

CAMP AT GEARHART IS FORMALLY NAMED

Adjutant-General Finzer Gives Information Officially to Men of Oregon Guard.

IDAHO AND REGULARS JOIN

Recruits Will Be Received to Within Few Days of Moving—July 12 to 22 Are Dates—Elaborate Programme Arranged.

Gearhart has been selected finally and definitely for the annual encampment of the Oregon National Guard, the National Guard of Idaho and the regular soldiers stationed at Vancouver, Wash. Official local announcement to this effect was made yesterday by Adjutant-General Finzer.

The encampment is expected to be the most largely attended in recent years. It will be held from July 12 to July 22. In the camp will be the Third Regiment, Battery A, Troop A, Cavalry; the ambulance company and the hospital corps of the Oregon National Guard, one regiment of the Idaho National Guard, with an ambulance company and hospital corps, and the Twenty-first Infantry of the United States Army from Vancouver. All will assemble in Portland and move to the camp grounds by special train.

An elaborate programme of maneuvers, drills and general military life has been arranged for both the guardsmen and the regulars. All will be on the same footing and the camp will be maintained under strict military regulations and order. Extensive training will be given the men in "extended order," in "close order" drill and in maneuvers of various kinds. A series of military lectures also has been arranged.

The camp grounds will be north of the golf links at Gearhart. These grounds are shady and well provided with water and other conveniences. It is expected that, in addition to the military camp life, those who go will be able to enjoy a delightful outing, inasmuch as the camp is near the ocean and in a beautiful scenic country.

Recruits to the guard will be received up to within a few days of the departure, and special inducements for enlistment are offered. The Idaho National Guard regiment, which will join the Oregon boys, will assemble from various parts of Idaho, taking in all the companies of that state.

Orders for camp regulations are being prepared by Adjutant-General Finzer and will be issued within a few days.

RAILROAD MAGNATES HOME

President Gilman Invades Southeastern Empire of Oregon.

L. C. Gilman, president of the North Bank Railroad system, returned yesterday from a trip into the interior of Eastern Oregon. He was accompanied by W. D. Scott, general manager of the company; W. D. Skinner, traffic manager; J. T. Hardy, traveling freight and passenger manager, and Charles H. Carey, counsel for the company.

The party proceeded to Bend by rail last Thursday and then took automobiles to Prineville and Burns, whence they went to "Bill" Hanley's famous ranch. They then went to Lakeview, Silver Lake and La Pine, covering in all about 500 miles by machine. An intended trip to Klamath Falls was foregone on account of lack of time. There are no railroads in the interior country visited, and President Gilman never before had traversed it.

"We had no troubles except the troubles," said President Gilman last night. "The trip has been a success, insofar as projected railroad construction is concerned."

ELKS AFTER ME, HE SAYS

Two Men Sent to Asylum and Third Hears "Chicken Thief" Accusers.

H. B. Selter and Ed Johnson were committed to the State Insane Asylum yesterday. Selter, a giant in stature, wandered into County Clerk Coffey's office.

"What can I do for you?" asked Coffey.

"The Elks are after me," said the giant. Coffey steered him around to the office of Special Agent Bulger, in charge of sanity examinations.

"For two and a half years I have been looking for the man who tied a can of opium to my back," said Selter to Bulger, and Bulger took him up on a private elevator to the seventh floor to find the man.

Johnson, a Swede, has been in the United States 14 months. In a County Jail cell he tore out the stationary washstand as if it had been cardboard.

H. Horan told Agent Bulger yesterday that he hears people accusing him of being a chicken thief. He will be examined today.

GIRLS RECEIVE DIPLOMAS

Impressive Graduation Service Held at St. Helen's Hall.

The graduating exercises of St. Helen's Hall were held on Monday night. Ten girls received diplomas, finishing the course with honors. The service was simple but impressive. A hymn, the reading of the 84th psalm, an anthem and the hymn "Alleluia," were followed by the address given by the Rt. Rev. Frederick Keator, bishop of Olympia. He spoke earnestly and inspiringly.

The diplomas were presented by Bishop Keator and singing concluded the evening.

On account of the recent passing of the Rt. Rev. Charles Scadding the exercises attending all the term-end affairs at St. Helen's Hall have been of a simple form.

The graduates were Adele Bray, Dorothy Durham, Evelyn Farrar, Helen Kelly, Esther Gilpin, Beatrice Stone, Susan Truby, Adele Yorke and Elsie Walker. Diplomas in music, Anna Barker.

SPOONING CHARGE DENIED

Naval Militia Officers Say Patrolman Only Saw Man Talk to Girl.

Officers of the Oregon Naval Militia yesterday made the following statement regarding Policeman Larsen's recent report that there was spooning on the dock near the Boston:

"We have investigated the facts connected with the article published in regard to the officers of the U. S. S. Boston having young girls aboard the ship the evening of June 14.

"It appears that Officer Larsen, of the police force, found an enlisted man of the Naval Militia on the large loading dock, at the foot of Halsey street, talking with a young woman at 9:30 P. M. and sent the man aboard ship and escorted the girl to her home. When Officer Larsen returned later the man to whom he spoke was one of the petty officers who is employed as a watchman. The watchman went up to the dock on his regular round of inspection and did not question the authority of the police officer when he understood the reasons for that officer's action.

