

CLERGY TO WATCH BY BISHOPS BIER

Body Will Lie in State at Pro-Cathedral Saturday Morning With Services.

BISHOP KEATOR OFFICIANT

Final Hours of Prelate Passed in Peace and Prayer of Praise Is Last Audible Expression.

The funeral of the Right Reverend Charles Scadding, bishop of Oregon in the Episcopal Church, who died of pneumonia at 12:45 o'clock yesterday morning, will be held at 2 o'clock Saturday at Trinity Episcopal Church.

Clerical watchers will be in constant attendance until the time of the funeral. On Friday night at 6 o'clock the body will be taken to the Pro-Cathedral of St. Stephen the Martyr, Thirteenth and Clay streets, where the watch will be continued until 1 o'clock Saturday, when it will be removed to Trinity Church for the funeral services.

Vigil Kept by Clergy. The watchers began their duties at the Episcopal residence, 574 Elm street, Portland Heights, at 6 o'clock last night. There are to be two watchers at night and one during the day. Rev. C. H. Bloor and Rev. H. E. Clark took the first watch, which lasted until midnight last night. The watch until 6 o'clock this morning is being kept by Rev. H. D. Chambers and Rev. H. M. Ramsey. From 6 A. M. until 3 P. M. today the watch will be kept by Rev. H. Talbot, and from 3 to 6 P. M. Rev. H. D. Chambers will again be the watcher. From 6 to midnight Thursday the watchers will be Dr. George E. Van Waters and Rev. P. M. Baum, and from then until 6 Thursday morning Rev. John Rice and Rev. O. W. Taylor will hold vigil. It has not been decided who will watch on Friday until it is removed to the Pro-Cathedral.

A telegram last night announced that Right Rev. Frederick Keator, D. D., Bishop of Olympia, Wash., would conduct the funeral services. It has not been decided yet what members of the clergy will be selected to assist in the service. The choir of the Pro-Cathedral and Trinity Church, under the direction of Carroll Denton, organist at the Pro-Cathedral, will join in the choral service.

Death Is Expected. Realizing that the end was near Tuesday morning about 7 o'clock Bishop Scadding received the last unction. The holy communion was administered by Rev. J. E. H. Simpson, rector of St. Mark's Church, after which the bishop passed a comparatively easy and happy day. His last audible words were from the prayer of praise: "Thanks be to God for his unspeakable gift."

At a meeting of Portland Episcopal clergymen at the Portland Hotel yesterday preliminary plans for the funeral were made. The watchers were chosen and it was announced that it was the wish of Mrs. Scadding that all of the pallbearers, both active and honorary, should be chosen from the members of the clergy. It was also announced that it was Mrs. Scadding's wish that there should be no floral offerings, but the money for this purpose should be spent instead to aid the Bishop's Memorial fund for the missions of Oregon.

Diocesan Jubilee Cancelled. Because of the bishop's death the celebration of the 60th anniversary of the Episcopal Church in Oregon, which was to have been June 2 to 8, will not be held.

Survivors of the bishop's family are his widow, his aged mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Winder Scadding, who lives in Toronto, Canada, and his brother, Dr. Crawford Scadding, who is now on his way here from the city.

Charles Scadding was consecrated bishop of Oregon September 23, 1906. He was born in Toronto, November 25, 1851, and received his education in Toronto public schools and at Trinity College of that city, which gave him the degree of bachelor of arts in 1876. His father was Henry Simcoe Scadding. Charles Scadding was married July 11, 1885, to Miss Nellie Davy Donaldson, who died in 1894. He was married again in 1896, to Miss Mary R. Pomroy, of Toledo, Ohio, who survives him.

In 1885 he was made a deacon of the Episcopal Church and a priest in 1886. From 1888 to 1890 he was assistant pastor of St. George's Church in New York City. There he was particularly successful in slum work on the lower East Side. He was rector of Christ Church, Middletown, N. Y., from 1890 to 1891, and of Trinity Church, Hartford, O., from 1891 to 1896. For the next ten years he was rector of Emanuel Church, La Grange, Ill., and in September, 1906, he was consecrated to the bishopric of Oregon.

