MEIER & FRANK'S

The Care of Golf Clubs

BY AN EXPERT.

Dampness is the greatest cause of trouble with Golf Clubs. Not only does it affect the glue which is used on wooden clubs at the joint with the shaft, but no matter how well seasoned the hickory and persimmon may be, the wood will absorb dampness, causing swelling and warping. This is true of all woods generally, but especially true of hickory. Therefore, Clubs should be wiped after using in the rain or dew. If the finish shows signs of wearing, Clubs should be rubbed with linseed oil and given a coat of shellac, which serves to keep out the dampness. The pitched twice which covers the glue joint in wooden Clubs should also be kept well oiled. Further, Clubs should not be thrown in a haphazard manner where they will be subject to heat or they will warp into the shape into which their weight draws them. When Clubs are in use, run well with linseed oil and lay them out flat.

COURT OUTDOES CUPID

SEVEN DIVORCES GRANTED, OTHERS DEFERRED AND ONE FILED.

While Eight Licenses Are Issued, Judge Hears Marital Troubles of Unhappy Spouses of County.

Deputy County Clerk Quinlan, the "cupid" of the Courtroom, held a losing hand yesterday when the Circuit Court granted seven divorces, deferred several others and accepted another divorce suit for trial. Quinlan issued only eight marriage licenses yesterday. During the past two weeks, the number of divorces granted is about 65 per cent of the number of marriage licenses issued.

Four of the seven divorces granted were given in about 30 minutes by Circuit Judge Gatens yesterday.

When the suit of Mrs. Zena A. Torgerson against John C. Torgerson came up for hearing before Judge Gatens, the court appointed Clerk Hennessy to take the evidence as referee. Judge Gatens granted the decree to Mrs. Torgerson and, on Mr. Hennessy's recommendation, allowed her $25 a month alimony.

Other divorces granted by Judge Gatens are: Bernard Jacobs, from Mrs. Martha Jacobs, desertion; Mrs. Peter Hongsenth, from John Hongsenth, on default; and Mrs. Mary McDonald, from Peter McDonald, alleged drunkenness.

Mrs. Annie Sims was granted a decree separating her from Frank Sims,

BOAT COMPLAINT IS FILED

Ordinance Proposed Requiring Rates and Rules to Be Posted.

Complaints received by City License Collector Hutchinson against passenger launches in the Willamette changing rules regarding passenger rates without notice will result in the preparation of an ordinance requiring the posting of notices of rates and other regulations on the landing places of the boats and possibly in conspicuous places on the boats.

Complaint has been made against the Kitty Moran because without notice passengers are required to pay full fare for babies. The ordinance which Collector Hutchinson proposes will require those in charge of such craft to post notices of changes of rates or give notice that full fare is to be charged

DRUG SUSPECTS TO FIGHT

Men Accused of Heading Illicit Ring Will Have Hearing Today.

The cases of Ben Miles, William L. Hutchison and Harry L. Williams, alleged heads of an illicit drug ring in Portland, will be tried in Municipal Court at 2 o'clock today. A jury trial has been demanded and the men have admitted their intention of fighting the case.

A postponement was asked yesterday morning when the cases were called before Judge Stevenson. The men said they wanted time to bring to this city a porter formerly employed in the Customs-House Cafe, who, they said, would testify that the drugs taken in the raid belonged to him.

Eric Allen to Speak.

Eric W. Allen, professor of the school of Journalism, University of Oregon, will be the principal speaker at the luncheon of the Portland Ad. Club, at the Portland Hotel, tomorrow at noon. H. B. Miller, director of the school of commerce of the University, also will give a talk. Delegates who attended the convention in Toronto will give an outline of the work done there. M. A. Reed will be chairman of the day. An advertising exhibit will be held in the main dining-room of the hotel at that time.

ONCE-A-WEEK REVIEW OF NEW BOOKS

"Idle Wives," by James Oppenheim—A compelling story of the modern woman and her involved problems. The old-fashioned mother faced no such situations—the woman of today meets them at every turn. A story of intense interest. Price $1.30 Net—Postage 10 Cents.

"The Price of Love," by Arnold Bennett—A charming story told in the author's best style. A new departure in "who-stole-the-money" narrative—with a pleasing and "real" love story weaving the tale. The author's power of lucid analysis is marked in this as in his other stories. Price $1.35 Net.

"The Desert and Mrs. Ajax," by Edward Moffat—A story of the Nevada desert and Great West—full of atmosphere and genuine humor. Unusual, but true-to-life types found in the out-of-the-way places. A story said to be worthy the genius of Bret Harte. Price $1.25 Net.

"Tarsus of the Apes," by Edgar Rice Burroughs—Surely a most unusual story—full of thrills and strange situations—a child reared by apes, and eventually coming into his own. The adventures of "Tarsus" are to be continued. Price $1.30 Net.
