HIGH GRADE SCARCE

Fine Coffees Are Difficult to Get Hold Of.

SHORTAGE WORLD

Ordinary Sorts Will Remain About Stationary in Price, as They Are Much Cheaper Than Last Year or Year Before.

The coffee market is in a rather peculis condition at the present moment. It is be ean seasons, as the Brisil crop is just about to come to market, being from two Prices today for ordinary grades of coffee are about 2 cents lower than they were Prices for high-grade coffees are just as high as they were during last year. In January there was a little failing off in the price of high-grade coffees, but they have since recovered.

The last crop in Brazil was rather more than the bulls predicted and just what the bears, prophesied. This year's crop is as yet an unknown quantity. She growing conditions were unfavorable, but it is a certainty that there will be comparatively little fine coffee produced in Brazil.

The general opinion seems to prevail that the crop will be from 2,000,000 to 4,000,000 begs less than that of last year, but facililies for gathering news are so poor in Bra-zil that it is difficult to foretell just what the crop will be, but it is a certainty that it will be less than that of the 1913-14

There was never such a scracity of high-de Brazil coffees in the markets of the vorid and there never was such a premium paid for high-grade Brazils as there is to-day. This applies also to all Central American coffees as well as to Javas and atras. It is almost impossible to get fine heavy drinking East Indian cof-

From such information as can be se cured at the present time it is reasonably safe to assert that there will be no reduction in the price of high-grade coffees and ordinary coffees will remain about stationary, as they are much cheaper than they a year ago and very much lower than were two years ago.

Marked Improvement in Some Lines of General Business-Confidence Not Disturbed by Reports of Wheat Damage.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Dun's Review will any tomorrow:

Higher temperatures in many sections have afforded stimulus to distribution of assaonable merchandise at retail, while jobbling trade has also benefited. In certain instances, the improvement is marked, and, though future requirements are not being freely anticipated, the situation is strengthened by the absence of large stocks.

Confidence is not disturbed by reports of damage to Winter wheat. Prices, however, have advanced rather sharply.

Substantial purchases of pig from in Eastent erritory are an encouraging feature and have helped to sustain improved sentiment in the basic industry. The demand from the railreads is still confined to close limits, but it is the expectation that an increased buying movement will shortly develop.

Judge Kavannugh, Spenking at What Is Probably Final Event in Building, Defends Catholie Church.

LEAVE OLD CLUBHOUSE.

What is probably the last reception that the Knights of Columbus will give in their old clubhouse at West Park and Taylor streets was held last night under the for of an "open house," to which the women friends of the members were admitted. The Knights expect to start building their new home before Columbus day.

Circuit Judge Kavanaugh was the principal speaker at the reception.

"There is a marked reversion to the Catholic Church in France," he said.
"I read that the same is true in Nor-way. The reversion is similar to the way. The reversion is similar to the Oxford movement in England last cen-tury. The world is following the watsh-word of the Knights of Columbus, and accused us of lacking patriotism. Even that has been taken from them by the recent Mexican troubles. The first man to give his life at Vera Cruz was a Knight of Columbus. Ensign McDonnell, who first raised the Stars and Stripes over Vera Cruz was a member of our order. Charge O'Shaughnessy, who has cared for the interests of the United States during the whole trouble, joined our order in Mexico City."

Others who took part in the programme were Miss Dagmar Inez Kelly, Robert Lovett Wilson, Miss Tiny Ledwedge, Miss Marie Chapman and the Rose City Quartet. The musical programme was under the management of Professor F. W. Goodrich. T. G. Ryan presided.
