Fair Sex Need Have No Fears of Dus at Races Which Will Be on Tapis Here Saturday and Sunday Next.

The management of the Rose City speedway yesterday began the heavy task of oiling the mile track on which the big auto races will be held next Saturday and Sunday. This, in con-junction with the class of the drivers and cars already in the city, will insure contests which should far outshine any others that have ever been held here.

The oiled surface will be ready for practice by noon today. Three hundred barrels will be required before the work is finally completed and one of the results will be that women attending the races need not have any fear of being dusted as has been the case in the past. According to Mr. Hughes and the other racers the oil will make it at least two seconds faster than before. De Alene Keeps Busy.
