

NEW PLEA IS MADE FOR DERBY STREET

Overlook and Albina Clubs Petition for Rehearing on Bridge Approaches.

BONDS TO BE PASSED ON

Resolutions Filed With Commissioners Declare Economy and Transportation Principal Reasons for Seeking to Have Change.

Representatives of the Overlook Improvement Club and the Albina district presented resolutions yesterday to the County Commissioners requesting that the selection of Union avenue as the Oregon approach for the Columbia River interstate bridge be set aside and the choice be reconsidered. The resolutions were signed by M. E. Thompson, Frank Seritser, Dr. Brull, O. Johnson, Harry Janickewich and Frank Deuster.

Most of those who signed the resolutions were present at the Commissioners' meeting yesterday and urged the reopening of the question. Speakers other than those who signed the resolutions were Mrs. Frank Deuster and George M. Watson. Members of the visiting delegation announced that they favored the Union avenue approach originally because of its great width, good condition, and as it was shorter than the Union and Vancouver avenue proposed approaches.

They declared that they found upon thorough investigation that the Derby street approach can be built for considerably less than an approach on Patton avenue and therefore concede that the approach should be located on Derby street. Their reasons for this choice follow:

"First—We want another great thoroughfare to the bridge, with common-user clause for the cars and with standard-gauge roadbed, not tied to a narrow-gauge road, such as now laid on Union avenue and monopolized by the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company.

"Second—Let us have competition in car service over this great interstate highway that binds two states together.

"Third—The entire Peninsula section of the city has been in need of car service, but with the building of the Derby street approach this great district tributary to the great industries of the Peninsula will be developed.

"Fourth—The Derby street approach, we believe, is the cheapest and most direct, and will benefit the greatest number of citizens, for it is not the local people along any bridge approach that will use the bridge as much as the people of the West Side of Portland and the entire farming district of Southwestern Washington—and it is these people that should be most considered in building the approaches.

"We have no quarrel with the Union avenue people, who already have a good car service approach and a vehicle approach, which at present is in good order and can be maintained with small expense—not necessarily filled.

"The great travel will be from the business centers of Portland, from the business and farming districts in and around Vancouver, Wash.; therefore, the most important item to be considered is the shortest distance between the heart of Portland and the north bank of the Columbia River."

Commissioner Lightner advised the visitors that no further action will be taken by the Commissioners until after the Supreme Court has passed on the validity of the bond issue.

ST. JOHNS CLUB TAKES ACTION.

ST. JOHNS, Or., May 14.—(Special.)—The St. Johns Commercial Club adopted resolutions last night favoring the Derby street approach to the Columbia River interstate bridge, and asking the County Commissioners to reopen the matter of approaches.

ALDER-STREET FIGHT ON

PROPERTY OWNERS PROTEST AGAINST RESURFACING.

Council Practically Agrees to Demands of Realty Holders in Spite of Commissioner's Opposition.

Notwithstanding the declaration of City Commissioner Dieck that it is a waste of money to attempt to patch the pavement on Alder street, the City Council yesterday practically agreed to allow the patches to be made provided the property owners will pay the cost. Commissioner Dieck will prepare an estimate of the cost, which will be presented to the Council next Wednesday.

At a meeting of the Commission yesterday owners of property on the street between Sixth and Lowndes streets made objections to the plan of Commissioner Dieck to resurface the street over that entire distance at the expense of abutting property owners. It was declared that the pavement is not in such bad condition that it cannot be repaired and that the property owners are willing to pay for the repairs rather than suffer the cost of resurfacing and having the street blocked to traffic.

W. F. Woodward, acting as spokesman for the property owners, said they believed the patching could be done reasonably, quickly and in such manner as to make the pavement good for a period of years. "A paving expert," said Mr. Woodward, "went over the street and informed me that it can be put in good shape for $500. This man is in the paving business and has had success for 25 years."

It is said if the Council is willing the repairs can be ordered forthwith and can be made within a few days. In the meantime it is proposed to hold up the proceedings which are now before the council for the resurfacing of the street.

SETTLERS IN BAD PLIGHT

Local Bodies Come to Moral Aid of Black Canyon Ditch.

Resolutions recommending the authorization by Congress of a $100,000, 000 bond issue, to be expended in completing Government irrigation projects, were adopted by the trustees of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday.

Similar resolutions were passed by the Commercial Club governors on the previous day.

These resolutions were called forth by the present predicament of settlers in the Black Canyon irrigation district in Eastern Oregon, formerly known as the Boise-Payette project. It is pointed out that the only relief for these settlers lies in the Federal ## GOVERNMENT FULFILLING ITS OBLIGATIONS AT THE TIME THE HOMESTEADERS WERE ENCOURAGED TO ENTER THE LANDS IN THE BELIEF THAT WATER WOULD BE SUPPLIED.

F. M. Cole, president of the Caldwell, Idaho, Commercial Club, who has been in Portland for the last few days, has brought the situation to the attention of the Portland commercial bodies. He declares that many settlers have lost all their accumulations, that their condition is pitiable and that they have suffered extreme hardships in trying to "prove up" and develop homesteads while waiting for the Government to do its duty.

Mr. Cole points out that the situation is of particular interest to Portland because all the affected territory is a natural tributary to this city. If the settlers are relieved and enabled to develop the country, their trade, it is pointed out, will serve to build up the business of this city.

