

LORDS VOTE TO DELAY HOME RULE

King Is Empowered to Suspend Enforcement but No Enthusiasm Shown.

BILL GOES TO COMMONS

Government, Opposing Motion of Lord Dunsraven, Declares Proposal Is Purely Academic and Possesses No Merit.

LONDON, July 14.—Sir Edward Carson was hurriedly summoned from Belfast to London tonight to attend a conference looking to a settlement of the home rule dispute.

A steamer was specially stopped for the Ulster leader, who abandoned several important engagements to rush back to the capital.

LONDON, July 14.—The House of Lords passed today third reading of the bill to amend the Irish home rule bill, and sent it across to the House of Commons for consideration.

Before the passage of the third reading of the bill, the Earl of Dunsraven moved the insertion of a new clause providing that the King might, by an order in council, suspend the operations of the home rule act until a commission reported on the constitutional relations of Ireland to the other parts of the United Kingdom.

Dunsraven Amendment Adopted.—He argued that means of hope a commission there would be such a creating a situation which might lead some day to a satisfactory final settlement of the whole problem and that peace might be achieved without dismemberment.

Lord Dunsraven's motion was adopted without division, although it aroused no enthusiasm. The Marquis of Lansdowne said it was vague and open to the objection of putting the whole empire into the melting pot on the chance of getting the government out of a purely domestic difficulty.

Delay Declared Impossible. Affairs in Ulster, he declared, brooked no delay and under no circumstances would his side of the House accept the clause as a substitute for their own amendments. If these were accepted and incorporated in the act there might be considerable advantage in the proposed inquiry.

Lord Morely of Blackburn, in behalf of the government, described it as purely an academic proposition brought forward at the moment of the crisis, for which there was no precedent.

With regard to the other amendments adopted by the House of Lords, he said, their effect would be to embitter relations and increase the difficulties of a settlement. They amounted virtually to an elaborate method of rejecting the bill. This results in an apparent loss to the fish petition of 232 more signatures, making it apparently 408 below the number required to place it on the ballot.

UNTANGLING IS NECESSARY

Washington Fish Bill May Lack 408 Signatures After Adjustment.

OLYMPIA, Wash., July 14.—That the initiative petition on the fish bill and the tax commission bill, which were found transposed yesterday, must be replaced and counted with the respective petitions for which they were intended, is the informal ruling of Attorney-General Tanner today.

Nine hundred and forty-six signatures belonging to the tax commission petition were found with the fish bill petition and 714 signatures of the fish bill petition were found with the tax commission bill. This results in an apparent loss to the fish petition of 232 more signatures, making it apparently 408 below the number required to place it on the ballot.

CHEMIST'S HOME WRECKED

Mysterious Explosion and Fire Excites Tacoma Neighborhood.

TACOMA, Wash., July 14.—Fire and a heavy explosion at a laboratory origin wrecked the house of G. L. Pitchford, City Chemist, on North Pike street, about 2 o'clock this morning. Noise of the explosion aroused the neighbors and they saw the roof bursting into flames.

Pitchford, sleeping in a front room, was aroused by his bulidog, and after hurling his dog out of the window, jumped out himself. The chemist said he knew of no chemicals except one or two ounces of flashlight powders in the attic over the kitchen.

ALASKAN TRADE GROWING

Seattle's Shipments for Past Ten Months Show $1,500,000 Increase.

SEATTLE, July 14.—The report issued by the customs collector of Seattle shows that the shipments of freight to the north for the past ten months have totaled $1,400,000, an increase of $1,500,000 over that of last year for the corresponding period.

Alaskans here say that the passage of the bill for a Government railroad already has started the trend of freight northward, and that next year will show a greater increase when actual construction work starts.

ANTI-STAMP LAW VALID

Washington Supreme Court Upholds Act of 1913 Legislature.

OLYMPIA, Wash., July 14.—The State Supreme Court again has sustained the validity of the 1913 anti-trading stamp law by upholding the King County Superior Court in the case of the state against F. S. Pitney.

The Supreme Court holds that the law is valid, and refuses to set aside the sentence imposed on Pitney. The case is also being tried in the Federal courts.

RECALL FIGHT IS BITTER

SMALL CENTRALIA REGISTRATION MAKES ISSUE CLOSE.

Business Men Stand With Mayor and Two Commissioners, While Recallers Resume Defunct Official Organ.

CENTRALIA, Wash., July 14.—(Special.)—At its meeting this afternoon the Centralia City Commission named the judges and polling places for the recall election against Mayor Thompson and Commissioners Sears and Keir, which will be held next Monday. In spite of the low registration, the election promises to be one of the most bitterly contested in the city's history.

The Centralia Daily Star, whose editor, Victor Jackson, was responsible for the filing of the recall charges, and the plant of which was recently sold to satisfy creditors, resumed publication this morning. The first issue plainly shows that Editor Jackson does not intend to let the grass grow under his feet between now and election day. When the Star was closed up, creditors of the recallers evidently came to Jackson's support, as they were left without an official organ, both the other local papers being opposed to the recall.

The outcome of the election is the subject for much speculation. There is no betting, however, so even is popular sentiment is for and against the Commission. The Anti-Recall League, composed of the majority of Centralia's sound business men, recently organized and are supporting the Commission with a strenuous publicity campaign. Mayor Thompson, who was a minister, and the Commissioners were elected over two years ago, after a bitter campaign.

WOMAN'S ESCAPE CLOSE

HORSE PRANCES OVER HER WHILE ENGINE APPROACHES.

Mrs. Muckle, of Eugene, Only Slightly Injured Due to Presence of Mind in Remaining Quiet.

