"Fresh air" children who were entertained at Ilwaco and who were to have come home yesterday afternoon simply could not bear to leave so soon, so they enjoyed an added day at the seashere. They will return to Portland on the steamer Hassalo, arriving here at 5

Miss E. K. Trevitt went down the river Thursday night to assemble the party, but late yesterday she telephoned Secretary V. R. Manning, of the Associated Charities, that they were not to leave their flwaco hosts until Saturday.

Beach excursions especially are desired by the children who apply for places in the "fresh air" parties, and the Associated Charities is beliag overwhelmed with pleas from the little ones to be listed in the Tillamook party August 25, as hosts of the United Artisans. More than 100 children already have applied for this trip, already have applied for the commission of the committee, has found a position, which, it was charged during the trial, had no standing and no assets worth mentioning. By reason of his investment, Klinge was entitled to a lucrative position with the concern and his contract promised that, if at any time within a certain period he became place in the country for the ext organized party of fresh air children must be secured at once, and R. E. Arne, assistant secretary of the Associated Charities, will go to McMinnetted Charities and charities and charities and c Miss E. K. Trevitt went down the ciated Charities, will go to McMinnville today to endeavor to arrange for the entertainment of a "fresh air" crowd next week. He will talk on the "fresh air" movement in various churches of McMinnville tomorrow.

East Thirty-Third Streets.

Interest in the movement appears to have penetrated beyond the Willamette Valley, Secretary Manning having received a letter from Mrs. A. M. Phelps, of Heppner, asking how the Sunday school children of the primary department can help, and announcing that efforts will be made to arrange places for several mothers and children.

East Thirty-Third Streets.

The Oregon Holiness Association is helding its third annual campmeeting in the grove at East Thirty-third and Shaver streets. About 100 family tents have been set up, with the large pavillon for public services in the center. Bull Run water has been piped through the camp. A restaurant has been Merlein, chairman of the finance committee, and L. E. Warford, of the contest commmittee, accompanied the party. The juniors are having the time of their young lives enjoying the many entertainments given them by Portland people.

It had until April I, 1818, to run.

"I have been in business in Portland since 1895, and regret very much to retire," said Mr. Mack. "I have come in contact in that time with many persons, and have formed acquaintances with many customers which I regret to sever."

BRIDGE WILL BE CLOSED Union Avenue Trestle to Be Re-

The bridge probably will be closed for more than a month.

Repairs are to be paid for by the city and the Portland Railway. Light & Power Company, on a pro rata basis. The bridge is in bad condition, making it dangerous both for traffic on the bridge and train service underneath.

yesterday as the reason for much in-difference on the part of Attorney Robert M. Ainstrop as to when the case of Violet Ward would be brought to trial.

Judge Davis was ready and so was the client, but it took a bench warrant and a Deputy Sheriff to get the reluctant counsellor into court.

Mrs. Ward, who sued W. O. Ward for a separation on the ground of cruel and inhuman treatment, told her story to the judge and the latter advised the settlement of the fee and the prompt hearing of the case. Attorney Ainstrop did not show any eagerness to undertake the suit and at noon the judge gave instructions that he be

Deputy Sheriff Weeks brought Ainstrop in and Judge Davis read him a severe lecture and ordered him to proceed immediately with the case. The divorce was granted within a few min-

CHURCH UNION FAVORED

UNITED BRETHREN TO VOTE ON MERGER WITH PROTESTANTS,

Only Change in Portland Will Be in Names of Three Churches, as Other Body Is Not Represented.

Rev. John Niswonder, pastor of the First United Brethren Church, East Fifteenth and East Morrison streets, said yesterday that the action taken at Columbus, O., Wednesday for the merger of the Methodist Protestant Church of America and the United Brethren Church, announced in a dispatch in The Oregonian of yesterday, did not settle the union. A vote of the members of the United Brethren Church must be taken to confirm the members of the United Brethren Church must be taken to confirm the Church must be taken to confirm the proposed union.

"By the action taken at Columbus, O., everything is cleared for the merger of the United Brethren and Methodist Protestant Churches," said Mr. Niswonder, "but it needs confirmation of the members of our churches. A day will be set apart within the next six months when all our members will vote in conformity with the church law. The membership favors the merger The Oreson conference voted fager. The Oregon conference voted favorably to it a year ago. The only effect the merger will have in Portland will be to change the names of the First, Second and Third United Brethren Churches to the First, Second ren Churches to the First, Second and Third United Profestant Churches. In Seattle the Methodist Protestants and United Brethren have separate churches, which probably will be united. Within a few weeks we will get the announcement of the time when the merger vote will be taken and literature explaining the merger will be distributed to United Brethren places for several mothers and children.

A place also was found yesterday for little Margaret, the child who could not be sent with either the liwaco or the Silverton party because of illness.

Mrs. Emma Harrison, of Tillamook, has written that she will take the child for an indefinite period and also will entertain four of the working mothers for whom it has been so difficult this year to find places in the "fresh air" parties.

Among other contributions received yesterday was a gift of clothing sent from Miss Marlan Backer, of the Oregon Agricultural College.
