

DEMAND MADE MINERS TO DISARM

Regulars Take Charge and Strikers Are Told Orders Will Be Enforced.

ANIMOSITY BEING SHOWN

Farmer Who Furnishes Forage for Troops Is Threatened, but Property Is Guarded and Men Are Promptly Warned.

TRINIDAD, Colo., May 6.—The tentative programme of disarmament of contending factions in the Southern Colorado strike zone was announced today by Major Holbrook, in behalf of Colonel James Lockett, commanding the United States troops in the district.

When the guns have been obtained from the mine guards, the commanding officer of the Federal troops will issue a proclamation calling on individual strikers already had concealed to deliver their weapons to the Federal authorities, and then police and county officers would be disbanded, leaving no weapons in possession of the troops in the direct service of the United States.

William Diamond, union leader, speaking to a mass meeting of strikers at Starville today, attended by 300 men, said a shipment of 300 high-power rifles and 40,000 rounds of ammunition en route from New York to the United Mineworkers of America would be turned over to the Federal troops immediately upon the arrival of the command.

Willingness Not Shown.

The strikers themselves, neither at Starville nor at the San Rafael camp, where a mass meeting of 200 strikers was held, gave any indication of intentions to give up their arms. Major Holbrook, who addressed both meetings, asserted it was his belief that the strikers already had concealed some of their weapons, and called upon them as true citizens of the United States to procure them and bring them to the place which later will be indicated as a depository for them.

Today, for the first time since the arrival of troops, animosity was shown by the strikers according to Major Holbrook. The quartermaster-sergeant stationed at Forbes with two troops of the Eleventh Cavalry reported that the farmer from whom the troops were purchasing supplies was warned by strikers to sell no more forage to the Army. The farmer refused milk, butter and eggs when the sergeant sent for them today.

The lieutenant in command of the detachment immediately sent to the strikers' tent colony at Forbes and demanded an explanation. He got none, but informed the strikers that the United States Army would buy supplies wherever it chose and would not be placed on the property of the farmer. The restoration of the old Ludlow tent colony was questioned by military officials today. The plan of the officers, in event the colony is rebuilt, is to place a patrol of Federal soldiers there to protect the strikers and to act as sentries about the stockade.

Strokers Told They Must Obey. "When the United States speaks," said Major Holbrook to the strikers at Trinidad, "it is a matter of serious moment. The President of the United States must be obeyed. We have soldiers and officers here to see that his command is obeyed and we do not want you to do us wrong. We must have order. It makes no difference whether you wife Colonel Lockett and me out; others will come to take our places.

"There is no country in the world that can obtain a larger Army than the United States, though its regular standing Army is small. And I dare say that upon the day when the President there would be no men quick to than you to answer that call to duty. Now the President has called and it is your duty to reply. We have no abodes in peace and good order. Every man among you who was not working in the mines at Trinidad when the strike came is in your own abode and he should leave at once."

On this remark the strikers cheered lustily, but from whispered comments it was learned that they considered the remark more applicable to the foreign mine guards, imported, they said, from West Virginia and other states, than to the strikers themselves.

Desire Is to Restore Peace.

"We are going to deal with you men in as kindly a way as we know how," said the Major. "We have nothing to do with the operation and we have nothing to do with the union. We are representatives of President Wilson, who has told me the idea is extremely desirous of restoring order and peace among you. I have come here to see that his command is obeyed. Within a short time I will issue a proclamation—and when I say 'I' it is with the idea of speaking for Colonel Lockett—setting forth where you shall bring your arms and get receipts for them."

"And I want you men who have buried your rifles and guns in the hills upon our coming to get them and bring them to me. I have the most friendly feeling for you, but I insist kindly now that you give up arms. I have ordered my officers and soldiers to abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors and I have asked the Mayor to see that all saloons in this district are closed—so that you men may always keep control of yourselves and when you come to me to be in your right senses and not red by intoxicants."

"I have waited until now to address you because I realize it would be a difficult task to make you see the matter in the light in which we want you to see it. You have done so well while struggling under the heat of what you called injustice of the past two weeks and I want to assure you again that the arms which you give to the Government will be kept by us, not given out again, until the United States Government determines what disposition to make of them. Your union and you, each, will be given receipt for the arms and you will know what becomes of them."

