CANNERY STOCK TAKEN.—From reports received by Secretary Thomas, it is estimated that more than half of the $151,000 capital stock of the Gresham Fruit Growers' Association has been subscribed, and that the association will be able to organize for business at the meeting called for July 6. The articles of incorporation have been filed and legal notices for the stockholders' meeting are being mailed. It was planned to place 600 shares of the stock in Eastern Multnomah and Clackamas counties, but it seems that the shares will be held by about 200 interested farmers. The association will model its affairs after the fruit-growers associations of Puyallup and Sumner, Wash., and the cannery will be co-operative in all lines.

Patrolman Sherwood, of the District Attorney's office, who is the complainant against the place, declares the place is known as one of the worst blind tigers in the city. The proprietor, S. Bostons, is held on a charge of selling liquor without a license, and D. Bussone, a patron, is detained as a witness. Sherwood said last night that the place has been raided several times and that an abatement suit is pending against the rooming-house.

E. Rushen, Walter S. Johnson, Mrs. J. Fitzgerald and E. E. McNeill are the committee of arrangements.

MILWAUKEE TAXPAYERS TO MEET.—The taxpayers of the Milwaukee School District will convene tonight at the schoolhouse in special session to consider the question of erecting high school houses in Minthorne and Island additions, one in East Milwaukee and another in South Milwaukee. There is some controversy over this matter. The question of furnishing free textbooks will be considered at this meeting.

POLICE PICNIC ENJOYED

SECOND ANNUAL OUTING OF BAND AT ESTACADA IS SUCCESS.

Dancing, Concerts, Pistol Shooting and Athletic Sports for Prizes are Included in Day's Programme.

Eleven cars crowded with persons, among whom was half the police force of the city, went to Estacada on the second annual excursion of the Portland Police Band yesterday. The picnicers crowded the little city, indulged in all sorts of games and amusements during the day and returned on three special trains in the evening. Some made the trip in automobiles and on motorcycles.

Nearly half of each relief on the police force took the day off to make the trip. They took their families and lunched with them and forgot all about their beats.

The programme included three hours of dancing in the big open-air pavilion erected by the police band and a full list of sports. Everything from pistol shooting to doughnut eating was enjoyed.

Portland business firms had donated a number of valuable prizes to the policemen, and these were awarded the winners of the athletic contests.

For That Unrivalled Song Treasury, "Heart Songs."

The two days that remain after today for our Heart Songs distribution will probably attract crowds that have been dilatory in possessing the greatest work of song music ever published. To say that we have been pleased at its reception is but mildly to express our feelings. The book will be taken from the piano or library thousands of times and sung from during the next few years. We know of no book that could make a home more attractive to the whole family. With four hundred of the most popular songs among the English-speaking peoples, carefully edited, rearranged, harmonized, given a piano-score and pitched in a key adapted to the average voice, it is no wonder that thousands have felt that they must not let the opportunity slip to own so rare a treasure. This is the secret of the enormous distribution going on for the past few weeks from this office. During the two days left tomorrow and Wednesday, we sincerely hope none will go away disappointed. If they do it will not be because we have failed to give them the thing they want. Our remarkable coupon offer is published again in today's paper.—Adv.

MEMORIAL IS HELD

Reverent Honor Is Paid Late Fire Chief Campbell.

HEROIC DEATH EXTOLLED

Dr. Delmer H. Trimble Preaches Eloquent Sermon on the Heroisms of Peace—Many Local Firemen and Families Attend.

Memorial services for late Fire Chief David Campbell, who lost his life in the fire on the morning of June 26, 1911, which destroyed the plant of the Union Oil Company, were held last night at the Centenary Methodist Church.

Many members of the local fire department and their families attended the services and a musical programme was given by the choir. Fire Chief Dowell, in behalf of the department, gave a short talk reminiscent of his predecessor and his work. The sermon was preached by Dr. Delmer H. Trimble.

A three-quarter lifesize oil painting of Chief Campbell occupied an easel on the platform. The picture was draped by the American flag and enfolded in lilies, ferns and laurel, emblematic of the endless life.

Dr. Trimble spoke on "Heroism" from I Corinthians 13:13: "Quit you like men, be strong." He said in part: "The truly brave man is he who loves some worthy object so much that he is willing to risk everything, even life itself, for its attainment. The early heroes were found in the arena of war almost exclusively. But today the emphasis is being put on the valor of peace. Cicero said: 'The majority consider that military life is superior to that of civilians but this opinion must be confined to the heroes of war. There are opportunities of valor even more brilliant than in war.'"

