

STATE TICKET IS NAMED BY "DRYS"

Some Places Are Filled With Names of Candidates of Other Parties.

W. S. U'REN FOR GOVERNOR

'Anti-Nominations' Faction Predicts Party's Strength Will Be Cut In Two by Old Party Candidates Running 'Wet' and 'Dry.'

The following candidates for state offices were nominated by the state convention of the Prohibition party meeting in the Taylor-street church yesterday:

United States Senator, H. S. Stine, of Medford.

Governor, W. S. U'ren (Independent), of Oregon City.

State Treasurer, E. Lee Paget, of Oak Grove.

Supreme Court Justices, C. J. Bright, of The Dalles, and Judge William M. Ramsey (Democrat), of Clatsop county.

Congress, First District, W. H. Meredith (Democrat), of Curry County; Second District, L. Cleveland, of Union County; Third District, Arthur I. Moulton (Progressive), of Portland.

Commissioner, Mrs. Lucia Faxon Addison, of Portland.

Railroad Commissioner, Frank J. Miller (Republican), of Linn County.

Attorney-General, William H. Trindle, of Salem.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Curtis P. Coe, of McMinnville.

State Engineer, John H. Lewis (Republican), of Salem.

Circuit Judge, Department No. 6, Multnomah County, John Van Zandt (Democrat), of Portland.

Defeated "Other Party" Men Stand.

Nominations in this list whose names are followed by another party designation in parentheses are those of candidates of that party's nomination for the same office. In each case, where other party candidates were so nominated it was the understanding of the convention that the men chosen would run on the Prohibition ticket if defeated in their own party primary.

None of the nominations was contested on the convention floor. At an earlier session of the nominating committee, at which names of prospective nominees had been considered, however, considerable opposition developed to the selection of W. S. U'ren as Prohibition candidate for Governor because of his single-tax propensities. E. Lee Paget nominated Mr. U'ren in the convention. Mr. U'ren, who is already an announced candidate for Governor as an Independent, was right there waiting to be called on to speak. He promptly took the platform and made an address in support of his nomination.

On the other hand, the convention had to hunt about a good deal before satisfactory candidates for some of the other offices could be found.

Two Republicans Balk.

Thus William H. Trindle, of Salem, got the nomination for Attorney-General only after the names of J. M. Johnson, of Portland, and George M. Brown, of Roseburg, both candidates for the Republican nomination, had been presented. It developed that both had announced in advance that, in loyalty to the Republican party, they could not accept the Prohibition nomination, carrying with it the condition that they must be candidates at the general election, even if defeated in the Republican primary. Mr. Trindle's name was then presented and accepted.

No nominations were made for two of the four vacancies on the Supreme Court to be filled, because no other candidates meeting the requirements could be found. It was felt by many of the delegates, however, that by concentrating the strength of the party on the candidates for Governor, the party would be better off.

For a time it appeared that no one would get the nomination for State Engineer. Then J. P. Newell, Prohibition party state chairman, presented the name of Mr. Lewis, the incumbent and candidate for the Republican nomination.

"Will Mr. Lewis meet the condition that he must run as Prohibition nominee, if defeated in the Republican primary?" queried Levi T. Pennington, chairman of the convention.

"He will," said Mr. Newell. Mr. Lewis then was nominated without dissenting vote.

Mrs. Lucia Faxon Switches.

Mrs. Lucia Faxon Addison, a prominent W. C. T. U. worker, is already a Prohibition party nominee for the Legislature from Multnomah County. It was announced that she would withdraw from the Legislature race to accept the nomination for Labor Commissioner.

As expected, the fight to have the convention postpone its nominations until after the primary election of May 15, so that successful candidates of the Republican, Democratic and Progressive parties, friendly to the Prohibition cause might then be considered for the nominations, was made early in the afternoon session, just before the choosing of candidates was in order.

This fight was led by the Rev. T. B. Ford, of Oregon City. He moved as a substitute to a report of the nominating committee that the convention proceed to nominate; that nominations be deferred until after the primary.

