime, though he admitted being around the Rheinpfaiz Hotel the central of the crime, though he admitted being around the Rheinpfaiz Hotel the central of the crime, though he admitted being around the Rheinpfaiz Hotel the central of the crime, though he admitted being of the murder and was the crime, though he admitted being around the Rheinpfaiz Hotel the central of the crime, though he admitted being of the murder of the central of the crime, though he admitted being of the murder and was alsowered.