We understand that the fireman who risks his life amidst falling walls, crashing timbers and collapsing floors is as much a hero as he who charges in a forlorn hope upon a battlefield. The physician who risks his life in the cause of humanity in the face of the political boss and does right, even at the expense of his office; the editor who voices right in the face of a discrediting circulation or depleted finances; the preacher who persists in prophetic utterances in spite of principalities and powers and waning popularity; these are the heroes of modern civil life. The widow who, in spite of the loss of her companion, resolves that her children shall have a chance; the parents who sacrifice for the family; the business man who, in the face of financial disaster, holds his courage and does right; these are the heroes that we see on every hand. The grandest of heroic deeds are those that are performed within four walls and in domestic privacy. The world's battlefields have been in the heart chiefly; more heroism has been displayed in the household and the closet than on the most memorable battlefields of history."

ELECTRIC FLOATS READY
 Programme for the Fourth Includes Repetition of Festival Parade.

George L. Baker, manager of the recent Rose Festival, has a corps of men at work lining up the various features incident to the reproduction of the festival on the Fourth of July. The work of the Portland Ad Club. The Redmen will again lead the procession and the parade will be under the auspices of the Portland Ad Club. The Redmen together with a number of other features.

"We hope," said Manager Baker, "to start the parade promptly. We are making sure there will be no expediting delays. So many expressed a desire to see the parade again that the Portland Ad Club has decided to repeat the matter and we are now engaged in making the event one that will bring large crowds to the city."

The line of march has not been fully determined. It is to be different from that used on the night of the festival. In addition to the 21 floats, there will be two or three new ones, symbolic of current events.

Fully a score of boys, headed by J. C. Meenan, acting boys' secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, will leave this morning for Spirit Lake, Wash., where they will open the Y. M. C. A. This will be the fifth season for the Y. M. C. A. camp, and it is expected that more boys will enjoy the outing this year than ever before. An interesting event of the camp will be a track meet for which prizes have been donated by E. S. Collins, president of the Ostrander Railway & Timber Company. Mr. Collins has a camp adjoining the Y. POSTOFFICE PLANS PENDING
 Postmaster Not Yet Notified as to Acceptance of Design.

Although plans for the new postoffice were to have been submitted by competing architects to the supervising architect at Washington last Monday, Postmaster Myers has not yet been notified that any of the plans have been accepted. When the contract will be awarded apparently is still unsettled.

As modified from the original eight-story plan, the new building will be only four stories high. It will be a steel-frame structure with heavy enough foundations so that additional stories may be added later. The supervising architect maintained that a $1,000,000 appropriation available would build only four stories.

The building is to cover almost to the sidewalk line the entire block bounded by Broadway, Hoyt, Park and Glisan streets.

The new cemetery is outside of the city limits on a slightly hill, and it is hoped that in time an electric line will be extended to it.

A number of young people have announced that they would enter this department. It will be carrying out the plans of James Johns in his bequest to the schools.

Preliminary work has been started on the factory of the Western Cooperative Company on its land near the dry dock. It will employ 200 men at the start. A rustic arbor has been built over the fountain and the paths leading to it have been bordered with flowering plants.

The board of directors will meet in Gresham July 6 to receive sealed bids for the new stock water, the poultry house, restroom and machinery hall.

Under the direction of President Lewis a complete change is being made in the grounds and buildings. Reports from the Granges in the county are to the effect that they have started preparing their exhibits.

SOLDIERS ARE VACCINATED
 Sixty National Guard Members Inoculated With Typhoid Serum.

Sixty members of the Oregon National Guard were vaccinated with typhoid prophylaxis by Captain M. E. Marcellus, regimental surgeon, at the Clackamas rifle range yesterday. This is in accordance with orders just received by Dr. Marcellus from the Division of National Guards, Department of War.

This is the first time that the Army regulations governing the vaccination of enlisted men have been applied to the National Guards. The order makes it compulsory that all enlisted men be vaccinated before going into the annual encampment.

On July 8 the second inoculation will be given to 60 Guardsmen and the third will be made about July 15 in camp at Gearhart.

TO WOMEN WHO OVERDO
 Thousands of American women in these homes are daily sacrificing their lives to duty. In order to keep the home neat and attractive, the children well dressed and tidy, women overdo. Soon a weakness or displacement is brought on and they suffer in silence, drifting along from bad to worse. For forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved a boon and a blessing to women in this condition, by restoring their systems to a normal healthy condition. Why don't you try it?—Adv.
