FEDERAL AID PROMISED

FORESTER SAYS GOVERNMENT TO GIVE $10,000 TO FIGHT FIRES.

Hope Also Expressed That Federal Contribution of $25,000 Will Be Granted for Area Disputed.

SALEM, Or., July 12.—(Special.)—State Forester Elliott has announced that the Federal Government would cooperate this year with his department by appropriating $10,000 for use in patrolling timber lands at the headwaters of navigable streams. The Forester said that the money would be used when the danger from fire appeared to be greatest. It will provide about 69 fire-fighters.

"I am pleased," said Mr. Elliott, "over appropriating $25,000 for patrolling the forfeited land of the Oregon & California Railroad Company. The bill has passed the Senate and I understand the chances of its passing the House are good. Since the lands are in litigation they cannot be taxed for any purpose, but they must be patrolled whether they contribute their share to the fire patrol fund or not. There are about 2,300,000 acres which are mingled with other forest lands in alternate sections."

Mr. Elliott said the various associations for fire patrol throughout the state were ready to do their part in fighting fires this summer. Reports from wardens from all sections, he said, indicated that the period of danger from fires had arrived, and that as complete a force as possible would be put to work at once.

Columbia School Head Named.

ST. HELENS, Or., July 12.—(Special.)—J. W. Allen, formerly principal of the schools at Warren, has been appointed County Superintendent of Schools by the County Court to fill the place of J. B. Wilkerson, resigned.

MANUAL COURSE URGED

PLAN MADE FOR SMALLER SCHOOLS TO ADD DEPARTMENT.

Clackamas County Superintendent Proposes That Six Districts Unite to Employ Instructor.

OREGON CITY, Or., July 12.—(Special.)—A plan whereby many of the smaller schools of Clackamas County can maintain a manual training department and offer a course in that work as complete as the work in Oregon City, has been devised by County Superintendent Calavan, and will be urged by him in many of the second and third-class districts.

According to Mr. Calavan's plan, each school would equip a manual training room in which there would be the tools and lumber. Six districts would unite in employing a competent instructor at a fair salary, and he would spend a day each week at each school. Mr. Calavan estimates that the burden on each district would be within $25 a month for the instructor and about $100 for the initial cost of tools and equipment. Each school would be divided into two classes, the lower class to consist of the fifth and sixth grades and the upper of the seventh and eighth. The instructor would devote half a day a week to each class.

"I have always been interested in manual training work, but have found that only the larger districts could afford to offer a course in it," said Mr. Calavan. "I worked on the plan for some time, and last Spring the idea, as I now have it, first came to me."

"A manual training course is a big thing in a school of any kind. In Oregon City its good effects are easily seen."

NOISE WELCOMES ELKS

NEWPORT PEERS FROM WINDOWS WHEN ALBANY LODGE VISITS.

Three Barrels of Firecrackers Set as Train Arrives and Delegation Is Wined and Dined.

NEWPORT, Or., July 12.—(Special.)—Pop, bang, crash. It was past midnight, and therefore, this morning.

It proved to be a committee of Newport Elks welcoming members of Albany Lodge, B. P. O. E., No. 259, who had come from Albany on a special car and stopped at Toledo en route, where they were wined and dined.

Three barrels of firecrackers, which might have made the recent Fourth of July unsafe, performed an obligate to the song of the arriving guests, who sang "Hall, hall, the gang's all here, what th' hell d'we care," as they stepped off the launch. Truant into the vehicles present to take them across the street to Abbey House, where they were quartered.

The visiting Elks retired early, as their hosts had planned a "time" for them in Jack Porter's dance hall, temporarily turned into an assembly room for the order.

A reception was held this afternoon and was well attended by wearers of the royal purple. The chief form of entertainment was refreshments, which was followed by music by the Albany Elks' band and the Rolf quartet, of Albany. Later there was a dance on Front street.

Harry Stusser, exalted ruler of the Albany lodge, and his famous "69" left this evening for their home town after a real beach outing. They took Newport by their good nature and those who surrendered had as good a time as those who conquered.

Cable Bridge Asked at Clispus.

CHEHALIS, Wash., July 12.—(Special.)—A numerously signed petition has been presented to the Lewis County Commissioners for the erection of a bridge across the Cowlitz River near the Clispus Postoffice. At that point the stream passes through a comparatively narrow gorge with solid stone walls on either side and it is believed that a wire cable bridge can be built for the distance of 30 feet at a reasonable cost.

St. Helens Protests Train Schedule.

ST. HELENS, Or., July 12.—(Special.)—St. Helens is protesting against its train service. A change in the timetables of the railroad allows no mail out of St. Helens for Portland until 11 o'clock A. M. and the first mail from Portland is not distributed until after 10 A. M.