The ensuing debate was warm. It was not settled until nearly two hours, when the straight prohibition element in the convention voted down Mr. Ford's proposal by a decided majority. Under a rule adopted earlier, a two-thirds vote would have been necessary to accept the substitute, this same rule applying to nominations and all other business before the convention.

"Nominations Divide Drys."

Rev. Mr. Ford, in his argument for deferring nominations, asserted that, by making nominations now, the Prohibition party was helping the "whisky candidates."

To emphasize his point, he cited, as a theoretical case, that if there were a Prohibition candidate, a "dry" Republican candidate, and a "wet" Democratic candidate out for the same office, the "dry" element would split, while the "wet" element would unite behind the Democrat and elect him.

"It is just a matter of practical political sagacity," he put it. He asserted also that, by nominating their ticket now, the Prohibition party might unwittingly hurt the proposed Prohibition constitutional amendments.

F. W. Emerson, of Albany, led the stalwarts in opposing Mr. Ford's substitute motion. He took the position that a candidate of the Prohibition party must be willing to make the race on the Prohibition principle alone, and that the future of the party made it necessary for it to stand pat on this policy. Several others joined in the debate, the straight Prohibitionists being clearly in the majority.

The convention decided that the members of the new Prohibition state central committee should be the chairmen of the respective county committees and elected the following 15 members at large: J. P. Newell, N. G. Hedlin, I. H. Amos, B. Lee Paget, E. T. Johnson, Mrs. Mary Mallett, O. J. Sherman, Portland, and vicinity; W. P. Elmore, of Brownsville; Mrs. A. C. Masters, of Roseburg; A. S. Silley, of Ashland; Mrs. D. M. French, of The Dalles; C. J. Bright, of The Dalles; P. G. Briz, of Astoria; J. B. Moreback, of Sherwood, and E. E. Taylor, of Cornelius.

Financial Aid Pledged.

Following the addresses at the morning session by Virgil G. Hinshaw, National chairman, and E. E. Taylor, state secretary of the Prohibition party, who emphasized the need of financial aid, the money pledged to the Prohibition party by individuals was $12,500, half of the $25,000 which Mr. Hinshaw said would be the amount of the heavy contributions announced were: Five thousand dollars from N. G. Hedlin, of Portland, on condition that five other individuals contribute $1,000 each; $4,000 by any event; Mrs. Ramp, of Salem, house and lot; J. P. Newell, note for $1250; E. E. Taylor, $500; B. McDaniels, property valued at $500 and by an unnamed contributor, a deed for property valued at $500.

Other important business of the morning session included the adoption of the state Prohibition platform. It was adopted in the form recommended by the platform committee, though there was a lively contest by some of the delegates, led by the Rev. T. B. Ford, who asserted the platform committee to be "a creature of the convention," to insert additional planks.

Full Platform Adopted.

The platform in full follows: The Prohibition party of the State of Oregon, in its platform, adopted at the City of Portland, on the 6th day of May, 1914, reviews with pride its past record in state and nation.

We affirm our allegiance to the principles declared in the last National platform of the party.

We recognize that many reforms primarily advocated by the Prohibition party, have been accomplished in the state.

Among these we note:

Direct vote for United States Senator.

Equal suffrage for women, both of which we have advocated since 1872.

The Prohibition party was the pioneer in advocating control of private corporations, conservation of natural resources; and in opposing discrimination of capital against labor, and monopolistic and class-legislation.

No backward step has been taken upon any great question of public policy, and upon our record of correct ideals we stand and invite the support of all patriots who are in favor of the safeguarding of the initiative, referendum and recall for the protection of the rights of the people.

The abolition of useless commissions and the consolidation of related ones in the interests of economy.

An adjustment of salaries and standard of efficiency for the public employees, equal to such standards in private business concerns.

The gubernatorial veto on separate appropriation items.

The payment of taxes in semi-annual installments.

Co-operation of the State and National Governments in the expansion of rural irrigation and development projects.

Conservation Is Indorsed.

The conservation of public resources in land and water through proper legislation.

Permanent and liberal policy of surveys that these resources may be exactly known.

County co-operation for better public roads.

