

SENTENCES OF 18 DYNAMITERS STAND

President Refuses Clemency to All but Six Convicted on Conspiracy Charge.

TWO HELD IN ABEYANCE

Frank M. Ryan, Head of Structural Ironworkers, Faces Longest Term, Seven Years—Advice of McReynolds Followed.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Of 24 men convicted of dynamite conspiracy in the cases growing out of the destruction of the Los Angeles Times building, 18 must serve their terms in a Federal penitentiary and two decisions are merely held in abeyance.

Frank M. Ryan, president of the Structural Iron Workers, is the heaviest loser, as he must serve a sentence of seven years. All the 18 are due to report tomorrow at the Federal prison at Leavenworth except Eugene Clancy, who, as he must travel from California, was allowed until Friday to begin serving his sentence.

Minor Defendants Set Free.

The President commuted to expire at once the sentences of four minor defendants. These are Michael J. Hannon, of Scranton, Pa.; Frank H. Painter, of Omaha; Fred J. Mooney, of Duluth, and William Shupe, of Chicago.

Hannon had been sentenced to three years, Painter to two; Mooney and Shupe each got a year and a day. Clemency for John H. Berry, four years, and Paul J. Morrison, three years, was held in abeyance, the men being permitted to submit separate petitions. Both are St. Louis men.

No Memorandum Given on Action.

No memorandum was given on accompanying the President's action, as sometimes is done in such cases, but it was understood the President followed the recommendations of Attorney-General McReynolds. The four men whose sentences were commuted had a minor part in the conspiracy, the Government charged.

Score Must Serve Sentences.

The defendants, in addition to Ryan, who must serve their sentences are: Eugene A. Clancy, San Francisco, six years; Michael J. Young, Boston, six years; Frank C. Conroy, New York, six years; Philip A. Cooley, New Orleans, six years; John T. Butler, Buffalo, N. Y., six years; Charles T. Beum, Minneapolis, three years; Henry W. Leggett, Pittsburgh, three years; Ernest G. W. Basey, Indianapolis, three years; J. E. Munsey, Salt Lake, six years; Peter J. Smith, Cleveland, O., four years; Murray L. Pennell, Springfield, Ill., three years; W. Bert Brown, Kansas City, three years; Edward N. Smythe, Peoria, Ill., three years; George Anderson, Cleveland, three years; Frank J. Higgins, Boston, two years; Michael J. Cunnane, Philadelphia, three years; William E. Ridden, Milwaukee, three years.

All the men were convicted of conspiracy and the transportation of dynamite in interstate commerce for the wrecking of buildings and other structures in a labor war between the structural ironworkers' organization and the employers.

New trials have been granted and are pending for the following: Olaf A. Tveitmo, San Francisco; William J. McCann, Kansas City; James E. Ray, Peoria, Ill.; Richard J. Moore, Chicago; Fred Sherman, Indianapolis; William Bernhard, Cincinnati.

M'NARY AND BENSON MEET

Stipulation to Be Drawn and Effort Made to Settle Case.

SALEM, Or., June 24.—(Special.)—At a conference today between Justice McNary and Judge Benson, who apparently are tied for the Republican nomination for Justice of the Supreme Court, it was agreed that Justice McNary draw a stipulation for consideration by Judge Benson in Portland tomorrow. Both of them agree that there should be a recount in certain precincts in Multnomah County, and the stipulation will relate to this.

After the recount Judge Benson declared he apparently was leading Justice McNary by a few votes. Judge McNary said, however, that he had all the figures before him, and if either of them had an advantage he believed it was himself.

NEW TEMPORARY RULER OF SERBIA AND FATHER, WHO HAS ABDICATED FOR TIME BECAUSE OF HEALTH.

KING PETER RESTS

Servian Throne Abdicated Temporarily to Second Son.

SERIOUS ILLNESS KNOWN

Action Believed to Foreshadow Complete Retirement, Held in Contemplation for Some Time.

Retiring Ruler Is 73.

BELEGRADE, Servia, June 24.—King Peter I of Servia today temporarily abdicated the throne in favor of his second son, Prince Alexander.

