

MILITIA LEAVES ON LONG CRUISE TODAY

Hard Work Ahead for Oregon Men on Cruiser Milwaukee Bound for Honolulu.

WASHINGTON TARS JOIN

Reserves From Each State to Have Turns Manning First-Class Fighting Craft and Firing Guns in Target Practice.

A special train will leave this morning at 9:10 o'clock from a siding abreast of the training ship Boston, carrying the Oregon Naval Militia to Tacoma for the beginning of the 1914 cruise. The train is due at Tacoma at 2 o'clock this afternoon, where the men will board the first-class cruiser Milwaukee. The big Navy vessel will then shift to Seattle to take on divisions of the Washington Naval Militia, and at 10 o'clock tonight her anchor will come up and she will stand down Puget Sound, bound for a 2000-mile run to Honolulu.

Hard Work Expected.

Uncle Sam took personal charge of the Naval Militia recently. From his coffers have been abstracted certain funds for this trip. He intends to dole out more. But like a mercenary tradesman, he looks for business-like returns. In this case they will be in the form of hard work that is calculated to develop the militia. Commander J. M. Reeves transferred recently from the Vicksburg to temporary command of the Milwaukee, and officers of the militia here regard that move as intended solely to supervise the training of the tars of the two states.

This much is known, that Oregon's men have been assigned the post watch on the Milwaukee. Washington men taking the starboard watch. Officers and men will do regular duty. The Milwaukee's force is so small that all men must do their share of the work. General drills will be in order on the voyage to Honolulu and on the return crews will be trained at her guns. Reaching the Coast again, target practice will be held. The Navy Department intends that the Oregon men shall be in full charge of the ship when their crews are firing. Washington men will do the same. This is where some strict markings will be given.

G. F. Blair in Command.

Lieutenant-Commander G. F. Blair is in command of the Oregon Naval Militia. Lieutenant John Beckwith, executive officer, is unable to make the cruise owing to press of business. COUPON FIRM ASKS $75,000

Grocers' and Merchants' Association Charged With Trade Restraint.

Suit for $75,000 damages has been filed in the United States District Court against the Grocers' and Merchants' Association of this city by the Hamilton Corporation, which distributed the Hamilton coupon or trading stamp. The corporation alleges in its complaint that the active campaign against the use of trading stamps by the association has restrained its trade and damaged its business to the amount of $75,000. The company asks three times the amount of the damage done, as provided in the act of July 2, 1906.

Cancellation of contract for coupons by Clossett & Devers was the principal large act of damage assigned to the business of the company. It is asserted, however, that the damage extends into the whole Northwest wherever the influence of the Grocers' and Merchants' Association extends.

The suit is brought against the association, President John Malley, Vice-President J. C. Mann, Secretary George Hockenjos, Treasurer Dan Kellaker, J. W. Caldwell, F. W. Funk, E. C. Gunther and L. R. Merrick, officers of the association, and Dwight Edwards and E. F. Douglas as individuals.

LIQUOR MARKED 'GASOLINE'

Twenty Gallons of Contraband Alcohol Thrown Into Siuslaw.

EUGENE, Or., June 30.—(Special.)—Twenty gallons of contraband liquor were destroyed in the Siuslaw River at Mapleton last week. The liquor, which was said to have been pure alcohol for manufacture into July Fourth celebration drinks, was shipped in as "gasoline," in five-gallon gasoline cans. The spirits were destroyed under the provisions of the law which required liquor to be correctly marked.

The illicit alcohol was destroyed on orders from the Lane County Sheriff, who had learned it was being shipped from Portland on the gasoline schooner Patsy. Deputy Sheriff George Flisk and

"VIOLIN BEAUTIES" DANCE AND SING AS THEY PLAY.

FIVE CLEVER YOUNG WOMEN APPEAR AT THE EMPRESS THIS WEEK.

Immensely clever and regular "poster" beauties are the five young maidens composing the "Violin Beauties" troupe at the Empress Theater this week. They sing to the dances and dance to their songs and play the merry violin to both. They sing a number of the season's song hits.

One of their highly-entertaining novelties is the "National" number in which the entire company takes part. Garbed in the native costume of the land she represents, each girl sings the national song of that country and dances the national dance while playing her violin. Ireland, Spain, Germany, Scotland and Turkey are represented.

Justice of the Peace Joe Morris, of Mapleton, seized it on its arrival. The material is valued at nearly $100.

SALARIES ARE NOT PAID

Governor Gone, Library Commission Employees Get No Vouchers.

SALEM, Or., June 30.—(Special.)—As a result of Governor West's absence from the city, the employees of the State Library Commission have not received their quarterly salary vouchers, which were due Monday.

The law provides that the chairman of the commission shall sign the vouchers, and Governor West having been elected chairman by the Commission, Secretary of State Olcott, who is acting Governor, while a member of the Commission, is not chairman. It was reported here today that the Governor would not return to Salem until the latter part of August.

ANOTHER PORTLAND GIRL SCORES HIT IN THEATRICAL WORLD.

Miss Myrtle Howard.