We are opposed to any appropriation of public funds for private or religious purposes, and favor the repeal of that part of the law of 1913 which provides for free textbooks for private or religious schools.

We urge additional state legislation for the suppression of the traffic in girls.

We heartily indorse proportional representation initiative measure now before the voters of Oregon.

We indorse the proposed constitutional amendments requiring the Governor to remove from office delinquent District Attorneys, Sheriffs and Constables.

Anti-Liquor Manufacture Basic.

We again declare as our fundamental principle and doctrine the absolute abolition and entire prohibition of the manufacture, sale, barter or gift of alcoholic liquors, whether or not medicinal.

We unqualifiedly pledge ourselves to the most earnest support of the proposed amendment to our state constitution.

We believe the enactment and enforcement of all measures for the suppression of the liquor traffic should be in the hands of those committed to this cause.

We therefore urge the co-operation and support of the electors of Oregon for the candidates presented by the Prohibition party as representatives of these principles.

Committee on platform.

C. P. GATES, Chairman.

E. O. SHEPHERD, Secretary.

After a night session, at which there were talks by some of the candidates nominated and addresses by the Rev. A. J. Ebbett and Dr. R. W. McCullough, the convention adjourned sine die.

SEATTLE THANKS PORTLAND

Efforts to Have Elks and Shriners Meet in North Appreciated.

"Seattle appreciates your co-operation," says W. H. Mattison, bureau manager for the New Seattle Chamber of Commerce, in a letter to the Portland Commercial Club, expressing thanks for the assistance being given in Seattle's campaign to land the Elks and Shriners' National conventions next year.

The Portland club has been supporting Seattle in this campaign, and has appealed to the officials of both organizations in support of Portland's sister city.

"Your hospitable entertainment of the Elks two years ago is still fresh in the minds of the members and the invitation from you will unquestionably have great weight in making Seattle the 1915 meeting place," the letter says.

WASTE WOOD IS UTILIZED

Paper Is By-Product of Marshfield Mills, Says Tom Richardson.

"They are actually making paper pulp out of Douglas fir waste," writes Tom Richardson, editor of the Oregon Development League, from Marshfield, where he is devoting a few days of his time on behalf of a greater and more unified Oregon.

"With a market for this product established," continues the letter, which came yesterday to the Commercial Club, "its success on the North Pacific Coast will be a side issue."

Mr. Richardson further advises that the people of Coos Bay want to raise $15,000 for a separate Coos County building at the San Francisco fair next year.

The municipal wells which supply Grand Rapids, with water, have for some unknown reason, been getting warmer for the last two weeks. The wells are 100 feet deep, and no cause for the change is known.

SWEET WORDS EXCHANGED

Other Officers Elected and Annual Reports Tell Progress - Cook-book's Sale Produces $2139 in Total Revenues.

At the annual meeting of the Council of Jewish Women, held yesterday afternoon in Selling-Hirsch Hall, Mrs. Isaac Swett was unanimously elected president of the organization, succeeding Mrs. Simon Selling, who has served as leader of the club for the past two years.

In closing her term of office, Mrs. Selling gave an interesting address in which she thanked all who had cooperated with her in making the work successful. She paid tribute to Mrs. Swett, whom she termed "an ideal woman for the presidency."

"During my term of office," said Mrs. Selling, "I have never heard a word of unkindness or disloyalty, but, instead, words of commendation, which helped to lighten the burdens and make my work a veritable labor of love."

Mrs. Swett received an ovation on taking office. In a prettily worded speech she thanked the council and asked their support and help and commended the outgoing officers.

The other officers elected were: Mrs. M. Baruh, vice-president; Mrs. S. Teiser, recording secretary; Mrs. Harry Kahn, traveling aid; Mrs. Max Hirsch, George Loewenberg, treasurer; Mrs. R. Ottenheimer, Mrs. L. N. Lipman, directors; Mrs. S. Baum and Mrs. Mark K. auditors.