EUGENE, Or., July 14.—(Special.)—Although expecting death from an oncoming switch engine, Mrs. W. G. Muckle lay motionless between the rails of the Southern Pacific track while her husband sought to control a frightened horse which pranced above her, its hoofs striking on both sides of her. The switch engine was stopped, the horse did not trample her, and the woman escaped injury except for severe cuts and bruises about the face and eyes.

The accident occurred at 10 o'clock last night on Lincoln street at the west end of the Southern Pacific yards. Mr. and Mrs. Muckle and Glen Watkins were driving in a buggy from the entrance of Skinner's Buggy Park, and the buggy was stalled at a switch engine as they were about to cross the tracks. The animal started down the tracks toward the engine, and the buggy struck the rails. Mrs. Muckle was thrown out head foremost. At that moment the horse backed up until he was prancing directly over the woman on the ground. The husband in the buggy was unable to turn him in the opposite direction.

Mrs. Muckle's presence of mind in lying absolutely quiet saved her from injury, according to spectators. The buggy was wrecked.

TRAIN RUNS WILD; 1 DIES

Logging Crew Jumps but Two Are Hit by Falling Timber.

WALLOWA, Or., July 14.—(Special.)—Charles Williams was killed outright and June Mason was fatally injured in a runaway taxicab on the line of the Nibley Mimaugh Lumber Company, on the Whiskey Creek branch, this afternoon. The cause of the runaway is not known. All of the train crew jumped.

Williams and Mason, however, did not jump in time and were caught by the falling logs. Williams was killed instantly. His brother saw him mangled by the falling logs. Mason probably was hit by logs, but his injuries are confined to his head, the skull being fractured in three places and his face badly gashed. He was brought to Wallowa Hospital immediately, but doctors held out no hopes for recovery.

An inquest was held tonight over the body of Charles Williams. The dead man and his brother are both married and unmarried. Mason has a wife and six children.

HEROIC DEEDS ARE TOLD

Memorial Speakers Tell of Good Works of Christopher C. Gose.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., July 14.—(Special.)—Public memorial services for Christopher C. Gose, ex-president of the State Bar Association and Republican National Committeeman at the time of his death, were held today between two hours, and there was hardly a dry eye in the audience during the exercises.

Most of the speakers had known him since boyhood. Deeds of bravery during 1892-1894, when he was Sheriff, were recounted. His fair dealing was praised.

Among the speakers were ex-Judge T. H. Brents, Judge E. C. Mills, Judge T. M. McKinney, State Senator John I. Sharpe, Mayor A. J. Gillis, H. S. Blandford and others. The funeral will be held tomorrow.

John Gardner Beals.

BOSTON, July 14.—John Gardner Beals, founder of the New York Newspaper Union, and at one time partner of the Boston Post, died from heart failure at his home here today. He was 78 years old.

ARMY ENGINEERS COMING

Men Who Pass on River and Harbor Projects to Visit Pacific Coast.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, July 14.—The river and harbor board of engineers, which passes on all new river and harbor projects before they are reported to Congress, is planning to make a tour of inspection along the Pacific Coast next month.

The board will start on Puget Sound, inspect smaller projects at the mouth of the river, then proceed to Washington and later make a careful survey of the work on the Columbia River, especially the improvements at the mouth. If time permits, the board will inspect the Upper Columbia and Snake rivers. After leaving Portland the members will visit several harbors on the Oregon coast en route to California.

CRITICISM HELD UNJUST

Projects Are Investigated by Men Jealous of Reputations, Says General Kingman—Appropriation for "Creek" Defended.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, July 14.—"The river and harbor appropriation bill is the product of a mind and a heart as cold as steel," said Representative Dan C. Kingman, chief of engineers, as he discussed the criticisms now being made against certain features of the river and harbor bill.

"The river and harbor bill is the combined judgment of the corps of engineers, plus the intelligent understanding of the needs of particular localities on the part of committees of the two houses of Congress.

"The Representative is the mouth-piece of his constituency, and it is his duty to speak for the people if they do not want, they will quickly tell him so.

"So far as the charges go that the present river and harbor bill contains an unlimited amount of 'pork,' I am happy to say that so far as the engineer corps is concerned, there has been no recommendation made that has not been the subject of close and painstaking study.

"It is not fair to assume, in view of the careful investigation every individual project by the corps of engineers engaged in river and harbor work receives, that anything that looks like 'pork' will be discovered by this body of trained engineers and will be reported on adversely? It is ridiculous to believe otherwise, for the entire corps is jealous to a degree of its good name and its reputation for clean methods as the servants of the people.

Percentage of "Pork" Declared Low. "The criticism that is being made against certain appropriations for creeks, as carried in the river and harbor bill, is also unwarranted. What would an appropriation of $5000 accomplish for the mouth of the Mississippi or the Ambrose Channel? You might just as well shovel that many dollars into the sea as to expect it to make an impression upon either of these two great projects, but $5000 might just as well be the difference between increased freight movement or the absolute abandonment of the stream as a means of transportation.

"My judgment is that there is less than one-half of 1 per cent 'pork' in the river and harbor bill now pending in the Senate."

NEW ORLEANS, July 14.—Mrs. Charles C. Craven, 20 years old, who, the police say, admits she has hidden $54,000 in cash and jewelry alleged to have been obtained by her late husband in several robberies, was arrested today and is held as a suspicious character. Her husband and a companion were killed at Wildwood, Fla., five months ago in a fight with detectives who attempted to arrest them on charges of train robbery and safe blowing.

The police say Mrs. Craven admits burying the money and jewelry near Savannah, Ga., but she will not reveal the hiding place.