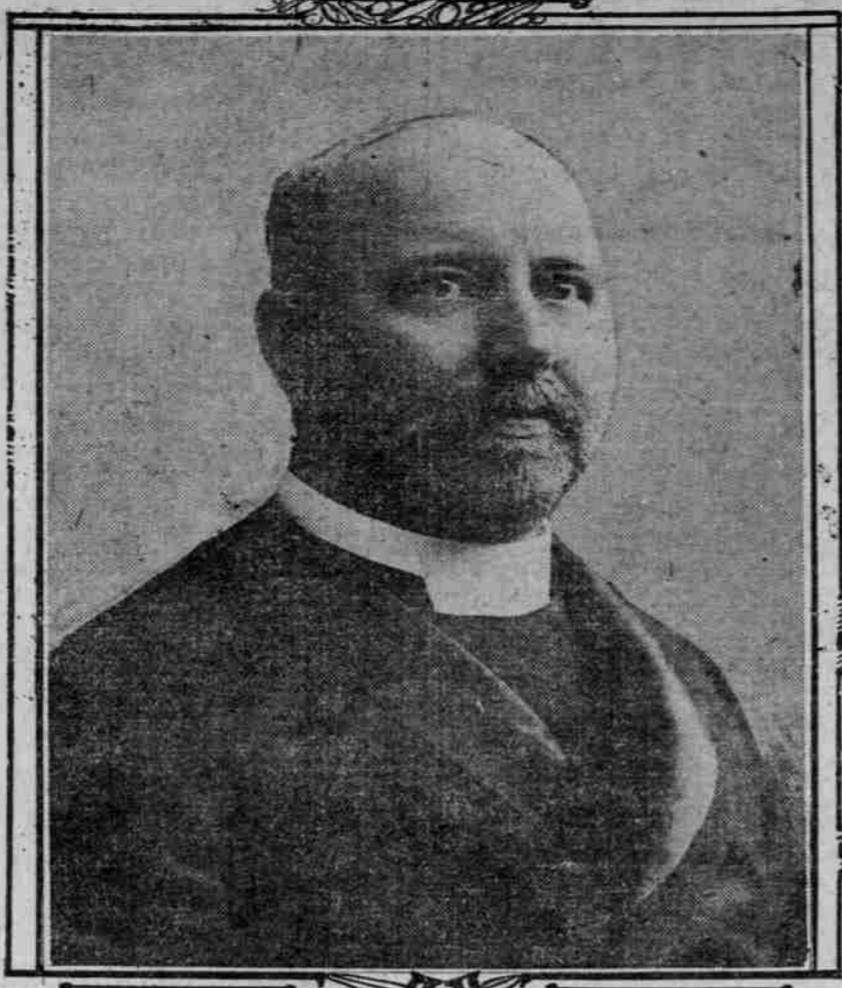

Qualities Are Lauded. In his earlier career he was a deputation lecturer for the London Society for the Propagation of the Gospel. He was the author of several well-known works, "Dost Thou Believe Me," in 1882; "A Workable Graded System of Sunday School Instruction," in 1896, and "Direct Answers to Plain Questions," in 1898. He also published many tracts and other religious literature. Among his friends of the Episcopal and other churches Bishop Scadding was regarded as an earnest worker and a man of strong influence for good. His chief work was in the most unglamorous of the diocese of Oregon, in which he was remarkably successful. He had the faculty of drawing his diocese into greater unity. He was a man of truly religious character and personal piety, extremely energetic and unselfish of himself. He was president of the board of trustees of St. Helen's Hall, and was largely instrumental in the reopening of the Bishop Scott School at Yamhill last Fall.

POLITICAL PLAN DENIED

LIQUOR DEALERS DECLARE INTEREST CONFINED TO PROHIBITION.

Open Fight to Keep Oregon Wet Admitted, but This Is Said to Be Free From Partisanship.

A statement in a newspaper dispatch from Salem to the effect that the breweries and liquor interests of Oregon are arranging to nominate an independent candidate for Governor was emphatically denied yesterday by Paul Westinger, vice-president of the Oregon Brewers' Association, and John E. Kelly, president of the Retail Liquor Dealers of Portland, and also president of the Family Liquor Stores Association.

"The breweries of Oregon," said Mr. Westinger, "have not in any way taken part in any plan to promote the election of an independent candidate for Governor, or any other candidate for Governor, and I am in position to say most positively that no such scheme was, is, or will be contemplated. We have before us a prohibition campaign and I have authority to say, on behalf of the brewers of Oregon, that they will confine themselves entirely to the effort to defeat Prohibition and will in no way be involved in party or partisan politics, or in the promotion of anyone's candidacy for any office."

Mr. Kelly made a similar statement. "There is no authorization of any kind from any responsible source for the statement that the breweries or liquor interests of Portland or of Oregon are engaged in so foolish an enterprise as the effort to elect an independent candidate for Governor," said Mr. Kelly. "I have been approached several times by political generals who have outlined to me the proper course for the liberal element in this campaign and suggested certain individuals as candidates who can help our cause. I wish to say in the most emphatic language that we are attending to our own business and will not mix up in politics, except insofar as we are making an open effort to defeat prohibition."

MINOR WIFE IS DIVORCED

Misrepresentation Also Grounds in Action Before Judge Davis.

