

PATIENCE STRAINED; MILITANTS WARNED

London Judge Tells Suffragettes Public Indignation Ready to Break Out.

BEWARE MOB THEN IS WORD

"You Women Owe Police Debt of Gratitude for Protecting You," Magistrate Declares— "Shoot the King," Cry Heard.

LONDON, May 25.—"Some day an exasperated crowd will break into a procession of militants. What will then happen to you women nobody knows at present. You have to thank the police for being alive; you owe them a debt of gratitude."

Magistrate Hopkins of the Bow-Street Police Court thus addressed a suffragette who had applied for a summons against an unidentified man who, she said, had struck her on the face when the crowd rushed the suffragette meeting in Hyde Park Sunday afternoon and the police came to the woman's rescue.

The magistrate's warning indicates the public exasperation that exists against the militants. Their attacks on the King have intensified the feeling against them.

The language of the militants at the meeting of the Women's Social and Political Union this afternoon when shouts of "shoot the King" were heard on every side, shows that the warning is little likely to be heeded, and except for protection afforded them by police they would be unable to hold public meetings anywhere without the risk of being seriously hurt.

Apparently all that is needed, in the opinion of observers, for the suppression of militantism is the withdrawal of police protection from the militants. It is certain that the closing of the public art galleries because of suffragette outrages has increased the resentment against them.

Miss May Richardson, sentenced to six months' imprisonment last March for slashing the "Rokeby Venus," who was released and then rearrested on May 20 after undergoing an operation for appendicitis, was released from Holloway Jail. She had been on a hunger and thirst "strike."

ROAD POINT UNSETTLED

State Highway Commission Refuses to Act as Mediator.

SALEM, Or., May 25.—(Special.)—Asked today to arbitrate a difference between the County Court and a number of farmers as to the location of two miles and a half of the Columbia Highway between Warrenton and Seaside in Clatsop County, the State Highway Commission virtually announced it was not a board of mediators and would not act.

The proposed stretch as laid out by State Highway Engineer Bowly is about 200 yards from an old thoroughfare which it parallels. The County Court has adopted the route suggested by the engineer, but farmers living on the right-of-way of the old road ask that this be repaired.

TEACHER TO TURN PUPIL

Miss Susan Dinsmore, Absent Once in 10 Years, to Enter Columbia.

EUGENE, Or., May 25.—(Special.)—Miss Susan B. Dinsmore has taught history in the Eugene High School for ten years and has been absent one day. She will break this record this Fall, when she goes to New York to take special training at Columbia University in new lines of vocational work for girls, taking up a movement which would teach other methods of girls earning a livelihood than by teaching after graduating from school and college.

Miss Dinsmore will be gone a year and expects to return to her duties in the Eugene High School, in which she has taught history to 2600 pupils.

GOVERNOR MAY ASK FUND

Deficiency Request Possible to Carry On Moral Crusade, He Says.

SALEM, Or., May 25.—(Special.)—Governor West said today that it was possible he would ask the State Emergency Board when it meets next Friday to create a deficiency of $1000 or $1500 for use in his moral crusades.

"I have had a use for the militia because of a lack of funds with which to employ operators," said the Governor. "I don't know yet whether I will ask for a deficiency, but if I do it will be for $1000 or $1500."

The deficiency of $1500 created by the Board months ago for the Governor's moral crusades has been exhausted.

Board in Predicament.

SALEM, Or., May 25.—(Special.)—The State Printing Board has sufficient money due from the various state departments to meet expenses, according to Governor West, but the Board has no power to use it. As a result a meeting of the State Emergency Board has been called for next Friday to consider creating a deficiency.

The Governor says: "Secretary Pittspon, of the Printing Board, estimates money to be collected at $24,200 and the amount needed by the Board at $23,500. But the Board cannot make this advance without the authority of the Emergency Board."

Colonel Goes to Capital to See Party Chiefs Also.

PRESIDENT TO BE VISITED

Roosevelt Will Lecture on Exploration in South America and Later Tell Progressives How Best to Attack Wilson.

By Gilbert H. Grosvenor, director, and other officials of the Geographic Society. He expects to go directly to the National Museum to look over some specimens he procured on his African hunting trip several years ago.

From the museum the Colonel probably will go to the White House to pay his respects to President Wilson. He was invited to take luncheon there, but was unable to leave Oyster Bay in time to keep a luncheon engagement. Next he will go to the home of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, one of his intimate friends who is giving a reception in honor of members of the diplomatic corps.

Sir Cecil to Be Sought Out. Mr. Roosevelt was said today to be particularly desirous of seeing Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British Ambassador, and Jules Jusserand, the Ambassador from France. Sir Cecil was best man at Colonel Roosevelt's wedding, and was a close friend of his when the Colonel was civil service commissioner. Ambassador Jusserand was one of the best-known members of the "tennis cabinet" in the days when the Colonel was President.

The Colonel will take dinner at a downtown hotel with officials of the Geographic Society and has no engagements afterward until the time for his lecture at 8 o'clock.

The lecture probably will last nearly two hours, and after its conclusion Colonel Roosevelt will be driven to the Progressive party headquarters, where the conference with other party leaders in Congress will be held. Every member of the party in the House who is in town is expected to attend, but Senator Clapp will be the only representative from that branch of Congress.

Senator Poindexter Away. Senator Poindexter, the other Progressive, is a member of the committee which left today to attend the funeral of the late Senator Bradley.

No definite plans have been made for the conference at party headquarters. The Colonel will be told, however, just what success the party has had in attempting to put through its legislative programme at the present session and each man will outline the steps he thinks necessary in his own district and elsewhere to gain victory in November. The Colonel will be advised also of what his supporters in Congress believe are the weak spots in the Administration.

Reports that Colonel Roosevelt might confer while here with leaders of the Republican party were not regarded here today as significant.

That Washington, outside of political leaders, is greatly interested in the Colonel's visit, became apparent today, when the general public had its opportunity to obtain seats for the lecture. There was a line two blocks long leading up to the home of the Geographic Society and the demand for seats in official life has been brisk.