Reports from committee chairmen were given and were replete with accounts of good work well done. Those who reported were: Peace committee, Mrs. Charles Kahn; friendly visiting, Miss T. R. Goodman; education, Miss Kline; Bible study, Mrs. S. Friedman; treasurer of Neighborhood House, Mrs. Gustav Simon; chairman of Neighborhood House, Mrs. S. M. Blumauer; superintendent of Neighborhood House, Miss Ida Lowenberg; press, Mrs. Joseph Goodman; immigrant aid, Mrs. Sigmund Frank; widow's pension, Mrs. Milton E. Kahn; travelers' aid, Mrs. Max Hirsch; censoring motion pictures, Miss Eda Jacobs; membership, Mrs. D. Gorman; clubs, Mrs. Leon Hirsch; social, Mrs. Ben Neustadter; religious schools, Mrs. Hart Ackerman.

The outgoing officers were: Mrs. Selling, president; Mrs. Henry Ottenheimer, who had served ably as vice-president; Mrs. Milton E. Kahn, Mrs. Frank Hutchings and Miss Sadie Delovoy, all of whom listed in the council's many splendid enterprises.

$2139 Made by Cook Book.

The sale of the cook book was commended by Mrs. Selling as one of the great hits in securing funds for the Neighborhood House. She told the kindergartens, the free dispensary, the sewing, dressmaking, symposium, English and various other classes conducted, also praised the physicians who had given freely of their time for the help of humanity. The Jewish Women's Benevolent Society and the Community Nurse Association were thanked for their assistance. The club's dramatic, social and athletic departments were all spoken of and commended. An innovation mentioned was the establishment of community dances, dancing schools and mothers' clubs. From these sources, at very small admission fees, $307.70 was netted.

News About Railroads

IT WILL NOT be necessary for the O-W-R. & N. Company to reopen the Plummer gateway to the St. Paul road on lumber traffic if the tariffs are amended so that the rates via Council Bluffs will be no higher than via Plummer.

This is the decision rendered by the Interstate Commerce Commission a few days ago in the complaint filed by the Eastern Oregon Lumber Producers Association and the Oregon Railroad Commission. It is understood that the O-W-R. & N. Company will make the required tariff amendments.

For a year or more after the St. Paul road was built the Plummer gateway was open to a variety of commodities and the O-W-R. & N. Company and St. Paul exchanged a large volume of business at that point. Recently, however, the O-W-R. & N. Company has been seeking to limit the movement through Plummer and in keeping with this programme the rates on lumber were cancelled. This would have meant movement to the O-W-R. & N. Oregon Short Line and Union Pacific to Council Bluffs, giving the Union Pacific the long haul.

Certain shippers in Eastern Oregon complained that they wanted a choice of routes and petitioned the Commission to reopen the Plummer gateway. While the Commission found that, although closing the gateway was not an unreasonable action in itself, it had the effect of increasing the rates to a number of points on or east of the Duluth-Des Moines line, and that these rates must be reduced to conform with the rates via Plummer.

G. W. Luce, freight traffic manager for the Southern Pacific, arrived in Portland yesterday for a few days business visit. Accompanied by H. A. Hinshaw, general freight agent, he will start today on a trip over the company lines in Oregon.

Mr. Luce looks for a big freight movement out of Oregon this year. Prospects for crops are good, he reports, and business soon ought to be getting better. He expects good results from the reopening of the gateway. This will give the Southern Pacific the benefit of the long haul on all the business originating in Oregon destined to points on its own lines in Oregon. Heretofore, with the gateway closed, this business moved through Portland, the Southern Pacific short-hauling itself.

Nat McDougall, of the firm of Guthrie & McDougall, railroad contractors, has returned from a business trip to St. Paul. He reports business a little better.

Ralph Budd again has been made assistant to the president of the Great Northern. When he left the office of chief engineer of the North Bank two years ago he was made assistant to the president of the Great Northern. They became chief engineer and now he is back in his old office. A. H. Hogeland, chief engineer, succeeds him as chief engineer.