Because he found that the marriage had been secured by false representations, Circuit Judge Davis yesterday granted a decree of annulment in the case of Mrs. Lucilla M. Heyting, by W. C. Smith, her guardian against William Heyting, to whom she was married December 30, 1913. In her complaint to have the marriage declared null and void, Mrs. Heyting charged that Heyting falsely represented his wealth to her and had the marriage ceremony performed without her consent and under false pretenses. At the time of the ceremony last December she charged that she was not 15 years old. By the decree signed yesterday, she was permitted to resume her maiden name, Lucilla Marie Beauchamp. Judge Davis granted a decree of divorce, on grounds of cruelty, to Mrs. L. P. Grutsch from William Grutsch, Jr., to whom she was married at Astoria, N. M., in September, 1911. The custody of a minor daughter was given to the mother.

Marine Notes.

There will be a regular meeting of the Commission of Public Docks this morning.

Reductions in the working force on the Dalles-Celilo Canal project, due to high water, has left about 100 men on the pay roll and it is planned to retain them until the freight recedes so work may be resumed.

Captain John K. Bulger, supervising inspector of steam vessels for the West coast district, returned to San Francisco yesterday on the steamer Beaver after having spent a few days here and at Seattle. The Beaver carried over 200 passengers and a large cargo. The steamer Rose City arrived from California last night.

Unless her departure from Otway is grossly misreported, the British steamer St. Theodore came within a day of the record on the run to the Columbia, having reported yesterday afternoon, 14 days after sailing from the other side. The Bangor held first place, having steamed over the course in 12 days in January. The St. Theodore has a cargo of oak for the Emerson Hardware Company and loads for the return for Shanghai under charter to the China Import & Export Lumber Company.

Towed by the tug Onesta, the Peruvian bark Belfast left the harbor yesterday, lumber-laden for China. The Japanese steamer Azumason Maru has shifted from the North Pacific mill to Linnton and will finish loading lumber there tomorrow or Saturday. She is to be cleared for Japan. The schooner Mindoro finished loading at the Portland mill yesterday and was cleared today for the West Coast by W. R. Grace & Co.

San Francisco is the destination of the steamer Daisy, which was cleared yesterday with a lumber cargo measuring 800,000 feet. The steamer Hornet left the harbor with a part cargo for the south and is to work the remainder at Beiner, Westport and Knappton.

As the Clearwater, Upper Columbia and Snake Rivers are reported falling, it is expected the Willamette will come to a stand here tomorrow or Saturday, reaching a stage of 17.1 feet above zero. Shipments for Alaskan ports on the steamer Thomas L. Ward, sailing last night, were fully as heavy as had been promised, and she had about all that could be accommodated below deck and carried a large shipment of lumber above.

In order that a broken casting on the east leaf of the Broadway bridge could be replaced, that structure was closed to streetcars and such traffic from midnight until daylight this morning. The casting broke Tuesday night.

Prohibition Club Formed.

ST. JOHN, May 27.—(Special.)—At a called mass meeting held at the Congregational Church the St. John State-wide Prohibition Club was organized with George W. Case as president and Asa Holmes secretary. The president appointed committees. The object is to prepare plans for a whirlwind campaign of this section of Whitman County during the last three weeks before election.

With more than 10,000 signatures already certified on petitions asking for a referendum on the ordinance prohibiting the sale of groceries in Sunday, the committee in charge of the referendum movement announced yesterday that the petitions will be filed tomorrow before 5 o'clock.

The petitions now on hand comprise about two-thirds of the number which were put out by the committee when the referendum was first decided upon. There are still about 50 of the petitions in the hands of circulators. If all are returned filled the committee will have 15,000 signatures. Only 10,000 would be required to invoke the referendum.

ONLY 45 WORDS GO WRONG

Catholic School Contest Results in Remarkable Showing.

The spelling contest of 17 Catholic schools was held yesterday afternoon in alumni hall of the Christian Bros. College, Grand avenue, for the fourth day, the committee in charge of the contest being three hours. Father Dauphin gave out the words, using the same as are used in public schools. During the afternoon a total of 45 words only were misspelled in the contest, a record for the school. Father Dauphin said the result was a remarkable showing. Rev. Joseph Gallagher, president of Columbia University, and Bro. Andrews, president of the Christian Bros' College, attended and assisted. Today the seventh and eighth grades from all the Catholic schools will hold their contest.

CITY INSISTS ON BARGAIN

Contractors Cannot Wiggle Out of Paving Specifications.

Ignoring possible patent infringement, the City Council yesterday decided to hold Gleibish & Japlin, contractors, to a contract secured some time ago for the paving of small portions of East Twenty-fifth, East Twenty-sixth and East Twenty-seventh streets, with Hasam pavement. The company has been trying to get out of the contract since a judgment in the Circuit Court upheld the patent pavement rights. The move on the part of the Council to hold the contractors to their bargain was taken at the suggestion of City Attorney LaRoche.
