SAN FRANCISCO, May 25 .- The lanrels for best stick work in the Pacific Coast League were wrested from the brow of Justin Fitzgerald, of the San Francisco team, by "Rowdy" Elliott, of Venics during the past week, according to a tabulated list of individual playing published today by the Call and Post. Elliott is credited with an average of .404, maintained in 29

Elliott has been at bat 94 times and His week's average was .393.

While Fitzgerald batted .400 last week, his standing for the season is given as .364. He has played in .35 games. He and Elliott each have 14 runs to their credit. last week he landed heavily on the ball.

Ryan Follows Nearby.

"Buddy" Ryan, of Portland, is a close third. In 44 games he has faced the pitcher 185 times and garnered 19 runs, while maintaining an average of proficiency with the willow of .358. His last week's rating was .345. Bayless, of Venice, also is way over the .300 mark. He has taken part in $1 games, has been at bat 183 times and is hitting .335. Kane, of Venice, has proved himself another heavy hitter. He batted 329 last week and his seasonal average is .324. Joe Tobin, of the Seals, is right behind him with an average of .322.

Calvo Rendy When Called.

Calvo, of Los Angeles, has not had much opportunity this year, having played in only ten games, but whenever he has been called upon he has been ready to deliver. His standing in 500 and last week he hit the ball at a .571 clip. Among the regulars, Ellis is about the most capable Angel. He is tied with Derrick, of Portland, and Mitze, of Cakland, at 306.

Del Howard, of the Seals, is the hardest-hitting manager. He is tied with Corhan, of his own team, with an average of .509.

Looked at from the standpoint of team hitting, Oakland has maintained the best average work. That club tops the list with a rating of .275. The others come as follows:

Portland, 272; Sacramento, .268; Venice, .267; San Francisco, .263; Los Angeles, .265.

AMATEUR ATHLETICS

On the three weeks' trip away from the home heath Portland did not do so badly, after all. Venice won five in seven and Los Angeles four in seven, but Portland's four straight lambastings of the lowly Oaks helped considerably.

As a consequence the Mackmen reduction for the losers and his team-mate Martin registered a home run with none on in the sixth. Lawpaugh, Masurovsky and Shockett worked for the losers.

The Clinton Kelly Federals won from the Ernest Grays by forfelt.

TWO MAINSTAYS OF THE LOS ANGELES COAST LEAGUE WHO WILL BE BACK AMONGST US TODAY FOR FIRST VISIT OF CAMPAIGN.

Walter, Calvo, Harper, Abstein, Love, Hughes, Musser and Ehmke Will Be Entertained for First Time Here Today.

BY ROSCOE PAWCETT. Extra! Extra! Extra! Unless one or both managers doublecross us, Portland fans will be treated to a baseball rare-bit this afternoon. Los Angeles and Portland reopen Pacific Coast League hostilities at McCredie park, and two hitherto undefeated pitchers are slated to oppose each other in the curtainraiser.

Their names are Ehmke and Martinoni, both young fellows of marriage-able age, of similar build, and both

Young, of Sacramento, and Rodgers, of Portland, each have stolen 17 bases this season and lead the league in this department.

Bayless Gets Six Homers.

Bayless, of the Tigers, has lined out six homers this year. Second to him at fence-busters are Schaller and Tobin, of the Seals, each with five rounding persons.

The three-base honor is a tie between Ryan, of the Portland Beavers, and Bayless, of the Tigers, eight each. Ness, of Oakland, a .290 batter, is the champion two-base hitter, having hit safe for the second bag 15 times. Page, of Los Angeles, has sacrificed 23 times, making him the leader at this angle of the kame.

Two youngsters, Howard Ehmke, of Los Angeles, and Martinoni, of Portland, are the pitching sensations of the season. One has taken six straight games and the other four. Decamier, of Venice, a Seal outcast, is tied with Martinoni for second honors. Persoll, of the Seals, has pitched more games than any other man in the league—14 in all—and his pitching average is $1.14, the highest of any man who has been pitching since the opening of the season.

After six months' dickering F. C. Farr, who has been president of the club as well as superintendent of the traction lines since June, 1918, announced today that he had accepted the price of the Inland road, and the team and operating rights are now in his hands.

His associates in the deal are Rob-ert H. Kipp, former Prosecuting Attor-ney of Whitman County and now presi-dent and manager of the Wenatchee

The price finally conceded by L. G. Gilman, president of the road, with $15,000. Joseph P. Cohn secured 50 per cent of the stock from the company nearly six years ago for $3750, which shows the increase in importance of the Northwestern League. Its value has doubled the local franchise in six years.
