Contributions to the fund for the fresh air children may be sent to V. R. Manning, secretary of the Associated Charities, 411 Commercial block; R. S. Howard, treasurer of the Associated Charities, Ladd & Tilton Bank, or to the Oregonian. Contributions of clothing should be sent to the Associated Charities, 411 Commercial block.

Past the $1000 mark went the Fresh Air fund yesterday, two days before the Associated Charities had expected it to reach that sum and only a little more than a week since the beginning of the Fresh Air campaign. It is believed that the increasing interest that the generous people of Portland are showing will raise the fund to the required $3000 long before the close of the season, insuring vacations in the country for more than 600 children and tired working mothers.

It is the mothers in particular for whom efforts are now being made. Places in the country are easily found for children and applications by children are filled as fast as they are received. Mothers with two or three little children to care for, who are obliged to work out to support them, cannot be placed so readily, however. Three mothers went with the Silverton party Tuesday and places on farms near Portland have been found for many more.

Apparel Made for Mothers. Secretary Manning will make an effort to meet the demand for places for mothers to enjoy a summer vacation, by arranging to rent a cottage at the seashore for them. In this way about 40 mothers and their children can be cared for. In a farm where the mother is made to people living in the country who will be willing to receive and entertain some mother and her babies for a few days.

The Associated Charities will pay the transportation and will take care of the rent on the women's homes while they are away and will outfit them and their children for the trip. Among those for whom no place has been secured is a little woman with three boys, the eldest 12 years old. Although it would have been possible for the boys to have been sent with some of the children's Fresh Air parties, the little family refused to be separated and an effort will be made to find a place where they may be all together in the country.

Mrs. John Wolford, chairman of the Silverton committee, who visited the Associated Charities yesterday, related a touching incident of the affection displayed between one of the poor mothers and her little child. In assigning them to their hosts in Silverton the mother and baby were sent to one house and the two other children were placed on a farm four miles distant. Early yesterday morning, carrying her baby, the mother trudged over to see how her little ones were getting along. In 1910 he went to Oxford, three years were spent in England and in traveling on the Continent. In 1913 Mr. Lyons was graduated from the University of Oregon. In 1914 he went to Oxford, three years were spent in England and in traveling on the Continent. In 1913 Mr. Lyons was graduated from the University of Oregon. In 1914 he went to Oxford, three years were spent in England and in traveling on the Continent.

Sick Woman Needs Outing. The Charities also is trying to find a place for a poor woman who has been in the hospital during the past winter and is still in delicate health. Her husband is dead and she has seven children to care for. If possible it is desired to find a farm where she may remain throughout the summer.

Half a dozen other cases of mothers who are worn out with continual work and to whom 10 days' rest in the country would mean almost a new lease of life, are on the list of those for whom the Charities is now trying to find places.

One of our Fresh Air boys celebrated his arrival in Silverton by over-eating so that he went to bed last night with an attack of acute indigestion," said Mrs. Wolford, "but this morning he was out again, apparently none the worse and he had an enormous appetite."

Contributions of clothing and supplies are being received. Mrs. Ben Selling yesterday donated seven dozen new caps and five dozen new hats. Mrs. L. E. Burdick, of Banks, Or., sent in a fine donation of clothing and other gifts were received.

A dozen children will be taken for an excursion on the river today in the launch donated by Edward Wortman.

MARKET NETS NEAT SUM Yamhill Booths Meet Expenses and Provide for Rainy Season. Portland's public market on Yamhill street is expected to pay not only for all running expenses during the summer months, but to have a large surplus to take care of its expenses during the rainy season, when less business is expected. Figures compiled yesterday by market officials indicate that the revenue from the booths will average about $10 a day for each week during the summer. The running expenses are less than $8 a day, leaving a surplus of more than $2 to apply to later expenses. On Saturday the revenue was $17, on Monday $6.20 and on Tuesday $9.40. The week probably will run above $9 a day, giving a total revenue of $240 a month and expenses of $200.

