

SPOKANE GREET QUEEN AND PARTY

Enthusiastic Ovation Tendered in Day's Entertainment Crowded With Events.

BOUQUETS GIVEN GUESTS

Rose Planting Ceremony at Monaghan Statue, Auto Ride, 3 Enjoyable Meals, Theater Visit, Dance Keep Visitors Busy.

SPOKANE, Wash., June 1.—(Special.)—Queen Thelma and party were met here at 7 o'clock this morning by a large delegation of At Club members and their wives who showered the girls with flowers and gave the visitors an enthusiastic ovation. The party was taken in automobiles to Hotel Spokane, where a suite of rooms was placed at their disposal and an elaborate breakfast served at a garden table.

Mayor Hindley presided with the queen at his right. The Mayor extended greetings and a welcome to the city. Queen Thelma responded by calling upon Manager Phil Bates to read the royal proclamation, expressing appreciation of the entertainment and inviting all the people of Spokane to the Rose Festival. The breakfast was a happy affair. The girls gave the "Juncture, Roseline" slogan and the Admen enthusiastically declared their eagerness to go to Portland and have roses pinned on them.

After Plants Presented to Portland. Following the breakfast the party was taken on a delightful motoring tour two hours about the city. All returned in time for the rose planting ceremony at 11:45 A. M. in front of Monaghan statue. The girls were presented with beautiful bouquets by Mayor Hindley, who also presented Queen Thelma for Portland with an ornamental crate bound with red ribbon and blue and white Ad Club colors, containing 100 official Spokane copper aster plants, to be planted in Portland. The queen and maids then planted a Testout rose bush as the crowd enthusiastically cheered the pretty ceremony.

At 1 o'clock the party was entertained as honor guests at the seventh annual luncheon of the Spokane Woman's Club. Three hours of social and society women in beautiful gowns greeted the party as the members entered and were seated at the center table, which was beautifully garlanded. Queen Thelma presented Mrs. W. G. Hall, president of the Woman's Club, with a big bouquet of Portland roses.

Moving Pictures Are Taken. Pathe moving pictures were taken as the girls left for the matinee at Pantages Theater, where their arrival in a box was the inspiration for a big ovation. Following the matinee the party was conducted through several department stores and showered with souvenirs.

The party will arrive at Salt Lake tomorrow. En route they will pass through Pendleton, where a 15-minute Wild West show by "Roundup" talent will be put on at the depot.

5000 WILL GREET VISITORS

Rose Festival Board to See That All Guests Are Welcomed.

A reception committee of 5000 will greet Rose Festival visitors next week. Every commercial and quasi-commercial organization in Portland has been authorized by the Festival directors to appoint members of this gigantic reception committee.

It is proposed to have a sub-committee of a dozen or more members at the various railway stations to meet every train. Others will be on duty at the hotels. Wherever visitors congregate committees will be present.

"We want the people who come here to feel that we are glad to see them," says the Rose Festival directors.

"We want them to feel at home and to absorb some of the Festival spirit. That is the reason we are appointing such a big committee. We want no visitors to be overlooked."

FIRECRACKER BAN STAYS

Vancouver Council Refuses to Reconsider Action of Year Ago.

VANCOUVER, Wash., June 1.—(Special.)—For the first time in its history, Vancouver this year will be a "closed town" so far as the good, old firecracker is concerned. This was made known tonight by the Council, which refused to reconsider its action of July 6, 1913, when an ordinance was passed prohibiting the use of firecrackers inside the city limits.

Last year's celebration was one of the largest ever held and it was after the day had passed that the Council took action, as had Portland, to kill off the deadly firecracker. The merchants forgot the ordinance until this year, when they began to lay in their usual supply of Fourth of July fireworks.

WILD BULLET KILLS GIRL

4-Year-Old Brother of Violet Jones, 6, Pulls Trigger by Mistake.

CHEHALIS, Wash., June 1.—(Special.)—J. H. The bullet passed through her body from left to right side, ranging just below the heart.

An older brother was cleaning the gun when a four-year-old brother unexpectedly seized it and pulled the trigger, the little girl standing in the range of the bullet. The wound was such that medical aid was helpless.

OREGON CITY'S LINE RUN

NEW PIPE LINE SURVEY IS MILE SHORTER THAN PRELIMINARY.

Official Estimates of Cost Will Be Ready in Few Days—Latest Route of Water Main More Direct.

OREGON CITY, Or., June 1.—(Special.)—The final survey for the pipe line from the south fork of the Clackamas River for Oregon City's municipal water supply is practically completed. With the exception of a small force connecting up the land lines, all the surveying parties, which have been in the field since April 26, have been disbanded.

Three parties have been employed at different times on different sections of the work. On Wednesday of last week, when these sections were completed, the total distance was found to be 24.9 miles, and not 26.1 miles, as estimated in the preliminary survey. This saving of 1.2 miles results for the most part from the fact that the direct course than the county roads, as proposed in the first survey.

