R. L. Glisan Chosen Chancellor at Annual Conference for Diocese of Oregon.

MANY DELEGATES ATTEND

Rt. Rev. Charles Scadding, Who Presides, Makes Plea for Co-operation in Missionary Work. Committees Are Appointed.

With many delegates of both clergy and laity in attendance, the business session of the 19th annual conference of the Episcopal Church for the diocese of Oregon opened auspictously yesterday morning in Trinity parish house and continued throughout the day. Luncheon was served at noon at rose bedecked tables.

The election of several officers was held. Others will be chosen today at noon. Rodney L. Glisan was elected chancellor, Rev. C. W. Baker, of Roseburg, secretary, and R. W. Hastings

At the Church of the Good Shepherd last night the vicars of the parishes told of the splendid and encouraging done in the missionary fields of the state

The Rt. Rev. Charles Scadding, bishop of Oregon, presided. He spoke briefly regarding the work. In his plea for co-operation among all the communicants he said: "If each one gave $2 a year regularly in most instances all the apportionments could be met and all funds raised."

all funds raised."

The bishop urged the upholains of the highest standard in all church work. The committees to be appointed today are for the board of church axtension, the trustees of the diocese, the trustees of St. Heien's Hall, the trustees of Bishop Scott School and the delegates to the eighth province, which will assemble in Seattle in October. The committees named yesterday were:

Finding that the ordinance passed by the Council last Fall, requiring owners of electric signs to pay a license of 10 cents a square foot, was not in popular favor, the City Commission, on recommendation of Commissioner Bigelow, yesterday repealed the measure. No license will be exacted, and persons who have paid licenses since January I will be refunded their money.

At the time the ordinance was con-At the time the ordinance was considered, about January I, there was strong opposition on the part of merchants. They declared they were doing their full share in assisting in lighting the streets and sidewalks by the signs, and should not be placed under the additional expense of paying a license to benefit the city. It was complained that the license would put many signs out of business, and thereby damage the appearance of the streets at night shelf as things that can be sold. If a customer comes in and wants to buy a pound of butter or a sack of salt there is a strong temptation on the part of the grocer to accommodate that person. If he does not he satnds a chance of losing his trade."

"This is not a question of whether grocery storgs shall be closed or allowed to remain open on Sundays," said W. B. Sloan, "There seems to be an impression that the ordinance would close the stores. There is no possibility of that under the ordinance as passed. If they want to close stores let them enforce the present state law, which requires the absolute closing of all establishments on Sundays. Why should it be any worse to sell necessities of life on Sunday than to sell luxuries, such as tobacco?"

JURORS WOULD CONVICT

Eight Sign Statement After Discov ering Verdict Impossible.

Bight of the jurors who were discharged Monday by Circuit Judge Davis after a failure to reach a verdict in the case against Ed Ruby, charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor, signed a statement yesterday to the effect that they voted for conviction from the start, and permitted Judge Davis to discharge the jury only after they were convinced that it would Judge Davis to discharge the jury only after they were convinced that it would be impossible to reach an agreement.

At the third trial, held before Judge Davis, the jurors were out 26 hours, the court reprimanding them for their failure to return a verdict. Twice before Judge Kavanaugh had discharged jurles which had failed to reach a verdict. Those who signed the statement were W. H. King, H. C. Keck, James Scarsfield, C. J. Feterson, S. J. Everett, H. E. Bloyd, E. E. Mitchell and John Schoder.

ALASKAN ENGINEER HERE

LIEUTENANT MEARS, OF FEDERAL RAILWAY BOARD, EN ROUTE.

Three Members of Commission Will Leave Seattle About June 1 to Precede Surveyor's Corps.

Lieutenant Frederick Mears, who was appointed May 1 by President Wilson as a member of the Government's Alaska railroad commission, arrived in Portland at 7:45 Tuesday night and was the guest of his brother, E. C. Mears, at 668 Everett street, until last night, when he left for Seattle, the future headquarters of the commission.

The other members of the Alaska railway commission, William C. Edes, of San Francisco, chairman, and Thomas Riggs, Jr., of Washington, D. C., will leave Seattle with Lieutenant Mears for Alaska soon after the first of June. Mr. Riggs reached Seattle Mears for Alaska soon after the first of June. Mr. Riggs reached Seattle last night and Mr. Edes will arrive the latter part of this month.

"At a recent Washington conference covering several days we formulated plans to send engineers and outfits to Alaska at once," said Lieutenant Mears last night. "Mr. Edes, Mr. Riggs and myself will go into the field with the surveying parties and will probably be engaged in field work until October I. One hundred and twenty-five men will be employed at the outset.

"It would be impossible for me now to estimate how long it will take to build the Alaskan railroad, on account of the unusual character of the work. We will employ some residents of Alaska on the works, but most of the field corps, including all of the engineers. Will be sent from the United States proper."

I they would employ some residents of the directors of a school may name any place for the holding of an annual school meeting, no matter how inaccessible, provided proper notice of the company, changed its ruling. Lieutenant Mears is chief engineer and general superintendent of the Pan-ama railroad, having been called to Panama eight years ago by John F. Stevens, with whom he was associated in constructing the west end of the Great Northern railroad.

WASHING WON'T RID HEAD OF DANDRUFF

Dissolve It, That's Best Way

The only sure way to get rid of dan-

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; spply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and disging of the scalp will stop at ones, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you want to preserve your hair,

and feel a hundred times better,

If you want to preserve your hair,
do by all means set rid of dandruff, for nothing destroys the hair more quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everyone notices it. You can get liquid aryon at any drug store.
It is inexpensive and never falls to do the work.—Adv.
