LINER IS SENT EAST

Santa Catalina Takes Cargo for South America.

VESSEL MAY USE CANAL

Oregon Cherries, Beef Casings, Tallow and Cascara for New York on Manifest--Gleblochy Is to Leave in Few Days.

W. R. Grace & Co. dispatched the New York liner Santa Catalina with her second cargo from Portland last night. When she takes on shipments ready at San Francisco, she will have a full load. Unlike the policy that ruled when the Santa Clara was loaded, the Santa Catalina has a number of consignments for ports south of the Panama Canal.

Panama Canal.

The Santa Clara went part way through the canal from the Pacific side and then turned back to continue her voyage by way of the Straits of Magellan. The fact the Santa Catalina took on West Const consignments may not be a bar to her using the canal if it is ready when she reaches Balboa, as West Const freight can be transshipped.

Flour Goes to South America.

Fleur Goes to South America.

In addition to cargo the vessel loaded on Puget Sound for South America, she received here 98,110 feet of lumber, valued at $980, and 3500 sacks of flour at $6400, for Iquique, and for Callao there is 204,940 feet of lumber at $2222 and 40 boxes of Oregon cherries at 355, while Guayaquil draws 545 sacks of flour worth $940 and for Balboa are lumber consignments totaling 1,320,247 feet at $8797.

Items for New York on the manifest were 1058 cases of Oregon cherries, 11 tierces of beef casings, 145 tierces of tallow, 533 sacks of cascara and 413,183 feet of lumber, with a case of plated ware for Meridan, Conn., and 1850 sacks of flour for San Francisco.

The Royal Mail steamer Glenlochy, loading lumber: Kalama, will depart in a few days. She will be turned around at Kalama this morning and will complete loading this afternoon, when she will return here and may get away at daylight Tuesday.

The British steamer Lord Sefton, under engagement to the Pacific Export Lumber Company to load a cargo of creeosted ties for British India, arrived at St. Helens yesterday. She loaded coal on the East Coast for Magdalena Bay and on arrival was ordered to San Francisco, later being sent to Unslaska to discharge. She will unload a small amount of coal at St. Helens.

There will be 200 men and 11 officers from here and about 250 men and 13 officers from the Washington Naval Militia. A final inspection will be held on the Boston Tuesday night and some of the "rockies" may be summoned there tomorrow for inspection.

Korea's Author-Skipper Sends Autograph Copy of Book.

"Yankee Swanson," written by Captain A. W. Nelson, now master of the Pacific Mail liner Korea, and who navigated the "Big Three" liner Beaver previous to Captain Mason, being assigned as commander, is now a part of the marine archives of The Oregonian, an autograph copy having been received yesterday from the author-captain Nelson forwarded another copy early in the month to Washington for the personal perusal of President Wilson, and has received a flattering letter of appreciation therefor, the Nation's Executive promising that he will complete the volume, which he said he had started to read, with keen interest. The story is based largely on personal experiences of the Mail line skipper, who has kept a diary since howhood days at sea.

Former Portlander Goes to Pacific Coast Line July 1.

Word has reached Portland that Captain John F. Blaine, superintendent of the Oregon drydock about three years ago, who left to enter the United States Steamboat Inspection Service, on the East Coast, has been named as-sistant manager of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, at Seattle, effective July 1.

The new appointee is well known here because of his former connection with the drydock and having been associated with others in the formation of the Oregon Naval Reserve. He was in Portland a few weeks ago en route to Boston from Seattle.

ASTORIA, Or., June 28.—(Special.)—
Yesterday afternoon an effort was made by the Quartermaster's Department steamers Fornance and Guy Howard to pick up the third submarine mine that was recently planted on the edge of Peacock Spit. They were unable to find the mine, which has apparently been buried in the sand, but the dragging lines fouled with some obstruction, supposedly an old ship's anchor, and a considerable portion of the gear was carried away.
