SAN FRANCISCO, July 26.—(Special.)—With Harry Krause holding the Seals to five hits and the invading Northerners banging "Spider" Baum's delivery for 15 safe bingles, the Beavers easily annexed this morning's game. They lost in the afternoon.

The second inning saw one run

The second inning saw one run chalked up for each side. The Beavers collected on Ryan's infield hit, Davis' out, Baum to Charles; Lober's out, Corner of Charles and Fisher's fast out, Baum to Charles; Lober's out, Cor-han to Charles, and Fisher's fast grounder past first base that went as a hit. The Seals came right back. Mundorf doubled to center, took third on Charles' sacrifice and scored easily on Corhan's out to Lober. "Spider" blew up with a bang and before three outs had been negotiated Lober had come to bat for the second time that inning and five runs had crossed the plate,

Batting Averages Fattened.

The Beavers certainly fattened their batting averages off Baum. Davis led with a perfect score, being credited with two hits and two sacrifices out of with two hits and two sacrifices due of four trips to the plate. Lober, Speas, Fisher and Krause got out with a standing of 500 for the game. Not a member of the team failed to get at too. Hit Roestner, Gurhan was the shining light. He got two hits and one sacrifice out of three two hits and one sacrifice out of three danger. times at bat, stole two bases, got four putouts and handled three assists. "Buddy" Ryan did great work in the fifth, when with two down, Corhan on third and Fitzgerald on first, he pulled a beautiful back-hand running catch of Charles' long fly.

The sixth saw the last of the scoring. Schaller poked out a safety to the center garden and took second when Ryan apparently twisted his ankle while going after the ball. After a sort delay, however, "Buddy" came back and finished the game. Jerry back and finished the game. Downs scored "Biff" with a three-bag-ger to left. Mundorff and Colligan were easy outs and it looked as though Jerry was due to die on third, but Roy Corhan got a Texas leaguer to center and the red-head tallied.

Pape Victim in Afternoon was turn about in the afternoon e when Larry Pape proved the The Portland men could little or nothing with the chubby southpaw. Hub Pernoll granted only five hits for the performance. Pape was more or less of any easy mark and with the San Franciscans going particularly strong in the fourth inning, the final result was 6 to 1.

Pernoll was sent away to a nice start with some nifty fielding. He hit Dave Bancroft and Doane fouled out to O'Leary back of third. Speas hit to wing the ball across the field was dead wrong.

A brace of errors put the Seals to the front in the first inning. With two down, "Biff" Schaller, who broke the ice for the afternoon with three laid down one of his bunts toward third and beat it out.

Schaller Just Walks In.

He stole second, and since the throw y Yantz was wild, continued on to pird. Then Donne muffed an easy fly Jerry Downs and Schaller just In the third Fitzgerald drove the ball straight through the box to center. Patsy O'Leary hit to left and Schaller's vicious drive at first sent both men home. Mundorff's liner scored Downs The Portlanders' only showing was when the Ryan-Pape combination dou-bled up on two-base swats. Two were gone when Buddy came through with a double to left. Pape hit for two cushions to center and Ryan was checked in at the home plate. In the seventh the last of the scoring came when O'Leary stole third after a sin-Schaller and then worked the steal, just barely sliding around the Portland catcher. The third year of the Western Tri-State League season came to a close yesterday after the most successful season the Class D organization has had.

Pendleton won the pennant. With the towns practically all draw ing from the same class of patronage, agricultural districts surrounding each place, it has been hard rowing for the last three weeks, the clubs all losing money. The teams played though the 16 weeks of ball, however, each play-ing 96 games. Up to July 4 things went easier.

The race was a good one all season.

North Yakima, apparently a strong club at the start, gradually fell down the ladder, but Pendleton, Walla Walla and Baker fought it out, Baker finally giving away, and this week the race proved too much for the Bears, the Walla Walla team dropping five games behind.

The first year of the league Walla Walla won the flag and the second year Boise took it after a last-week fight with Walla Walla.

Proposed Dead Water Route Handicap and Large Purses Step to Keeping All but Factories Out. Civic Feature Is Cited.

By RALPH J. STAEHLI.

The annual attempt to take the Pacific Coast motorboat championships from Astoria to the Puget Sound is on.

The opening gun in the campaign is an interview from William J. Schertzer, a Seattle boatbuilder, who declares that the Astoria course is absolutely "not fit for motorboat racing," and that the Lake Washington course is "the best in the world."

the viewpoint of the spectator are un

Purses Also Criticised. "The purses at Astoria this year

"The purses at Astoria this year were unsatisfactory and if we could raise $3000 to hang up as prizes we would get the fastest boats on the Pacific Coast and could get the official championship of the Pacific."

reason that Portland could not.

In both Seattle and Portland only comparatively small parts of the population could be interested in the regard to the swim. It was first decided to make it a relay, between lation takes a wholesome interest in some particular phase of the water meet.

Any city can hope to make a success of only one big entertainment feature in a season. If the regatta were to be held in addition to the Potlach it would be a minor detail deserving of the water men from the Portland clubs water men from the float at the Oaks Natatorium.

Instructor Jack Cody, of the Muitnomach was first deready between the make a 20 entrants, including nearly every Western amateur who has won an important title in the last five years.

Warren K. Wood, of Chicago, the present title holder, will not compete, but "Chick" Evans, who broke the Kent course record Saturday in the Olympic cup tourney; Jack Neville, Bob Gardner, Albert Seckel, Paul Hunter, will start from the float at the Oaks Natatorium.

when inefficient management almost brought the regatta to an end for good and all, but a recurrence of the mix of that year is improbable.

While an occasional entry from Cailfornia gets to Astoria, it is improbable that any would ever go as far north as Seattle.

He will continue to box with Seiger until Wednesday of this week, when Dick Kendali and Willie Hoppe will be added to his list of sparring partners.
There will be road work for four or five days, after which the Windy City lad will confine himself entirely to while the Astoria Bay was rough this year, it is the exception and not the rule, as stated by Mr. Schertzer.

A slight sea, such as ordinarily runs at Astoria, helps the speedboats assume their planing condition at the start and to regain the necessary air cushion when a curve or something.

The American Power Boat Association has gone on record as favoring the giving of medals and trophies in place of cash to stimulate interest for the love of the game and not to make motorboating a factory sport.

The giving of small prizes, enough to encourage general competition, is a good thing. If the purses are made too large the money again goes to the man who is willing to take a gambler's chance on investing so much capital to pull down that particular prize.

Aside from those points is the civic feature of the regatta. Seattle could not make half the success of the regatta that Astoria can, for the same reason that Portland could not.

In both Seattle and Portland only comparatively small parts of the population could be interested in the regatta, while in Astoria the entire population takes a wholesome interest in some particular phase of the water sented and is receiving entries on the