Another Portland girl has "made good" on the stage, so good, in fact, that New York's famous Winter Garden will accept her this fall under the direction of the Shuberts. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Burgher, 290 East Salmon street, and is known to hundreds of her school-day chums as Myrtle Burgher, her stage name now being Myrtle Howard, although in private life she is Mrs. Joseph Gorham, wife of the general manager of the Gorham Theatrical Enterprises of Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Gorham will pass the rest of the Summer here, as Mr. Gorham's mother and sister also are here.

Toledo Logger Injured.

NEWPORT, Or., June 30.—(Special.)—Edward Thompson, of Toledo, was perhaps fatally injured Monday when a heavy log rolled over him while he was at work in a logging camp. His back may have been broken and internal injuries were sustained.

The Portland Oregonian Pronounces Its HEART SONGS VALEDICTORY

Sorrow and regret—these are the two words that best express our feelings as we say good-bye to the multitude of friends made for this paper by its great musical campaign in distributing that wonderful song-collection "Heart Songs."

The days during which our office has been thronged by the great army of music-lovers who have possessed themselves of this work, have been pleasant to us, and, we are sure, have been both profitable and pleasant to our readers.

Many homes have been enriched by this beautiful volume—an ornament to any library—and a treasure whose value enhances year by year. It has been praised by great musical critics, and well merits the title bestowed upon it by one of them, "The Master Work of Song Music." Our offer has been made in good faith—and our labor richly rewarded. The influence exerted by our unique educational project will be felt for years.

So, to our thousands of "Heart Songs" friends, made in the past few weeks, we say, "Good bye!"

PARADE ROUTE DECIDED

CONFETTI BATTLE MAY BE FEATURE OF JULY 4 CELEBRATION.

General Committee for Woodstock Festivities Meets and Makes Final Preparations for Day.

The route of the electric parade which is to be a feature of the Fourth of July celebration was decided yesterday by the Portland Ad Club. It will be from Twenty-third and Washington streets to Nineteenth, south to Morrison, east to Washington and west to Washington to place of beginning. Queen Thelma and her maids will be in the floats the same as during the Rose Festival. The parade will be preceded by about 1000 Redmen.

If a request made by confetti dealers is granted by the City Commission another confetti battle will be a feature of the Fourth of July celebration and the electric parade. Application for a permit to stage such a battle was made yesterday to the Commission and the question probably will be decided at the regular Council meeting this morning.

The general committee of the Woodstock Fourth of July celebration met Monday night and made final arrangements for the day. The route of the parade was changed to pass the business houses, and all final details arranged. The plans included a daytime programme only, which will consist of the parade; presentation to the school of a large flag by the Parent-Teacher Association, and raising of the flag by the Grand Army of the Republic; songs; reading of the Declaration of Independence by Rev. Frank James; baby show; baseball game; basket lunch; music; game and races.

Ransom, R. L. Lundgren, H. Kirk Beaver, L. J. Westcott, C. Patrick, E. H. Hagen and H. D. Longville, Portland.

A business that is nation and world-wide in its scope must practice cooperation through interassociation," said J. N. Teal. "The lumber business is first in the United States in some respects, and second in others. We feel that the light is breaking and that conditions are going to be better."

The trustees opened the day's session with a private meeting yesterday morning, followed by a meeting of the advertising committee, at the luncheon hour. This committee has expended $25,000 in the past nine or ten months in advertisement of Northwest woods and another levy soon will be made of the additional $25,000 pledged to forward this work.

At the afternoon business session Thorpe Babcock, of Tacoma, reported at length the benefits of the association's exhibit at the Forest Products Exposition in Chicago and New York in May.

A. B. Waspell pleaded for $10,000 to help finance the proposed Lumbermen's Building and How-Hoo House at the San Francisco Exposition, for exhibits from the various lumbering districts. It was referred to the advertising committee, with power to act.

Howard P. Weiss, of the University of Wisconsin, reported that institution's work in furthering the lumbering interests.

"In the United States and Canada I have not seen so optimistic a feeling as prevailed here today," said Mr. Weiss.

Committees appointed to canvass market and cargo conditions will report at a special meeting, probably in Tacoma July 15.

On invitation of W. H. Boner, of the Weyerhaeuser Lumbering Company, at Everett, the next monthly meeting will be held there.

The following attended the meeting yesterday:

W. B. Mackay, president of Portland; W. C. Miles, manager, Seattle; F. G. Donaldson, traffic manager, Portland; Thorpe Babcock, secretary, Everett; Neil Cooney, Cosmopolitan; Everett Griggs, J. D. Dickson, C. E. Hill and E. W. Demarest, of Tacoma; W. C. Hford, J. P. McDouglck, R. G. Kaiser, of Spokane; Edward R. Hogg, E. G. Ames, S. Johnson, C. C. Bronson, W. Hayland, F. W. Alexander, J. Austin, D. E. Skinner, G. A. Brewer, and L. C. Larsen, of Seattle; Howard Jayne, W. S. Crum, F. A. Hart, R. M. Burnside, of Raymond; R. A. Cowden, Silverton; Neil Cooney, Cosmopolitan; J. J.
