

AUGUST BELMONT'S SON LOSES FIGHT

Actress-Bride to Get Alimony at Rate of $100 a Month Now.

CAREER OF IDLENESS HIT

Justice Greenbaum in Granting Separation Comments on "Gilded Youth of the Great City."

NEW YORK, May 5.—Ethel Lorraine Belmont won today her separation suit against Raymond Belmont, son of August Belmont, the financier. Alimony at the rate of $100 a month was allowed.

Belmont is now abroad. Ethel Lorraine had passed as an actress, although she had never been on the stage.

In his opinion granting Mrs. Belmont a decree Supreme Court Justice Greenbaum commented on the "gilded youth of the great city." Alluding to young Belmont, the court said:

"His career of idleness, stimulated by the plaintiff, has not been conducive to a healthy preparation for the serious problems of life."

In fixing the amount of the alimony Justice Greenbaum alluded to testimony to the effect that August Belmont cut off his son's allowance of three thousand dollars a year on learning of the marriage and that Raymond Belmont left his father's employ, giving up a salary of $900 a year.

When Raymond Belmont became of age in 1910, according to the opinion, he had a fortune of $143,284. In three years he spent $23,000, "almost constantly in the company of the plaintiff," the opinion finds, besides giving about $20,000 in cash to the plaintiff. The money, the court said, was spent "in a life of pleasure and reckless squanderings," and the fortune has sunk to about $14,900, which brings an income of about $2,000 a year. The alimony is calculated on that income and an earning capacity of $900 a year.

DEPORTATION IS SECRET

CHICAGO CONGRATULATES SELF IN LEPPER CASE.

Special Permits Issued Secretly by Governors of States Across Which Train Travels.

CHICAGO, May 5.—Chicago and Cook County authorities congratulated themselves today over the successful deportation of Charles Wolgren, a native of Sweden, who was taken to the County Hospital in February suffering from what was diagnosed as leprosy.

Because of the fear which the disease engenders all details of the deportation were kept secret and none but the crew of the train on which Wolgren rode in a private car knew of his presence aboard.

Special permits were issued secretly by the Governors of states across which the train passed and all connected with the deportation breathed easier when word was received here today that Wolgren was safely aboard a liner due to leave for Sweden in a few hours.

Wolgren came to America several years ago and took out preliminary naturalization papers. Later he returned to Sweden and then journeyed again to America, visiting Alaska and Western points. He was taken to the county hospital from South Chicago, where he had been employed last winter.

TRUST NAME DEMANDED

Pacific Title Company, of Portland, Wants State Enjoined.

SALEM, Or., May 5.—(Special)—The Pacific Title & Trust Company, of Portland, today filed suit in the Marion County Circuit Court for an injunction against S. G. Sargent, state bank superintendent, and Attorney-General Crawford, who ordered the company to change its name, under an act passed at the last Legislature. The act provides that no company, actually or engaged in the trust business, may have the word "trust" in its business name.

It is alleged in the complaint filed today that, unless the defendants are restrained, they will compel the plaintiff to change its name, which would work an irreparable injury. The plaintiff further avers that the contemplated action would prevent it from holding any trust property.

EUGENE BECOMES IMMUNE

Measles Epidemic Ends Because "Everyone Has Had It."

EUGENE, Or., May 5.—(Special)—For the first time in more than a year Eugene is free from measles, according to Health Officer Conings, who estimated that between 1909 and 1909 cases have existed in Eugene in the recent epidemic.

"There is nobody left to have it; every one who could take it has had a chance," is the explanation of the ending of the epidemic. When school was dismissed efforts were made to stop it, but when school began again the contagion continued. At one time it was estimated that a fourth of the houses in Eugene had measles.

The Duvida River in point of volume is like the Rhone, the Elbe or the Hudson, but is too much broken up by rapids to be navigable except in the lower parts. In about 7 degrees 20 minutes south latitude it joins another river practically the same size, flowing from the right.

"From about 11 degrees 48 minutes to 10 degrees 48 minutes, south latitude, the course of the Duvida is almost an unbroken series of rapids, there being no clear day's run without rapids. This was the hard part of our journey.