The strikers listened attentively, applauding now and then, and at the close of the talk Mr. Diamond divided the listeners into five groups, one for each of the predominant languages of the colony—Greek, Slavish, Italian, Spanish and English. These went with their interpreters to discuss the proposition of giving up their arms.

Mr. Carnegie Duplicates Gift.

Andrew Carnegie, to show no partiality, has sent a dozen silver plates, duplicating his gift to the last White House bride. The diplomatic corps has "paid no attention."

Though the Ceremony Is Set for 6 o'clock in the evening, the decorators will be at work soon after daybreak transforming the blue room into a chapel.

It is understood that nearly all of the numerous Wilson cousins have been asked to the wedding, despite the announcement that only the immediate family would be present, but comparatively few of them are actually coming. The John Wilsons, of Franklin, Pa., are already here as house guests of the President.

REBEL VICTORY REPORTED

(Continued From First Page.) out of the conference, but it is known that outside pressure is being applied to Carranza to bring him into the conference. Secretary Bryan reassured today a delegation of prominent men connected with the oil industry at and near Tampico. Mr. Bryan told them that both the warring factions had agreed not to attack the oil properties and that the American Consulate, which had been re-established in Mexico City, residents of the capital who are inclined to the preservation of property.

OLD GLORY GUARDS MEXICANS

Refugees, Fearing Rebels, Seek Protection at Vera Cruz. VERA CRUZ, May 6.—An uncorroborated report of the killing of Messrs. Williams and White, Americans employed at the big American mining property of El Favor Mining Company, at Hostotipaquillo, in the State of Jalisco, was brought here tonight by American refugees from Mexico City. No details were obtainable of the affair, but the refugees said the men were not the victims of an American demonstration.

Americans to the number of 2000 or 2500 will still be left in the capital after the exodus of the 600 expected to depart today for Puerto Mexico, in the opinion of a prominent railroad official here. Most of those remaining in Mexico City have come from outlying districts, but there is also a large percentage of actual permanent American residents of the capital who are disinclined to leave at present.

The exchange rate in Mexico City is quoted at $450 Mexican for $1 gold. Hundreds of Mexicans, convinced that their lives would be forfeited if they remained in the capital until the arrival there of Francisco Villa or Emiliano Zapata, are reaching Vera Cruz daily. Unless they greatly exaggerate the fright that has been occasioned by the approach of the rebels to the capital, the problem of caring for a congested native population within the American lines here will soon be added to the work of Brigadier General Huerta and his officers.

A large number of the Mexican refugees seeking safety under the Stars and Stripes here have been actively supporting Huerta, and his government. It is declared by some of the refugees that General Villa probably will have with him not only Zapata, but thousands of the lower class in Mexico City.

Villa, they point out, has made no secret of the fact that he has prepared a long list of those selected for death in case he should reach the capital, while Zapata, for a long time has boasted that not only General Huerta and his official family but hundreds of others would have to die when he came to the capital.

Zapata once sent word to the capital that he would set up a guillotine in the big square in front of the national palace and accumulate there a pile of the most aristocratic heads in the city. It is said Zapata's vengeance appears to be directed largely against the wealthier class.

Centralia Teachers Retained.

CENTRALIA, Wash., May 6.—(Special.)—At a special meeting of the Centralia School Board it was voted to retain all of the present teaching staff for next year, with the exception of the Oak View school, the patrons of which are taking steps to withdraw from the local district and start a separate district.

OLD WAY DEFENDED

Bishops Reject Eugenics in Place of Regeneration.

SOUL DECLARED BASIS

Church Warned Not to Heed Voices of "Spurious Renovators of Mankind" Introducing "Stock-Raising Expedients."

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., May 6.—

The address of the bishops or general superintendents of the Methodist Episcopal Church South at the opening of the quadrennial conference here today reviewed the reorganization of the missionary department of the church, ordered at the conference at Asheville, N. C., in 1910, reported progress on the question of federation with the Methodist Episcopal Church, and discussed the question of "lally rights" for the women.

After touching on the growth in the church membership, the bishops paid their respects to so-called schemes for social betterment. Many persons would have the church relying on eugenics, the address says, "rather than on regeneration by the holy ghost for the maintenance of a new and nobler race among bring to bear on man, the free agent, stock raising expedients and plant culture devices as the most efficacious means to improve the species. But she may not heed the voices of these spurious renovators of mankind, believing that the soul of all improvement is the improvement of the soul."