FOUR DIVORCES GRANTED

One of Five New Complaints Says Husband Threatened Dynamite.

Four divorces were granted and five others were filed yesterday in the Circuit court. Circuit Judge Davis divorced Mrs. Ada Tabbets from James A. Tabbets on desertion grounds. She was given her maiden name, Ada Austerrieth, and $20 monthly alimony. Mrs. Annie Sims was divorced from Frank Sims by default and Colyer T. Potter was given a decree from Hazel Potter on desertion grounds by Judge McGinn. Louise Bennett was separated from Jesse Bennett by Judge Davis. Mrs. Loua Willetts, in her suit against Jess Willetts, charges him with non-support and paying her watch. Mrs. Pearl Weaver's complaint against H. A. Weaver charges him with threatening to blow her up with dynamite. She asks $40 a month alimony. Christ

Sheldon, recently called to the University of Oregon as dean of the department of education. In 1909 Mr. Lyons was graduated from the University of Oregon. In 1910 he went to Oxford, three years were spent in England and in traveling on the Continent. In 1913 Mr. Lyons was graduated from the University of Oregon. Alleged Cat Tormentor Held. Charged with setting a bulldog on a cat, Roy Hill, a laborer, 24 years old, was arrested at Williams avenue and Russell street last night by humane Officer Pitts. A. E. Neate, 1315 Union avenue, complained that the dog had killed several cats and puppies. Hill was released on $10 bail.

City Commissioner Brewster is to have one more chance against Russell T. Chamberlain, veteran City Hall janitor, from the city service. The Council yesterday upheld Mr. Brewster in his plan to appeal the case to the State Supreme Court. Commissioner Bigelow alone opposed the plan. Commissioner Brewster first started after the aged janitor and Grand Army veteran early last Fall, when he dismissed him from the service because of old age and alleged inability to properly perform his work. The Municipal Civil Service Board overruled Brewster and he took the case into the Circuit Court, where Judge Morrow upheld the Board. Announcing that he still believed in good faith, Mr. Brewster asked for the appeal to the court of last resort.

Mayor Promises Job. It is contended by Mayor Albee and others that the appeal is being authorized to test out the question of civil service jurisdiction and not to get rid of Mr. Chamberlain, although it is admitted that the veteran janitor's job is at stake in the case. Mayor Albee announced publicly yesterday that he will guarantee a position for Mr. Chamberlain if he loses out in the case. Mr. Albee said it was on this consideration that he supported the plan for appeal.

City employees feel that the question at stake in the Chamberlain case is one affecting the heart and soul of civil service. They believe that the Council's contention is that the extent of the Board's jurisdiction is to pass upon the question of whether the dismissal of an employe was made "in good faith for the good of the service." It is contended that the Board has no right to consider anything but the element of good faith or whether the dismissal was for "political or religious reasons."

Board Insists on Stand. The Civil Service Board, on the other hand, contends that it has the right to consider the merit of other specific charges against employes. If a man is charged with insubordination or embezzlement, the Board members say they have a right to hear evidence and pass upon the merit of those charges. This has always been the practice in the past and it has never been disputed, excepting in the Chamberlain case. He was charged with inability to perform his work. The Board investigated this question.

With their rights confined to proving that the Commissioner making a dismissal did not act in good faith or acted for political or religious reasons, employes say there might as well be no civil service.

City Attorney LaRoche considers the decision of Judge Morrow erroneous.

Attorney Fights Appeal. "Things were read into the civil service provisions which do not exist," said Mr. LaRoche. "There is a matter of principle involved. It would pay the city to pension Mr. Chamberlain for life and then go ahead with this case on the basis of the principle involved. The decision of Judge Morrow is a perversion of the best ideas in civil service."

Roger Sinnott, attorney for Mr. Chamberlain, protested against the appeal. "Mr. Brewster has been beaten and should quit," he said. "Why should the city spend $300 or $400 and require Mr. Chamberlain to spend more money in fighting an insignificant case like this in the Supreme Court? I object as attorney for Mr. Chamberlain and as a taxpayer."