The King left Belgrade in the afternoon for the baths at Vrnja, in the southern part of Servia. There was deep interest in the capital following a note issued by the official agency in announcing the king's departure, but did not say he had abdicated, until the king himself made a statement that he was resigning the government of Servia during his absence from the capital to Crown Prince Alexander.

Complete Abdication May Follow. A royal proclamation issued shortly afterward was as follows: "Owing to ill health, I am unable to perform my duties and in accordance with paragraph 69 of the Servian constitution, I confide the government of Servia to my heir, the Crown Prince Alexander, during my illness."

As it was known that King Peter was seriously ill, the first impression given the public by the issue of the proclamation was that his majesty had little surprise in court circles in Belgrade if today's action by the King should turn out to be merely a preliminary step to abdication, which King Peter is said to have had in contemplation for some time.

Accession Sequel to Murder. King Peter I, who is 70 years old, ascended the Servian throne June 15, 1903, after the murder of King Alexander and Queen Draga, and was the choice of the conspirators who plotted his overthrow.

King Peter until his accession led an adventurous life. He studied in Switzerland and then went to the French Military Academy at St. Cyr. He participated in the Franco-German war in Russia as an officer of the foreign legion.

For many years he is said to have engaged in conspiracies against King Milan of Servia, but for 45 years he himself never set foot on Servian soil until he had been elected king by the Servian parliament.

Elder Prince Renounces Throne. King Peter's second son, Alexander, heir to the throne because his older brother, George, renounced his rights in 1909. The king's only daughter, Helen, is the wife of Grand Duke Ivan of Russia.

King Peter is the descendant of a peasant, Karageorge, "Kara" meaning "black" in the language of the country. Karageorge was the leader of the insurrection against Turkey in 1804. He reigned as prince of Servia from 1804 until 1813, when he was supplanted by an Obrenovitch. King Peter's father, Alexander, reigned from 1842 to 1848, when he gave way in another insurrection.

King Peter's wife, who was a princess of Montenegro, died 24 years ago.

POSTAL IS ORDERED OUT

Lack of Franchise Spurs Council to Direct Step Against Company.

EUGENE, Or., June 24.—(Special.)—After apparently ignoring for more than a year the notices of the city that it has been operating in Eugene without a franchise, the Postal Telegraph company in Eugene to remove its poles.

Neither the Mayor nor the City Attorney will reveal the time to be given the company to "get out" but the action was taken after the Council ascertained that it could legally carry out its order.

The action is the first step in a renewed programme to have removed from the business streets all poles and wires. The City Council will take advantage of the fact that the franchisees of the telephone and telegraph companies in Eugene expire within the next few years. It is proposed to grant new franchises for overhead wires.

OUTLOOK ALARMING FOR DEMOCRATS

Congress Eager to Drop Legislation and Fight Hard in Congressional Campaign.

STRENGTH IS DECREASING

Criticism on Foreign and Domestic Policies Causes Apprehension. President Will Be Called to Take Stump to Save Party.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The 1914 Congressional campaign, which six months ago promised to be a perfunctory occasion, with the Democrats certain to win, is beginning to lose all aspects of dullness. It gives promise of being exciting and entertaining from the start.

That explains the anxiety of Congress to drop legislation and get home to attend to the political fences. This anxiety is going to increase in geometrical progression as the Summer advances, and it will not take many weeks before it will be found difficult to keep quorums in either House or Senate—especially in the Senate.

The Congressional campaign and the question of what party is going to control the next House are shrouded in more uncertainty now than a few months ago. Then it seemed almost unthinkable that the Democrats might lose the House.

In recent weeks there have been many signs of a falling off of Democratic strength. Politicians here have been hearing about it from many directions. Democrats have been disconcerted by it. And it will take many weeks before it will be found difficult to keep quorums in either House or Senate—especially in the Senate.

Big Slump Is Predicted. The indications are that the Democrats will experience a big slump in the House. They will not lose control unless there is an avalanche. The fact divided will be distinctly in their favor.

Nevertheless, the Democrats are sufficiently apprehensive over the situation to make a hard campaign, and will be busy on organization work and awaiting the advent of the Colonel from South America.

