England's Lightweight Champion Wins Title on Points From American.

RITCHIE SHEDS REAL TEARS

After Bishop of Stepey Refuses to Permit Rev. Mr. Digby to Be Master of Ceremonies, Father Boudier Jumps Into Ring.

LONDON, July 7.—Fred Welsh, lightweight champion of England, tonight outboxed Willie Ritchie, the American champion, and on the referee's decision won the lightweight championship of the world.

Fred Welsh, who came up smartly, landed a sharp left on the face. Ritchie again failed to reach the spot effectively with his right hand. The fighting was hard and fast. Ritchie regained some of his ginger.

number of blows, those of the American appeared to be the more telling.

Good Bout Throughout. It was a fine exhibition of boxing throughout. Neither man went to the floor and the struggle during the last six rounds was of a hurricane character.

Ritchie broke down when the decision was given against him and was in tears when he went to his dressing-room. He refused to talk then, but later, at his hotel, said:

"I do not intend to make a holler, but I do think the worst I should have gotten was a draw. Welsh was holding all the time and doing the fighting. Therefore, I think the decision was not fair to me."

Ritchie hurt his right hand in the bout, but otherwise was not much damaged, except for a few bruises on the face.

Oldtimers Admit Clever Go. All the oldtimers are agreed that the contest was one of the fastest and finest exhibitions of boxing witnessed in London in recent years.

Referee's Decision. Ritchie would have come out on top in a finish fight. The Welshman's footwork and dodging were far quicker than the American's and he proffered much of the time close quarters where Ritchie could not use his powerful swings.

During the last four rounds Ritchie forced the fighting hard for a knockout, while Welsh was plainly playing to win a decision on points.

The offices of Father Boudier, in clerical garb, as announcer, was a novelty. The American contingent included many theatrical people. Among others were the members of the Harvard and Union boat crews.

Nobility Near Clergy. Many of the nobility sat close to the ring side alongside several clergymen.

Father John Henry Boudier, who was chosen master of ceremonies, after the bishop of Stepey refused to permit Rev. Mr. Digby to officiate, climbed through the ropes shortly before 8 o'clock in his clerical garb and announced the names of the contestants in the first of the preliminary bouts.

The fight by rounds: Round One. Welsh won the toss and kept the corner he originally entered. Welsh got in a few blows in the clinch which immediately followed. Ritchie responded with a straight to the jaw. In-fighting followed with Welsh getting the better of the argument.

When they squared off, however, Ritchie delivered several body blows. Round Two. Ritchie swung hard with his right and missed. He was cautioned by the referee for holding in the clinches. Welsh got in some vicious jabs in the in-fighting.

Ritchie opened with a left swing, but in a clinch Welsh landed on the body in close quarters. Welsh got in a couple of jabs, Ritchie retaliating with a left to the jaw, Welsh followed with a right to the same spot. The round ended with Welsh landing lightly on the face.

Ritchie again was cautioned for holding. Round Four. Welsh fought for the body. Then in a clinch gave Ritchie two or three left hooks on the jaw, followed by a right swing on the same spot. Welsh appeared the fresher of the two, smiling when the gong sounded.

Round Five. Ritchie got one to the face, Welsh replying with a left to the jaw. Ritchie then sent a straight left to the jaw and a heavy body blow. Ritchie lost the fighting, but was repeatedly cautioned for holding.

Welsh's victory over Ritchie yesterday at London gives English victories in as many branches of sport—polo, relay racing and golf, and the brow of another angle, boxing.

America has won in court and grass-court tennis, and our hopes are centered in billiards, the Davis cup matches and the cup races.

Ritchie's loss to the Welshman yesterday came as a distinct shock to the American sporting public.

Despite the reported odds in favor of Welsh, 90 per cent of the fans in the United States expected the San Francisco lightweight to defeat the Britisher with the feather-duster punch.

As far back as November 30, 1911, the two sampled each other in billiards, and Ritchie was a comparative novice, while Welsh was at the zenith of his power.

Welsh, who came up smartly, landed a sharp left on the face. Ritchie again failed to reach the spot effectively with his right hand.

The fight continued a fine exhibition of boxing by Welsh, who played entirely on the face, while the American tried for a body knockout.

The men again went into a clinch at the sound of the gong. Upon breaking Ritchie landed a hard left-hand swing on the face and followed it with a series of sharp body blows. Ritchie rushed the fighting and appeared stronger.

Welsh covered well and was too quick for his opponent. Round Eighteen. Ritchie broke from the lip. This was a very fast round, in which strength against quickness continued to be displayed, but the Welshman got a little the better of it.

Welsh was getting all the applause, being the favorite with the crowd, but Ritchie was doing the fighting. Welsh landed a right on the face and got one in the last round, which was a smart rally, and the honors were even.

They started mixing it hard with both hands for the body. Welsh dodged a fierce left uppercut and gave the American a sharp left on the cheek. The fight ended with the swiftest kind of work. The Welshman pressed the American around the ring in the last few seconds, he was carried out of the arena amid great cheering after being declared the winner on points.

Vancover Men, Already in City Ready for Regatta.

Just when everything pointed to another sweeping victory for the Portland Rowing Club crews in the regatta here Friday and Saturday against the other crews of the North Pacific Association of Amateur Oarsmen, two cases of sickness threaten to rob the local oarsmen of glory.

Fred Newell is on the sick list. The doctor says he will not get out by Saturday, and that breaks up the senior crew of Havely and Newell. The other man on the sick list is George McFaul, one of the junior four men.

McFaul is "in a bad way" with pleurisy in the hospital at Coeur d'Alene. Two of the members of the Vancover Rowing Club are already in Portland and say that Portland and the other crews will have warmer competition than usual. They are Fred Allen and N. H. Davies, two of the crew who represented Vancouver at Coeur d'Alene.

The Vancouver crews have won the classic race, the senior four, for the past two years and have what they think is a better boat this year. The Victoria crew, representing the James Bay Athletic Club, will arrive with the other northerners Thursday morning, when a delegation of Portland oarsmen will take them around the city.

Portland's crews are getting along in good style under Coach Hart. The races will be over the White House course above Sellwood. Here the water is free from current and the winds of usual magnitude will not be able to "kick up" enough sea to make anything but good going for the shells.

The races on both days will start at 2:30 o'clock. J. N. Neal, one of the old-time oarsmen, having rowed stroke on some of the old Portland crews, will be the commodore of the regatta. H. J. Judge, president of the Portland Rowing Club, will be referee; T. Brooke White will be starter and the judges probably will be A. R. Stringer, Rodney I. Gilson and another yet to be named.

Dayton Beats Cincinnati. DAYTON, O., July 7.—A team composed of regulars and subs of the Cincinnati Nationals went hitless here today in an exhibition game with the Dayton Central League team, which the latter won by a score of 2 to 1.
