BLACK EYE" GIVEN TANNENSEE GRILI

Policemen Testify That Restaurant Is Resort of Immoral and Depraved.

LICENSE ACTION DUE TODAY

Despite Protests of Proprietors Testimony Intimates That Effort Is Made to Draw Low and Lewd Class of Trade.

Life in the underworld, as it is seen by policemen, social workers and the women themselves, was pictured to members of the City Commission yesterday when that body met in special session to hear evidence upon which to determine the question of whether or not the Tannensee Grill, at Fourth and not the Tannensee Grill, at Fourth and Madison streets, should be put out of business. The Council, after listening to stories of various kinds from 10 A. M. nntil after 5 P. M., deferred action until 10 o'clock this morning, when an ordinance revoking the license of the grill will be brought up for vote.

The evidence summarized was to the effect that the women of the underworld who were habitues of Denny's Grill and the Pittsburg Grill before these places were put out of business moved to the Tannensee place. It was asserted by policemen and others that moved to the Tannensee place. It was asserted by policemen and others that lewd women made this grill a clearing-house for commercialized vice—a place where women went to meet men and where men went to meet women. It was shown also that liquor has been served to drunken persons and that liquors have been served to women without meals and with mock meals.

Movements of Denizens Traced. Three women who admitted to the Council being of the underworld said they had frequented the place. Policemen told of having seen women meet men in the Plaza blocks and lure them to the grill, and from there to hotels which cluster about this particular grill building.

defense of the management, hended by H. Tannensee and his wife, was to the effect that they have tried in every way to keep the lewd women away. It is declared that oftentimes women have been put out and warned to stay away." Mrs. Tannensee declared that she has gremained in the place that she has remained in the place until late many nights trying to keep the women "with painted faces" away. "Men go there to find women and women go there to ply their trade," said Police Sergeant Harms.

Will H. Warren, secretary to Mayor Albee, said he saw two girls lured into the place by men last Friday night. "The girls," he said, "were not over 17 years of age. I followed them from an uptown grill to which they had refused to go, and they finally wound up in the Tannensee."

"Knockdown" Sandwiches Served. "The Tannensee," said Policeman Wise, "has received all the riffraff which was driven from Denny's Grill and the Pittsburg Grill, when those places were put out of business. In addition to the place permitting lewd women to congregate there, the manwomen to congregate there, the management served mock meals in the form of 'knockdown' sandwiches. These consisted of sandwiches cut up in a number of pleecs and spread about on a half dozen or so plates to resemble a meal. Put all the pieces together and you'd have an ordinary sandwich."

It was asserted that the knockdown meals were served merely to obey the letter of the liquor law, which prohibits the sale of liquor law, which pro-out a meal. Much argument centered about the question of what constitutes a meal.

"Some people might only eat a sand-wich for a meal," said Policeman Mar-tin. "As for me, I'd rather have more Bear and 'Bears' on Orpheum Bill Not Chummy—Plump Comedienne's Cheerfulness Rings True Off Stage as Well as On.

HERE are bears and a "bear" at the Orpheum this week, but they don't mix worth a cent. In fact, when the stage manager bustled up to Trixie Friganza's dressing-room and personally admonished her "Please do personally admonished her "Please do not come out now, the other bears are coming on." Trixle Friganza, transfigured as quickly as a flash of Irish wit into Delia O'Callahan, retorted:
"And, certainly, you don't have to 'please' me to keep out of the dear divil's way, I'll have nothin' to do with 'em."

divil's way, I'll have nothin' to do with 'em."

No, truth to tell, Trixie Friganza, who, you all will agree, is the greatest, if not the biggest, bear on the bill this week, isn't keen for her four-legged, ferocious friends.

"You see last week one of those bears tried to take a bite out of the leg of one of the thinner women on the bill; and heaven only knows what they'd do if they sighted me in the open, and you know heaven won't tell."

Special Agent Bulger, of the County Commission, and Circuit Court, report-ed yesterday that the charge made by the Portland Railway, Light & Power the Portland Railway, Light & Power

Company that county employes were "joyriding" on county streetcar tick-ets, was unfounded. The only specific instance of alleged misuse of tickets cited by the streetcar company was that a few weeks ago the company reported that late in the evening three men and one boarded a streetcar at Fifth and Mor-rison streets and presented county tickets. Bulger reported that one of the men referred to was Ed Kennedy, jailer at the county bastile, and the
