GRANGE CELEBRATES ANNIVERSART.

Oswego Grange, No. 175. Patrons of Husbandry, is 40 years old, and recently relebrated that event at its hall. This grange, one of the oldest in the state, was organized April 14, 1874, by 25 people, who gathered at the old Hazelia schoolhouse, near the home of A. R. Shipley. During the 40 years of its life it had many struggles for existence, but celebrated its birthday in more vigorous condition than for many years. It acquired a site and erected a two-story hall, where its meetings are being held. At the celebration 55 members and 50 visitors attended and partook of dinner. Then followed a programme of interest, rendered by the few charter members remaining, their children, grand-children and others, consisting of songs and reminiscences. Mrs. S. Howard, state secretary, told of the warm place Oswego Grange holds in her heart. Oswego Grange holds in her heart. State Lecturer Darnall also delivered a short talk. The six charter members now living were all present and took part in the celebration.

FRUIT GROWERS TO INCORPORATE.— There will be another meeting tonight in the Gresham Club halt to further the incorporation of the Gresham Fruit Growers' Association. Articles of in-corporation have been prepared and are being signed by the incorporators. The papers will be sent to the Secretary of State at Salem and permission obtained to begin actual formation of the incorporation. There is a desire that the operation of the corporation of the corporation. the incorporation. There is a desire that the association be formed and a cannery built in time to handle the crop this year, but doubt is expressed whether this can be done. It is planned to secure the co-operation of all growers in Powell Valley in planting small fruit for canning purposes. The association will also undertake to market the produce of the members in Portland and elsewhere.

Chauncey Olcott.

Chauncey Olcott is an actor of whom it may be said that "age cannot wither nor custom stale his infinite variety." He will appear at the Heilig Theater tonight (Monday), Tuesday and Wednesday nights, with a special matinee on Wednesday.

Mr. Olcott's new play, "Shameen Dhu." by Rida Johnson Young, is one of the class of Irish romances that bring trooping back to memory a whole host of creations such as "Shaun the Poet." "Con the Shaughraun," "Elly O'Connor," "Moya," "Father Dolan," "Irish Widows," "Irish Gentlemen," etc., all fitted closely Gentlemen," etc., all fitted closely to Mr. Olcott's abilities. It not only gives him a romantic Irish role, but an opportunity to lapse into Irish ballads naturally, easily and effectively.

of Services for Young Hero.

The funeral services of Claude 5. Smith were conducted yesterday afternoon from Dunning's chapel, 414 East Alder street. Interment was in Lone Fir Cemetery. The services were under the auspices of Scout Young Camp, No. 2. United Spanish War Veterans, of which he was a member. Commander Clarence R. Hotchkiss was in charge of the veterans.

Clarence R. Hotchkiss was in charge of the veterans.

Rev. D. H. Trimble, of Centenary Methodist Church, conducted the services. He spoke in high terms of tribute to the heroism of this young man who sacrificed his life in a futile effort to save a companion from drowning.

Mr. Smith was 32 years old. He and William Chambers, a Portland boy, were drowned in Salmonberry River last week.

Five Strong Speakers Sum Un City's Problems Regarding Unemployed. Governor West Urges Action by Coming Legislature,

Five strong and forceful speakers held an audience of 500 persons in the closing meeting of the "Portland 1915" Conference and Festival. An overflow meeting which crowded the assembly hall also was held. It was addressed by Professor Hart, of the University of Washington, and by Dr. Edward O. Sis-Washington, and by Dr. Edward O. Sisson, ather they had delivered their addresses in the chapet. There were hundreds of people who did not attend any of the lectures, but who spent their time viewing the exhibits in the main building and in the gymnasium. The total attendance yesterday is estimated at 1500, bringing the total for the con-ference close to 5000.

Governor West was the first speaker on the programme yesterday. He made brief mention of some of the important problems that had been discussed at the

"The unemployed problem," he said, "was presented to us in a small way last Winter. A few public-spirited citizens made an effort to relieve the situation and also to impress upon the public the fact that the same problem vill confront us next Winter and every Winter thereafter. A definite plan for meeting the situation should be thoroughly worked out and discussed before the meeting of the next Legislature,"

"The Army and the courts," said Professor Wart of the University of fessor Hart, of the University of Washington, in speaking on "The Newer Human Outlook on Industry," "are the two institutions that have semained aristocratic in our American democracy.

"The time is going to come when standards of living and, therefore, the right to the possession of a job, will be as much a legal right as is the possession of a standard or the standard of the standard or the standa as much a legal right as is the pessession of property. The community as a whole must pay the community bills sooner or later and the problem is to foresee the bills before they are due and to make arrangements to pay them as economically as possible. The only remedy for the ills of our democratic life is more democracy."

Dr. Edward O. Sisson, Commissioner of Education for Idaho, spoke of "Certain Aspects of Moral Education."

"It is my impression," he said, "that vaccinated since May 1, 1912, will be vaccinated. Anti-typhoid vaccine will be used. The order was issued by General Finzer following receipt of orders from the War Department in Washington, D. C.

EXTRADITION.

We believe in Oregon; in Oregon institutions." We believe that nothing stands in the way of Oregon's commercial advancement and prosperity excepting a lack of loyalty on the part of a portion of Oregon's citizenship that persists in depleting the finances of this commonwealth. They buy commodities elsewhere that can be bought in Oregon, of Oregon manufacture, better and cheaper than anywhere else in the world. Loyal Oregonians must unite and frown down this disloyalty so that Oregon may become more prosperous than she ever has been before. Keep Oregon money in Oregon is the slogan for Oregonians.

Actors Perform Parts Well, Actors Perform Parts Well.

Louis Leon Hall gives his best character interpretation in Clavering, the author. He notes every detail and keeps even his voice every moment in the character. The scenes—almost all of act two—in which he paces about, searching for inspiration while he dictates his story to the tired and wretched stenographer-heroine, is a gem in artistic values of its naturalness.

Miss Shoemaker spends a wealth of emotion in her role. She easily wins sympathy, and, what is better, she sus-tains it throughout the play. Edward C. Woodruff has a true-to-life role as the newspaper man—and for once in a million blue meons we are privileged to see a newsgatherer as he really is are privileged to see a newsgatherer as he really is.

Mary Edgett Baker affords comedy as a "cullud" maid of argumentative ways. Nancy Duncan is a picturesque Spanish adventuress, and all the other Baker players fill in niches seemingly made for them.

The play is full of action, zips along in great style, and certainly is a winner.