"We were during six weeks at steady

"Of the seven canoes with which we started, five were lost in the rapids. One of our men was drowned and two others, including Kermit, narrowly escaped death by drowning.

"Under the strain one man went mad. He finally murdered one of his comrades and fled into the wilderness.

"We saw no Indians, but twice heard them. While Colonel Rondon, the chief of the Brazilian mission, was out alone hunting his dog was killed by arrows. The dog's death probably saved Colonel Rondon's life.

PARCEL POST DEFENDED

BURLESON SAYS "UNPROFITABLE" TERRITORY BENEFITS.

Express Companies, Declares Postmaster-General, Will Not Suffer Unless Inefficient.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Postmaster-General Burleson defended the parcel post system today in an open letter characterizing it as an accelerator of trade between cities and farms and declaring its rates were based on operating costs in "both the profitable territory, which is defined by the extent of the systems of private express companies and the unprofitable territory, into which the private express companies never go."

Mr. Burleson was replying to the Buffalo Chamber of Commerce, which recently adopted resolutions opposing increase in the parcel post weight limit on the ground that it would drive express companies out of business.

He asserted that the companies would not be driven out of "profitable territory" unless they were relatively inefficient.

DOCTORS' HORSE HEALING BY FAITH

British Committee Urges Recognition of Spiritual in Treating Disease.

HEALING 'GIFT' EXPLAINED

Warning Given, However, Against Postponing Medical Treatment for Organic Disorders — Witnesses Differ Widely.

LONDON, May 5.—An important contribution to one of the foremost topics of the day is found in the report today of the "committee on spiritual healing or faith cure," appointed by the conference of the clerical and medical professions held in October, 1911.

The committee, which is composed of prominent clergymen and doctors, in its conclusions says: "The members of the committee fully recognized that operations of divine power can be limited only by the divine will and the desire to express their belief in the efficacy of prayer. They reverently believe, however, divine power is exercised in conformity with and through the operation of natural laws. With advancing knowledge of these laws, increasing benefits are being secured mankind through humane instrumentality.

"Especially is this true in the case of healing of disorders of the body and the mind, and they consider that spiritual ministrations should be recognized equally with medical ministrations as carrying God's blessing to the sick.

"The committee is of the opinion that physical results of what is called faith or spiritual healing, do not prove different from those of mental healing, or healing by suggestion.

"The committee recognizes that suggestion is more effectively exercised by some persons than others, which would seem to explain the results obtained by 'healers.' The use of religious influences does not differ essentially from non-religious appeals to the mind, yet the former are often more potent.

"Organic Disorders Expected. "Faith or spiritual healing can be permanently effective in functional disorders, as distinguished from organic disorders, and the committee warns against resorting to healers and postponing medical treatment.

"Spiritual ministrations may contribute to the success of medical treatment, and we desire to see more importance attached to them, but we strongly deprecate the independent treatment of disease by irresponsible and unqualified persons."

The membership of the committee includes Herbert E. Ryde, dean of Westminster; H. H. Henson, dean of Durham; William H. Inge, dean of St. Paul's; Henry L. Paget, bishop of Stepney, and Archdeacon Sinclair. Among the medical members are Sir Dyce Duckworth, Sir Richard Douglas Powell, Theodore E. Hyslop and Sir Thomas Clifford Allbutt.

"Moral Quality Not Determined." The witnesses examined by the committee differed in their definitions of spiritual and mental healing. Some regarded the former as a divine interposition above the laws of nature, while most of them connected spiritual healing today with the gifts of healing of the apostolic church, saying they thought these had long been dormant, although never wholly interrupted.

The witnesses disagreed as to whether moral excellence in the healers or the healed was essential for success.

Most of them gave convincing evidence of beneficial results in functional nervous disorders and cases of alcoholism and drug-taking, but not one gave satisfactory evidence of any case of organic disease cured by spiritual or faith healing alone.

LONDON, May 5.—The British government will reconsider its decision not to participate in the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco and it probably will decide that Great Britain shall be represented officially at the fair in a distinctly modified form.
