Olympia.

Passenger Site Acquired.

The company has acquired an excellent passenger site in the heart of the Olympia business district, at the corner of Fourth and Adams streets, only two blocks from the Statehouse. It is proposed to erect thereon a modern passenger station of brick and stone costing probably $15,000. Architects in the chief engineer's office in Portland now are preparing plans.

Construction work between Chambers Prairie and Olympia will not be difficult, says J. R. Holman, chief engineer for the O.-W. R. & N. Company. He expects that with favorable weather during the next few months the grading job can be finished before September 1, which will permit the rails to be laid and the line opened for operation by November 1.

Since Mr. Holman assumed the office chief engineer a few months ago has moved his office together. he has moved his office, together with his office force and equipment, from Seattle to Portland. The engineering department now occupies all the north and part of the east side of the twelfth floor of the Wells-Fargo building. The personal record bureau which formerly shared the rooms on the east side of the twelfth floor of the Wells-Fargo building. shared the rooms on the front has been moved to the Ash-street walk contracts, Bechill Bros., contractors will be the only piece of new work undertaken by the O.-W. R. & N. Company this year. Preliminary surveys on the proposed extension to South Bend and Raymond were made a few months ago, but definite arrangements for extending the lines into that territory have not been concluded.

AD CLUB WILL PLAY ANGEL

Los Angeles Delegates to Bring Child

Los Angeles Delegates to Bring Child Home to Portland.

With the business trip to the Pacific Coast convention of Ad Clubs, the delegation of Admen of Los Angeles has linked charity and social service by adopting as its mascot and escort-ing to Portland little 3-year-old Cora Cochran, one of the wards of the As-sociated Charities in this city. Little Miss Cochran was sent from the baby home in Portland to Los An-the baby home in Portland to Los Angeles some months ago for temporary residence with a family in that city. When it came time for her to be brought back to Portland, funds for transportation were not available at once. Before the Associated Charities could make arrangements for it, the Los Angeles Admen solved the problem by adopting the child as their mascot on the trip. News of this plan was received by Secretary V. R. Manning, of the Charities yesterday.

The Los Angeles delegation will pass through Portland on its way to Vancouver, B. C., Wednesday morning on the Shasta Limited, and Mr. Manning, who is himself a member of the Ad Club in Portland, will meet them at the Club in Portland, will meet them at the station and take charge of their little

COAST SETTLERS APPEAL

Effort Made to Reduce Area of Land They Must Clear.

Efforts will be made through the Oregon delegation in Congress by the Portland Chamber of Commerce to secure an amendment to the homestead act which will reduce the amount of clearing necessary on the part of the settler on a homestead in the coast counties of Oregon. Under the present act the coast county homesteader is on the same terms as the Eastern Oregon settler. The nature of the timbering in the eastern part of the state and the more scanty underbrush in that section makes the trouble of clearing very light in comparison to the clearing in the coast counties where the land is heavily timbered and thickly covered with underbrush.

Baking Helps

Learn to Regulate the Heat of Your Oven

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine

There is just one way to make your cakes rise high and keep an even surface. Have your oven moderate at first, until the cake is fully rizen; then increase the heat, so as to brown it over quickly. Extreme heat stiffens the dough. If you stiffen the outside of the cake before the rising is complete, you stop the rising process. Then the leavening gas, forming inside, will bulge up the center, where the dough is still soft, and spoil the shape of the cake.

Norn—Biscuits or other pastries made from stiff dough, that are cut into shapes for the oven, bake in a hot oven. This is because the cut surfaces of the dough do not sear ov r, but rather leave the pores open, allowing the leavening gas to escape and the heat to penetrate readily. Small ovens cool quickly; therefore they should be made several degrees hotter than a larger oven, and the less the door is opened the better. Do not attempt to bake bread and pastry together. Bread rebread and pastry together. Bread requires prolonged, moderate baking pastry the reverse.

Have a strong underheat for baking powder preparations, especially pastry.

These are only a few of the many baking helps found in the K C Cook's Book - a copy of which may be secured by sending the colored certificate taken from a 25-cent can of K C Baking Powder to the Jaques Mrs. Co., Chicago.