"During the warm weather and especially during the Rose Festival the general public has been allowed to be on this loading dock, regardless of the hours during which visitors are allowed aboard the ship. This privilege has entailed considerable extra labor for the Naval Militia, as it is difficult to patrol the dock in ad-

INDIAN FIGHTERS WILL MEET TODAY

Veterans to Recount Struggles of Early Days in Great Oregon Country.

RANKS ARE FAST THINNING

Only 200 of Once Large Army Are Expected to Gather for Business Sessions and Entertainment at Woodman Hall.

The stirring days of yore when paleface and redskin struggled for supremacy over the vast Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana country will be recounted in all their harrowing details today at Woodman Hall, Eleventh and Alder streets, by the bent and gray old men who were the palefaces of that day. It will be the annual reunion of the Indian War veterans.

Although the ranks have been thinned rapidly in the last few years, it is expected there will be close to 200 veterans on hand from various parts of the four states. They look upon the reunion as the one big event of every year, partly because it is there that they live once more in the happy and thrilling days of the past and partly because they are given a rousing and interesting reception by their sons and daughters. This year will be no exception to the rule.

The veterans began to arrive in the city yesterday. A large number will reach here this morning from nearby points. The first meeting will be held at 10 A. M. at Woodman Hall, at which time business will be transacted, including the election of officers for the year. This will take until nearly noon, at which time they will be guests at an elaborate banquet to be spread in Woodman Hall by their sons, daughters and friends.

The veterans will be seated at a single table. A programme of music will be carried out and there will be an informal programme of speeches. It has not been decided who will talk, but it is likely some of the veterans themselves will be called upon.

Business Session to End It.

The entertainment will continue until the middle of the afternoon, the whole time to be given to features which will interest the veterans and their wives. Later in the afternoon another business session will be held, after which the reunion will close for another year.

The ranks of the veterans are very thin. For example, Portland and vicinity had a role originally of 1200 members. There are nine left. The majority have died. Others have moved away. Linn County 10 years ago had 80 of the veterans. Now there are four. At the reunion last year there were 500 veterans present. At the session the majority of the members were 80 years or more old. Four of them were 97 years old.

ALBERTA MARKET DRAWS

FROM 600 TO 700 PERSONS BUY ALL PRODUCTS OFFERED.

The Alberta public market, which was opened yesterday forenoon, under the charge of the Alberta Women's Club, on East Twenty-third street, brought out nine wagons of produce and floral articles, which were practically sold out in a short time. As was the experience at the opening of the Knott-street market, in Albina, there were many more people to buy than farmers to supply them.

The market opened at 6 A. M. and everything was closed out by 10 o'clock. Mrs. Josephine R. Sharp, president of the club, and the committee of women were present and assisted in marketing the produce. Buyers came early and kept coming until 10:30 o'clock. Mayor Albee came and remained for a short time. It is estimated that between 600 and 700 persons visited the market.

The Alberta market will be opened Saturday. That portion north of Alberta street on East Twenty-third will be reserved for the wagons of farmers. South of Alberta street the west side of the street will be reserved by girls and women, and the east side of the street for boys. This arrangement is made to develop a school and neighborhood market. The girls and women will

"THE HOUSE OF BONDAGE" IS SANCTIONED BY MAYOR.

Official orders having been issued against the showing in Portland of "The House of Bondage" in motion pictures at the Hellig Theater, arrangements were made to show the pictures at the Skating Rink auditorium at St. Johns, with the unqualified sanction of Mayor Vincent and the Council.

"The House of Bondage" had been advertised extensively to appear at the Hellig Theater this week. Late last week Manager Fangle, of the Hellig, arranged for a special "run" of the films for the benefit of the Official Board of Censors. The judgment rendered was unfavorable, and such a report was tendered to Mayor Albee and the Chief of Police.

Monday morning the films were shown to Chief Clark, of the police department; Municipal Judge Stevenson, Judge Gatens, ex-Senator Gearin and the Mayor's secretary. The final edict of "no show" was delivered late Monday night. Judge Gatens and ex-Senator Gearin were in favor of showing the pictures.

After inspection by the Mayor and Council of St. Johns, who considered the pictures of strong moral value, arrangements were made with the management of a skating rink in St. Johns to show the pictures Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week between the hours of 1 P. M. and 11 P. M.

"The people may judge the pictures," said Manager Fangle, yesterday.

EXPLOSION ENDANGERS 2

Damage of $200 Done by Ignition of Distillate at Bundy's Bath.

Two persons almost lost their lives and damage of $200 was done yesterday morning by the explosion of distillate in a room at Bundy's Baths, in the Willamette River, near the foot of Ellsworth street.

Joseph Valentine, who was in the room, ran out and jumped into the river, with his clothing partly on fire. He was not burned.

Thinking that Valentine was in the room, Harry Supple ran in to save him. His hair and face were slightly scorched. He ran out again.

ONE-ARM ORCHESTRA PLAYS

Unique Portland Organization Leaves on Tour of State.

Members of the Portland one-armed orchestra left last night for Hood River, where they will give an entertainment. They also have bookings for The Dalles, Pendleton and La Grande. They expect to give their act a "try out" with a view to entering vaudeville.

The only member of the orchestra who has two arms is Professor A. M. Schuff, conductor, a graduate of a conservatory at Leipzig. The members of the orchestra are enabled to play by means of mechanical devices and their own ingenuity.

The members are: E. W. Carpenter, piano; A. L. Munson, first violin; Ross Magina, second violin; W. H. Tiesken, mandolin; R. A. Bates, trombone, and L. M. Cox, cello.