Franklin K. Lane, Secretary of the Interior, recognizing this situation, has recommended a $100,000,000 bond issue, to be expended in completing this and various other unfinished irrigation projects in the West. It is the bond issue that the local commercial bodies now are urging the Oregon delegation to assist in putting through Congress.

DOUBLE ROLE ASSIGNED

MR. HEILIG TO HAVE OPPORTUNITY TO SHOW TALENT IN FOLLIES.

From Portraying Part of Physician Magnate Will Be Called on to Don Galways as Policeman.

Calvin Heilig will be called upon to play two roles in "The Two Orphans" when the theater managers present that classic at the Heilig Theater next Thursday as the fourth of the 1914 Follies. Walter Gilbert, of the Baker Players, who is directing the managers, broke that news to Mr.

George L. Baker as Madame Froehard.

Heilig yesterday upon learning that Larry Keating, of the Lyric Theater, would, in all probability, not be present to take part in the Follies.

Originally Mr. Heilig was cast for the role of officer of the law. Now in addition to that he will be called upon to take the part of the doctor, the only one in the cast not steeped in villainy.

"I consent," said Mr. Heilig when Mr. Gilbert imparted the news to him, "as long as both roles are dignified."

Rapid changing of costume and facial disguise will be enforced upon the Heilig magnate in portraying the two roles. Shortly after he makes his first entrance as the kindly doctor, who tells Louise, the blind orphan (Frank Conberry) she is sightless for life, he will have to appear as an officer, who plans wholesale arrests if the change is not forthcoming. This protean change will require Dr. Heilig to duck behind the scenes, slip out of a long coat, remove a black wig and beard and dive into a blue uniform, red wig and Galways in a jiffy.

Dress rehearsal will be held by the theater managers at Pantages Theater before the first of this week. The demand for tickets is great and advance signs indicate that the 1914 Follies will be the greatest success in the history of the Theater Managers' Association. The fund raised by the annual entertainment is devoted to charity, the managers being called upon to assist many ill and needy theater folk every year.

PORTLAND PEOPLE IN CHICAGO.

LAFFERTY'S FINAL WORD

Through the cupidity of my political enemies large "paid advertisements" appeared in the afternoon papers yesterday headed "Lafferty for Prohibition." I am for the resolution to submit to the voters for ratification or rejection the question of National prohibition. But I have not and shall not take any part in the fight for or against the ratification of such an amendment by three-fourths of the states, which would be necessary to make it law. If prohibition is wrong in theory it would never get the three-fourths ratification required. Therefore, no harm would possibly come from giving the people a chance to settle the question one way or the other. The advertisements put in yesterday's papers headed, "Lafferty for Prohibition," were inserted and paid for by persons seeking to defeat me, and the transaction was a piece of sharp practice pure and simple.

My life work is to secure the enactment and enforcement of laws for the benefit of those who follow. The currency law recently passed will relieve the present distress when put into operation within the next few months. Business will revive and artificial panics will never occur again. Business men will borrow from the Government all the Treasury notes they need, through the regional reserve banks, on depositing good security.

The currency law is the best measure of the Wilson Administration. It should be followed by agricultural, naval, currency and Government-owned-and-operated railroads and steamships. When the people cut out the unnecessary interest they are paying annually for the loan of "credit," which the Government can extend on good security, her credit, they are paying to private monopolies, by taking them over and operating them by the Government, a redistribution of the wealth of the country will be made. All will be able to make a good living with population over 70 per cent of the wealth of the United States, as is the case today. That wealth will gradually be redistributed and find its way back to the people. I have laws pending for these purposes, and shall secure their passage if the people back me up.

I am in Portland now on my road to San Francisco to argue for the enforcement of the Oregon & California Railroad land grant in the U. S. Court of Appeals. I started this litigation September 16, 1907. Last July Judge Wolverton decided against the railroad, decreeing a forfeiture of 2,300,000 acres of land to the United States. The appeal is set at San Francisco for May 28. I shall fight this case to the Supreme Court of the United States whether elected again or not.

I thank the people for past expressions of confidence, which will always be gratefully remembered, and I assure them that I shall be loyal to them through victory or defeat. Today I expect an overwhelming victory.

CHARLES A. JOHNS, Republican FOR GOVERNOR

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Charles A. Johns was a continuous resident of Baker City for twenty-four years, during which time he served four terms as Mayor and eighteen consecutive years as School Director.

As Mayor he gave the city an honest, efficient administration, and its financial affairs were conducted on a close, safe, economical basis and at the very lowest expense to the taxpayers.

As School Director he always worked for the best of results and for economy in administration, without impairing the high standard of the Baker City schools.

In our judgment, as Governor, he could and would do the same thing for the State.

Wm. P. Lord

Candidate for Nomination for

Attorney General

William P. Lord announces his candidacy for this office on a definite platform, on something that means something to the people of the state. Among other things, he pledges himself to enforce the public rights in waterfronts and tidelands; to prosecute suits, to regain vast tracts of public land, wrested from the people and to protect the rights of settlers on arid lands.

Mr. Lord further pledges himself to keep the office open at all times to the people and legislators alike, to furnish every assistance in formulating legislation for the reduction of taxation and the abolition of worthless commissions and offices.

No credit is due to an officer who has done his duty, whether for one year or for 18 years. He was paid to do his duty, and if he failed to enforce the laws he is derelict in his duty.

What the people require of a candidate is a definite policy in the maintenance of the office, and Mr. Lord is a candidate who has made pledges to the people, which he will unwaveringly fulfill.