A. Watson, assistant purchasing agent for the Great Northern at Seattle, was in Portland on business yesterday.

The Chicago & Northwestern is the first road to adopt the new method of showing the date upon which time-table folders go into effect on the bottom of the inside of the front cover instead of on the top of the outside. The new plan is intended to effect a considerable saving in folders. The public has become accustomed to refuse a folder more than a month old, regardless of whether any changes had been made subsequent to its issue. Railroad officials declare that the annual waste through useless publications of folders exceeds more than $1,000,000 annually in the United States.

W. C. Wilkes, assistant general freight and passenger agent for the Union Pacific, has gone to Spokane on business.

J. A. Munroe, traffic vice-president of the Union Pacific, is in Portland on a business visit.

J. W. Platts has been appointed acting agent for the Erie Dispatch, with headquarters in Portland, to succeed C. B. Baker, resigned. Heretofore he has been traveling agent.

Benjamin Campbell has resigned as vice-president of the Eastern & Maine. He also is vice-president of the New Haven, which now is engaged in discussing the Boston & Maine. Mr. Campbell formerly was general freight agent for the O. R. & N. Company and later for the Great Northern.

Two successors have been named for the late George F. Baer, W. G. Bealer will be president of the Jersey Central and Charles S. Huber president of the Lehigh & Wilkesbarre Coal Company.

The Canadian Pacific has cut the time between Vancouver, B. C., and Manila from 23 days to 17 days. On June 11 the Empress of Russia will be sent out from Vancouver on this new schedule.

Judge Lovett, chairman of the Union Pacific, has made explanation of the dividend policy of that company, which is to have been misunderstood owing to the recent action of the directors in declaring a quarterly dividend of 2 per cent, thus reducing the annual dividend rate from 10 per cent to 3 per cent. Judge Lovett points out that inasmuch as stockholders of record March 1 will participate in the distribution of Baltimore & Ohio stock and cash sufficient to pay them 2.01 per cent per annum, the regular dividend on Union Pacific stock will be held at 3 per cent until the stockholders will be receiving, actually, 10 per cent on their investments through the combined earnings of the Union Pacific and Baltimore & Ohio shares.

All grading on the Oregon Short Line's double track work through Idaho has been completed and rail laying now is in progress.

The Denver & Rio Grande has ordered construction of new freight terminals in Salt Lake City costing $100,000, according to reports received in Portland yesterday.

The Great Northern has placed mechanics in all its shops on an eight-hour basis. They formerly worked nine hours.

The Northern Pacific has arranged to continue the operation of its demonstration car in the interests of fuel economy. The car is fitted up with varied appliances to illustrate the methods of getting the greatest possible value out of fuel. Expert lecturers explain to the engineers and firemen how fuel economy may be practiced. The car will be moved over the entire system.

Under rapid cross-examination by Deputy District Attorney Collier and Maguire, James McIntosh, on trial for the murder of his wife, Mrs. Agnes McIntosh, alias Agnes Meadows, became confused yesterday morning and several times stammered over an explanation of his actions on the night his wife was found lying dead in the Rheinfels Hotel, on a bed, wrapped in flames.

McIntosh's cross-examination began Tuesday afternoon and continued until nearly noon yesterday. Only one other witness, J. D. Moodie, who had given McIntosh legal advice, was called in his defense. The first of the closing arguments for the state was made yesterday afternoon by Deputy Maguire, and the case will be submitted to the jury this morning, after arguments by Attorney Jeffrey for the defendant, and Deputy Collier, for the state.

MOST SICKNESS COMES FROM WEAK, INACTIVE KIDNEYS

Recent Reports Show Hundreds Suffer With Kidney Troubles and Don't Know It.

There are scores of nervous, tired, run-down people throughout the country, suffering with pains in the back and sides, dizzy spells, weakness of the bladder, (frequently causing annoyance at night) who fail to realize the seriousness of their troubles until such conditions as chronic rheumatism, bladder troubles, dropsy, diabetes or even Bright's disease result.

All this is due to weak, inactive kidneys. The kidneys are the filters of the blood, and no one can be well and healthy unless the kidneys work properly. It is even more important than that the bowels move regularly.

If you suffer with such symptoms don't neglect yourself another day and run the risk of serious complications. Secure an original package of the new discovery, Croxone, which costs but a
