Masters and pilots of vessels are be-ing requested by the United States En-gineers to proceed past the dredge Wahkiakum, operating at Dobelbow-er's, under a slow bell, and to haul away from the plant, as there is said to be plenty of water in the vicinity. The 30-day trial of the new dredge Mult-nomah, sister of the Wahkiakum, end-ed yesterday at Martin's. Both will be inspected today by Gerald Bagnall, as-sistant engineer.

North Head Sunday Night. One member of the crew of relief lightvessel No. 93 was lost off North Head Sunday night, when the vessel was bound for the Columbia River from Neah Bay to replace lightvessel No. 88, Captain W. J. Kenney, of the relief ship, having reported the acci-dent briefly yesterday to Henry L. Heck, inspector of the Saventeenth Lighthouse District. Mr. Beck ordered No. 88 inside for an overhauling and general repairs. She proceeded to the Tongue Point buoy station and is to remain there until an award is made for the work.
