Bead Neckchains of Crushed Flowers

—Necklaces are among the important dress accessories and each new style seems prettier than its predecessors.

Certainly these California crushed flower bead neck chains are deserving of wide popularity. Their process of making is somewhat similar to the floral bead chains which were made by the mission people in the early California days. It is a long, tedious process of grinding the petals and molding the pulp of flowers into beads, which harden and still retain the natural fragrance.

—These necklaces are very attractive and we have various lengths and styles.

—Carnation, forget-me-nots, geranium, violet, heliotrope, lilac, old rose, black rose and Iris, each possessing its distinctive odor.

—Prices at 50c, 98c, $1.25, $1.65, $2.00, $2.50, to $5.00.