The general route, however, follows the preliminary survey, said Engineer Hal A. Bands Monday. From the intake on the south fork of the Clackamas, about 3000 feet above its confluence with the main river, the line follows the left bank of the south fork and thence down the left bank of the main river to a point about a quarter of a mile south of the county bridge at Estacada, thence across DuBois creek near the old DuBois mill, ascending gradually to the summit of the Springwater ridge. From this point, swinging to the left, the route follows nearly a direct line to and across Clear Creek canyon to the Redland four-corners, crossing Clear Creek about half a mile below Viola. The narrow canyon at this point greatly reduces the length of high pressure pipe, compared with the preliminary estimate.

The engineers will require a few days to prepare the estimates.

REPUBLICANS FEEL SUCCESS ASSURED

Chehalis County Convention Declares Democratic Administration Is Failure.

STATE DELEGATES CHOSEN

National Platform Indorsed and Movement in Opposition to "Seven Sisters" Measures Is Backed by Party.

ABERDEEN, Wash., June 1.—(Special.)—Over 150 delegates today attended the Chehalis County Republican convention which elected delegates to the state convention to be held in Tacoma June 18, and adopted a platform. The convention was a reminder of the days before the enactment of the primary law on account of the enthusiasm, the speechmaking and the general spirit of confidence for the future success of the party.

F. R. Archer, of Aberdeen, was selected for chairman after the convention had been called to order by E. S. Avey, of Elma, chairman of the Republican county central committee. Mr. Archer predicted success for the Republican cause in all elections this year.

W. A. Rupp, chairman of the Republican state central committee, opposed the inclusion of the "seven sisters" plank in the platform on the ground that if the convention took a stand on any of the pending initiative measures, it should take a stand on all, and on the further ground that the delegates to the convention did not know what the "seven sisters" were, and that the initiative measure could not be construed as embodying party principles.

A resolution introduced by E. C. Finch, opposing the eight-hour initiative measure, was voted down.

The platform indorses the platform of the Republican National Convention held in Chicago, denounces the weak foreign policy of the Wilson Administration, favors free trade for American ships and the reduction of foreign immigration, condemns the participation of large numbers of non-Republicans in purely party primaries; demands the repeal of the direct primary-law or its amendment, that will require a petition of 20 per cent of any party vote in order for a candidate to file, thereby making at least a portion of each party responsible for a candidate's defeat; the refusal of the present National Administration to restore the state initiative; and that will require an enabling act; favors the sale of state school and granted lands in order to place them on the taxrolls, the money to be derived as interest to be used for the support of state schools and state institutions; condemns the regents of the State University for the employment of a large number of instructors who openly teach theories derogatory to the flag as well as treason and the destruction of our present form of government; demands the elimination of at least two of the state normal schools; demands amendment to the initiative, referendum and recall in order to prevent their invocation for light and trivial causes; deprecates the condition of business and labor due to Democratic policy and indorses the movement in opposition to the so-called "seven sisters" measures.

The 26 delegates elected to the state convention, each with one-half vote, were:

J. C. Hogan, A. H. Griffin, W. A. Rupp, Edward Finch, W. J. Patterson, Edward Benn, Neil Cooney, L. W. Burnett, E. E. Borer, C. C. Quackenbush, J. W. Clark, George Wolff, Joseph Jacob, F. W. Loomis, Mrs. Clara French, Mrs. H. B. Marcy, J. A. Vance, E. F. Avey, Fred Rosamond, Edwin May, L. Brewer, R. K. Wade, F. J. Brown, J. R. O'Donnell, W. A. Bush, H. H. Brewer, J. A. Lewis, George L. Davis, George Emerson, Alexander Polson, A. F. Peterson, Henry McCleary, James Callahan, J. V. Posey, F. C. Beam and Charles Smith.

FARMER FALLS TO DEATH

CHEHALIS, Wash., June 1.—(Special.)—Hans Mathiesen, 45 years old, a well-known farmer living on the south

GOODNIGHT NOT INSANE

VANCOUVER FARMER PAROLED AFTER THREE YEARS.

Asylum Officials Say Patient Unquestionably Is Normal and May Have Had Cause for Excitement.

TACOMA, Wash., June 1.—(Special.)—At the close of a hearing of the habeas corpus petition of Edward Goodnight, a Vancouver, Wash., farmer, who declared he had been railroaded to Stellacom Asylum three years ago by relatives, Superior Judge Card today released him on parole for six months. Fear that Goodnight might cause trouble for those who sent him to the asylum was all that stood between him and an unconditional release.

Two physicians and Superintendent Calhoun, of the hospital, testified on behalf of Goodnight. They declared that if his story of persecution is true, there was no cause for his confinement. He exhibited and that he unquestionably is sane. Prosecutor Dow questioned Goodnight closely.

"My brother-in-law caused my wife to go against me," said Goodnight. "He was a man of considerable means, and when my wife started to divorce me, I began to plan a suit against him for $50,000, for alienation of my wife's affections. I got into trouble with the liquor interests there, too, and one day was taken to the Courthouse and questioned by a couple of men. I don't know who they were. Judge McMaister was there after I answered a few questions, dazed as to what it was all about. Judge McMaister turned away with a laugh and I was taken to Stellacom Asylum. I have been held in the asylum for three years. The only redeeming feature has been the kind treatment I received there at the hands of Dr. Calhoun and his assistants."