The reasons for the trouble are not far to seek and are not a few. Like every other Administration, the Wilson administration has had its critics, while the voices of criticism are apt to be hushed in the months immediately after inauguration, they grow in number as the Presidential term gets older.

Tariff and other Policies Opposed. The tariff has stirred some opposition, the Mexican policy has aroused much censure in some quarters. Colombia is unpopular and the foreign policy of the party generally cannot be said to have created votes.

The movement for repeal of free trade through the canal has not helped. The cost of living has not come down and the trust issue looms up as difficult as ever; rural legislation is to be sidetracked; conservation legislation is not in evidence; economy in expenditures is wanting, and the civil service system has been given many punts, and so on.

It will not be an easy job to satisfy the voters about some of these issues, and the Democratic Congressional campaign is beginning to understand it has no easy task on its hands. It is hoping and praying that nothing untoward happens this season to the Bull Moose.

PERILOUS RESCUE MADE

MEN LEAP INTO TUMBLING SEA WHEN LIFEBOAT FALLS.

Women and Children of Belgian Vessel All Are Saved From Wreck on Scilly Islands.

HUGHTOWN, Scilly Islands, June 24.—The saving of the passengers of the wrecked Belgian steamer Gothland was accomplished by almost superhuman efforts on the part of the steamship crew and the lifesaving crew which came to the rescue. Members of the lifesaving crew from St. Mary's told today how one of the Gothland's small boats, crammed with women and children, broke away from the davits and fell 30 feet in to the sea.

The bottom of the boat was smashed and all were thrown into the water. The women and children struggled helplessly in the waves. A quartermaster of the Gothland sprang from the steamer's deck and succeeded in saving three of the women.

Several of the lifesaving crew also jumped into the water and handed drowning children to their companions in the rescue boat until all had been saved. There was a heavy sea running and all salvage work was perilous, but eventually all were taken safely ashore.

The crew of the Gothland, which was on the voyage from Montreal to Rotterdam, went down today to Jettison some of the cargo of grain in the hope of lightening the boat sufficiently to refloat her.

ADMEN CHOOSE CHICAGO

WEST LOSES SPIRITED FIGHT FOR SAN FRANCISCO.

President Woodhead Not Likely to Be Opposed for Re-election—High Ethical Standard Set.

TORONTO, Ont., June 24.—After an exciting session of the nominating committee of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America, it was decided today to hold the next convention in Chicago in 1915.

San Francisco and Minneapolis both tried hard to get the convention, but when the final ballot was taken, 23 votes had been cast in favor of Chicago, 26 for San Francisco and five for Minneapolis. It is understood that when the nomination was held on Thursday, President Woodhead, of San Francisco, will not be opposed.

The spirited fight for San Francisco was led by George Colton, formerly of Portland, and he was assisted by all the Portland delegates.

R. D. Carpenter, of the Meier & Frank Company, Portland, Or., who is among those from Oregon attending, said today that the convention marked a real epoch in advertising.

"Honor toward and service to the ultimate consumer has been the keynote," he added.

"My observations here and in many other cities visited in a 4000-mile trip have convinced me that the standard of our newspapers and the advertising carried by them compares favorably with the best and is far above the average."

George Kleiser, of Portland, and his partner, Walter F. Foster, are here attending the outdoor advertising division of the convention.

BANK SYSTEM DELAYED

NEW CURRENCY MACHINERY NOT TO BE READY UNTIL SEPT. 1.

Failure of Senate to Rush Confirmation of Reserve Board One Factor Defeating August 1 Opening.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Although August 1 is the date which Treasury Department officials originally set as the probable time for the organization of the Federal reserve banks, it now seems likely that the organization will not be completed until September 1. The Senate's delay in the confirmation of members of the Federal Reserve Board and delay in the choice of directors of the Federal reserve banks will defeat the plan to open August 1.

The organization committee is engaged in compiling lists of nominations for directorships in the 12 Federal reserve banks. After the complete list has been compiled it will be submitted to the electors named by all member banks. These electors are to meet within 15 days after the receipt by them of the list of nominees.
