

WARNING SOUNDED AT DRY CONVENTION

Eugene W. Chafin Makes Stand
Against Indorsing Other Parties' Candidates.

EXPECTED FIGHT DELAYED

No Move Made to Force Adjournment
Until After Primaries.
Routine Only Is Attended to at First Day's Session.

With 216 delegates attending from 15 of the 34 counties in Oregon, the prohibition party state nominating convention opened yesterday in the Taylor-street Methodist Episcopal Church. The first day's session developed little outside of the ordinary routine of organization. No attempt was made to force an adjournment of the convention until after the primary. This fight, however, is expected to come up this morning just before the selection of the nominees for state offices is in order.

Any attempt to adjourn the convention without completing the work of nominating a state ticket will be bitterly opposed. The straight prohibition element in the party is also opposed to giving prohibition party nominations to candidates for the same nominations in other parties and particularly to any indorsement of candidates of other parties.

Mr. Chafin Gives Warning.

This point was emphasized by Eugene W. Chafin, the most prominent National figure in prohibition party ranks, twice its candidate for President, in an address just before the afternoon adjournment. Mr. Chafin cited many instances of parties that have died because they lost their identity by fusion with other parties. He said that the prohibition party must be uncompromising in its insistence on retaining its identity, that to do this it must nominate prohibition party candidates for all offices, and must take a firm stand against indorsing candidates of other parties.

"If they want to be indorsed, let them run as prohibition party candidates," said Mr. Chafin.

Though he did not refer to the expected attempt today to force adjournment until after the primary by delegates who hope thereby to have the prohibition party later nominate and indorse some of the successful candidates for Republican or Democratic nominations, Mr. Chafin's remarks were clearly intended to show his own disapproval of the plan.

After J. P. Newell, state chairman, had called the convention to order F. W. Emerson, of Albany, and R. W. MacCallough, of The Dalles, were quickly chosen as temporary chairman and secretary. Mr. Emerson expressed the purposes of the party in this year's campaign in an address.

Mr. Emerson, appointed as a committee on permanent organization, I. H. Ames, of Portland, chairman; Mrs. Mary Mallott, of Portland, C. P. Coe, of McMinnville, D. M. Williamson, of Corvallis, and C. J. Bright, of The Dalles. Ratification of their selections for permanent officers was made by the first action of the afternoon.

The permanent officers, who were selected without opposition, are: Levi T. Pennington, of Newberg, chairman; Mrs. Charlotte Hanan, of Portland, and Leslie Butler, of Hood River, vice-chairmen; J. A. Dunbar, of Portland, secretary, and Mrs. Ward Swaine, of J. S. Fox, of Portland, assistant secretaries.

After the noon adjournment the delegates went to the Portland Hotel, where enthusiastic speeches were made at a well-attended luncheon. H. W. Stone, secretary of the Portland Y. M. C. A., presided at the luncheon.

D. Hastings, of Reed College, on "How to Win"; A. C. Newell, Oregon Civic League, on "What Shall We Do to Replace the Saloon When It Shall We Replace the Saloon?"; Mrs. M. M. Sleeth, Women's Christian Temperance Union, on "Compensation for the Woman-Maker and Dispenser When Put Out of Business"; S. W. Grathwell, of Pacific University, on "How to Provide Revenue When the Income From the Liquor Traffic Ceases"; and E. E. Taylor, on "Traffic Lessens Crime From the Piping Line."

Mr. Chafin's address was the principal event of the afternoon session.

Farming Lands in Forest Reserves to Be Settled.

The purpose of raising an additional fund on the Coast is to add special features in the building not provided for in the original plans.

Consul Valdemar Lidell will preside at the entertainment. Among those who will appear on the program are Mrs. Rose Courten Reed, contralto; Harold Harbut, tenor; Robert Lovell Wilson, baritone; A. Gylfe, violinist; Miss Christina Olson, soprano; Professor Charles Swenson and Miss Cordelia Hill, pianists; Tore Stenquist, dramatic reader; the Singing Club Columbia; Rev. J. Johnson, of Powell Valley, and Professor Edward Thorstenberg, of the University of Oregon.

COOS AND CURRY AFFECTED

Roseburg Land Office Expected Soon to Announce Manner of Entry and Settlement—15,000 Acres Cut Into 40-Acre Units.

A tract of approximately 32,000 acres of land in Southern Coos and Northern Curry Counties has been excluded from the Siskiyou National Forest, according to an executive order issued by President Wilson, telegraphic notice of which was received at the Portland office of the Forestry Department yesterday.

This step is in keeping with the policy of the present Administration in withdrawing from forest reserves all lands that are suitable for farms and that may be utilized for agricultural purposes. Chief Forester Graves personally inspected the Oregon reserves recently in order to determine how that policy might be furthered in this territory.

Of the area eliminated, about 15,000 acres are vacant public lands, segregated into units of from 40 acres up. The balance of the land has already been entered under the general public land laws or the forest homestead law and the occupants of claims thus established will not be disturbed. It is understood that the public lands involved will all be subject to settlement under the homestead law on and after June 29, but entries at the local land office will not be permitted until July 27. No information has yet been received, however, as to whether any of the public land has been specially withdrawn, or classified, so as to prevent or restrict the right of settlement and entry.