On the question of "lally rights" for women, the cause for a widespread discussion at the 1910 general conference, the address declared that the bishops believed this kind of equality was not demanded and would not "make the greater efficiency of our church as a whole or any part of the regions occupied by it."

TWO HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Both Cars Are Wrecked din Head-On Collision Near Moscow. MOSCOW, Idaho, May 6.—(Special.)—In a head-on collision between two automobiles, two women were injured on a country road near Moscow today. It is regarded as miraculous that all were not killed.

Both cars are said to have been traveling at a high rate of speed when George Wagner apparently lost control as he was about to pass a car driven by William Crowley, and both cars met.

Mrs. Crowley and Miss Gamble were severely injured. Both men escaped injury. The cars were wrecked.

Monmouth Church Prospers.

MONMOUTH, Or., May 6.—(Special.)—At the annual business meeting of the Monmouth Christian Church conducted at the home of the pastor, the church last summer erected a new $4200 structure and has paid for it. Four trustees were elected at the business session, Ira C. Powell, O. A. Wadsworth, S. R. Smith and O. C. Zook.

HOTEL PROPRIETOR DENVER IS SHOT

Colonel Bulger, Soldier of Fortune, Fires on L. F. Nicodemus in Savoy Lobby.

WOUNDS MAY BE FATAL

Organizer of Cavalry to Go to Mexico Engages in Barroom Clash and Returns With Gun After Being Told to Leave.

DENVER, May 6.—L. F. Nicodemus, proprietor of the Savoy Hotel, was shot and probably fatally wounded today by Colonel James C. Bulger, soldier of fortune. The shooting occurred in the hotel lobby, following a quarrel. Four bullets penetrated Nicodemus' body. Bulger was arrested.

At the police station Bulger refused to comment on the shooting or make any statement. His face was badly bruised and there was a deep gash above his left eye and one below his right eye.

Physicians Give Severe Hope. At 6:45 o'clock Nicodemus was still in the operating room at St. Luke's Hospital and physicians gave out little hope of his recovery.

The shooting followed a quarrel with patrons of the hotel, according to Representative Ashton, of Pueblo, who said that L. F. Nicodemus in Mexico. Hugh Clark replied: "If ever I fight for the United States, I'll join under a man and not a war!" A personal clash ensued, in which Bulger was severely beaten and departed in a rage.

Colonel Draws Gun. "Later Bulger returned, and evidently mistaking me for Clark, who had left the barroom," said Ashton, "he administered the beating. Orchard and I both told him Clark had left."

"St. K. Starkweather gave Bulger notice to leave the hotel. "Orchard and I were seated near the door when Bulger again appeared and started to draw a gun."

Bulger, who for many years has been a soldier of fortune in Mexico and other countries, came to Denver a few weeks ago. He opened headquarters at the hotel where he began organizing a cavalry regiment.

"If the stock had gone up to 175, say, what would the Billard company have done with the surplus?" "Oh, I think this would have been given to the New Haven road," replied Mr. Hemmingway.

Chief Counsel Folk showed the witness a check for $2,000,000 made out to the Billard company and indorsed by Hemmingway. It was dated March 1, 1911, and was from the New England Navigation Company.

"What was this for?" "Purpose of $2,000,000 forgotten. It looks as if it might have been a loan, but I cannot remember anything about it."

"You write checks for $2,000,000 and cannot recollect what they were for?" "It seems to be so in this case," answered Mr. Hemmingway, as a laugh went around the room.

Turn the Baby's Tears to Laughter

A Gentle Baby Laxative Will Quickly Relieve the Usual Cause of the Trouble.

It is often difficult to tell just what is the matter with a crying, peevish baby or child too young to express his feelings in words, but as a general rule the mother will find that there is a tendency to constipation, which has brought on a headache or nervousness. The little one has no pain, but feels "out of sorts."

The first thing to try is a family remedy containing good but mild laxative properties, and many mothers will say that their choice would be Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Thousands of mothers keep it in the house for such emergencies, among whom may be mentioned Mrs. John Kirsh, Jr., 1227 Abstrac Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa. She has been giving it successfully to little Walter, whose picture we present at the top of this page. He weighed 14 1/2 pounds from infancy to old age, and because of its mildness families should prefer it over all other remedies. It is absolutely safe and reliable. You will never again give cathartics, pills, salts or such harsh physics, for they are usually unnecessary, and in the case of children, women and elderly people are a great shock to the system, and hence should be avoided.
