300 Merrymakers in Automobiles Defy Downpour-Fancy Costumes Add Zest and Color to Enjoyable Programme and Dance.

One of the most unique and en oyable social affairs in Portland for o, these many moons, was the cabaret - musicale given by members of the Monday Musical Club, of this city, at the clubhouse of the Portland Automobile Club, about 18 miles east of this city, Saturday night.

More than 300 people attended. The crowd was one of merry-makers, determined to enjoy themselves, although the rain came down in torrents most of the time. Guests from this city went to the scene of festivity in autos, and the roads were fairly good, although two or three machines were in trouble. It was at first intended to place the dining tables on the lawn and under dining tables on the lawn and under tents, but the rain intervened, and the function became an indoor one. Tables were arranged on the main floor of the clubhouse, and while dinner was served, vocal and instrumental soloists and dancers rendered selections, cabaret fashion. All the "acts" were excellent. Many guests were in fancy costumes, and Russian princes, Turkish harem-beauties, Dutch dancing girls. German army officers.

Miss Etta Waller, assisted by Miss Bessia Severns, gave a linen shower at the former's home, 737 East Forty-first street, Saturday to Miss Phoebe Jones, who will become the bride next Wednesday of J. Frank Guerin. Those participating in the event were the Misses Bertha Plant, Alice Hughes, Dorothy Jones, Ruth Dye, Anna Twiss, Zetta Shafer, Bessie Severn and Etta Waller. Refreshments were served.

The Portland Academy's "senior prom" was one of the most delight-ful affairs of the past week. The festivity, which took place Friday in the academy "gym," was attended by a large number of members of the younger set.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Mills entertained on Saturday night at their home in honor of Mrs. W. Edward Bouschor.

Social Dance Follows. A social dance followed. The party danced the "good nightdance" about 11 P. M. and just as the autos began the journey to Portland, the rain ceased, and moonlight showed

MULTORPOR CLUB MEETS Oldest Republican Society to Hold

The Multorpor Republican Club will meet during the lunch hour today at the Portland Hotel. The meeting will be informal, without a regular speaker, except that F. E. Beach will make a statement of his trip in relation to business conditions. Suggestions will be made for the campaign. This meeting is the first since the primary election.

The Multorpor Club is the oldest political organization in the state. It was organized more than 20 years ago. During the last year quite a number of meetings were held during the lunch hour, when an address was delivered on a political or semi-political question. It is the policy of the club to meet once each month.

Marian agreed. It was after 1 o'clock in the morning and together they set out for the Velliquette, one of those drab side-street hotels on the outskirts of the Rialto, where transient theatri-cal people dwelt for a few nights or a week.

The streets were practically deserted as the two made their way toward the Velliquette. It was a far later hour than Marian had ever before been abroad without a male escort and she passed every alleyway with nervous apprehension. It was a matter of surprise to her that the tenor, who had been chatting with them at their table for half an hour, had not insisted upon escorting them to the hotel. As yet unused to the easy familiarity and the absence of ordinary convention in the habits of stage folk, she resented the other's inattention. other's inattention.