Grants Pass Man Recommends.

The lands were eliminated from the National Forest on the recommendation of the supervisor, N. F. Macduff, of Grants Pass, Or. It is understood that a large portion of the land is suited by climate, topography and soil to the form of agricultural use common to the coast country, but the principal reason for the elimination is the fact that only a very small percentage of the area is permanently suited to the establishment and maintenance of a forest, and the cost of administration, protection and management of this small percentage of the land is too great to warrant the retention of the land under withdrawal.

The lands in question are all situated in the Roseburg Land District. The Roseburg office will doubtless soon be informed of the manner in which settlement and entry may be made and the restrictions upon the right of settlement and entry.

Mallory Will Is Filed

E. E. Mallory, Son, Named Executor

Estate Valued at Over $100,000.

Circuit Judge McGinn yesterday appointed Elmer Ellsworth Mallory executor of the estate of his father, Rufus Mallory, which is valued at more than $100,000. The father, in the will filed for probate, made this request. Petition for the probate of the will was filed with the will, which was made October 8, 1912. The witnesses were Richard W. Price and Margaret J. Shafer, now Mrs. Margaret J. Simpson.

Mrs. Lucy A. Mallory, widow, is to receive by the terms of the will one-third of the income of the estate, after the payment of all debts, her income not to exceed $1000 a month, and is to have the use of the family home at 511 Yamhill street, free from rent or charge, until the premises are disposed of or are wanted for improvement purposes.

Each of Mr. Mallory's grandchildren, Rufus Mallory, Jr., and Mary Lu Mallory, are to receive $10,000. Another $10,000 is bequeathed to Mr. Mallory's brother, Homer H. Mallory, of Greenwood, N. Y. The residue of the estate, real and personal, is left to Elmer E. Mallory.

Recall Petition Awaited

Special Election Will Be Necessary If Document Is Filed.

EVIDENCE NEARLY ALL IN

Arguments May Begin Today in Winters Estate Case.

Rebuttal by State Ends and Sur-Rebuttal Testimony May Be Offered by Attorneys for Two Groups.

Arguments in the Winters estate case, which has been in progress in Judge Morrow's court since April 6, probably will be begun today and the final phase of the case likely will be submitted to the jury before the end of the week. Rebuttal testimony by the state was closed late yesterday and sur-rebuttal probably will be offered today by attorneys for two groups of claimants.

Directories of Los Angeles for ten years and a telephone book for Oakland, Cal., were introduced to show that Horace G. Winters, one of the claimants, has lived in California as Horace G. Winters, and testimony was introduced to show that Mrs. Douglas C. Winters, another claimant, spells her name without the final "s." These two litigants claim their relation to the Portland recluse through Lewis Cline Winters, of Newton, Ia. Attorney Logan, for the state, introduced the death certificate of this common ancestor in which the final "s" was not used. Mrs. Douglas Winters testified that she had dropped the final "s" on advice of her attorney when her name had been spelled both ways.

Although it is the general belief at the City Hall that the petitions said to have been signed recently for the recall of Mayor Albee and City Commissioners Brewster and Dick will not be filed, City Auditor Barbur is making preparations for a special election if one should be called. At the request of Ex-Councilman Clyde, who is slated as a candidate against Mr. Brewster, Mr. Barbur has asked City Attorney La Roche for an opinion on the form of petition and ballot which would be used in a recall election.

There is some question as to whether the preferential system of voting would be used or the old form of one straight vote for a candidate. The opinion of Mr. La Roche will cover that point. It is certain that if the recall petitions are filed a special election will be necessary.

Planning for the Stork's Arrival

Among those things which all women should know of, and many of them do, is a splendid external application sold in most drug stores under the name of "Mother's Friend." It is a penetrating liquid and many a mother tells how it so wonderfully aided them through the period of expectancy.

At any rate it is reasonable to believe that since "Mother's Friend" has been a companion to motherhood for more than half a century no more timely advice could be given the inexperienced mother than to suggest its daily use during expectancy.

Ask at any drug store for "Mother's Friend," a penetrating, external liquid of great help and value. And write to Bradfield Regulator Co., 302 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their book of useful and timely information to expectant mothers. It contains many suggestions that are of interest to all women.

MISS VIVIAN MARSHALL.

Honeymooning in vaudeville is the latest venture of the winsome Portland society girl and former instructress of swimming at the Multnomah Club, Miss Vivian Marshall, by footlight right, but really Mrs. Otto H. Fries.

Miss Marshall retains her stage name, which was also her maiden name at Pantages this week, where she is starring with Miss Lottie Mayer, the Eastern diving Venus, and her bevy of water nymphs. Miss Marshall entered vaudeville a little more than a year ago, but her rise has been phenomenal.

So successful was her career on the stage that she selected an actor as a mate. At Spokane five weeks ago Miss Marshall was married to Mr. Fries, chief comedian with Jesse Lasky's "Hobbes," who appear on the same bill with Miss Marshall.

Before entering her professional career, Miss Marshall was a social favorite with the Multnomah Club set. She is the daughter of a pioneer Portland contractor. While here Miss Marshall will be the guest of honor at several house parties given for her and Mr. Fries.
